White House Denies Red Plane Flights

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger emphatically denied Wednesday published reports that Soviet reconnaissance planes have flown over the Southeastern United States. So did Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, Air Force chief of staff.

Lawrence Praises Pa. Guard Division

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's famed 28th National Guard division will be increased, despite the National Guard cut-back, Gov. Lawrence and Adjutant Gen. Malcolm Hay disclosed Wednesday.

Soviets, U.S. Cooperate On Communications Satellites

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union announced agreement here Wednesday to cooperate in using artificial earth satellites in communication, weather forecasting and mapping the world's magnetic field.

Guantanamo Wives Begin Moving Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wives and children will start returning to the Guantanamo naval base within a few days and most family units disrupted by the Cuban crisis should be back together well before Christmas.

Yetter Task Force Ends State Work

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Assemblyman Van D. Yetter, chairman of a Joint State Government Commission task force on property, said Wednesday night his group had completed its work and made a number of recommendations on real estate taxes.

porting and cited a story carried by the Scripps-Howard newspaper chain last week.

That story reported that Soviet planes had been over the southeastern corner of the nation.

Refutes Denial
The Washington Daily News, which with other Scripps-Howard papers carried last week's overflight story, followed up Wednesday with headlines proclaiming: "Red Planes Over U.S.? Not Says Salinger, Yes! We Say Again."

The News printed a story on

Hay indicated that men from the 18 guard units being disbanded probably would be assigned to units of the 28th.

Hay said he would go to Washington Monday for a meeting of the National Guard Association and then with Defense Department officials.

The meeting, said Hay, would be "an attempt to clarify the issues and see if we can resolve differences that may come up at that time."

Gov. Lawrence also said there was "no question about it" that a meeting between himself and Gov.-elect William W. Scranton would be useful.

"I don't know that there are any special needs for it," he said. "As I have stated very clearly and plainly to the cabinet in their meeting, we want to do everything we can to prevent any impairment of the normal functioning of the government during the transfer."

Gov. Lawrence also said there was "no question about it" that a meeting between himself and Gov.-elect William W. Scranton would be useful.

Stevenson and Soviet Chief Delegate Valerian A. Zorin gave a joint letter to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant informing him of the agreement.

Later, Stevenson and Soviet Chief Delegate Platon D. Morozov notified the General Assembly's Political Committee.

Stevenson said about half of the more than 2,800 military dependents and families of civilian workers who were removed hastily from the big naval base on Oct. 22 will go back.

The Navy said about half of the more than 2,800 military dependents and families of civilian workers who were removed hastily from the big naval base on Oct. 22 will go back.

They are the families of men whose tours of duty at Guantanamo extend beyond next April 1. Families of Navy and Marine Corps personnel due to be transferred out of Guantanamo between now and April will not be returned.

The first few going back probably will leave from Norfolk, Va., as early as Friday, when some seats are expected to be available on a Military Air Transport Service plane.

Regular flights will start next Tuesday for those who elect to travel by air. Dependents who choose to return by ship will sail from New York Dec. 11 and Dec. 19 in the transport Geiger, which will have accommodations for 400 passengers on each trip.

Among the 1,400 expected to return are about 720 wives and children of Navy personnel, 80 dependents of Marines, and 600 dependents of civilian workers at the base.

Korth visited Guantanamo on Thanksgiving and indicated that the men would have their families back by Christmas.

Salinger's Pittsburgh comments and added this statement from Walker Stone, editor-in-chief of Scripps-Howard newspapers:

"It really does not matter how monotonously the Defense Department denies the story. All that matters is whether it is true. The article of which Mr. Salinger complains was written by two responsible reporters of more experience and better judgment than Mr. Salinger can claim."

"Their sources of information were men high in the Kennedy administration and its military establishment."

"I am astonished that President Kennedy's appointees did not tell him the truth, or that what they told was not relayed to Mr. Salinger."

Defend Veracity
"Nevertheless, what we published is true."

"When, again, Russian planes overfly the Southeastern United States and we learn about it, we'll publish the news, in the belief the American people are entitled to know what is happening."

"It's just too bad if nobody has bothered to tell Mr. Salinger."

Salinger, told at his White House news conference of Stone's statement and the Washington Daily News headline, again denied the flights, he said. "I am saying no such flights have taken place, period."

Gen. Lemay followed up with a statement saying:

"There have been no overflights of Southeast United States territory by either Soviet or Cuban Air Force aircraft."

"The only aircraft from Cuba which have appeared over U.S. territory have been small aircraft flown by defectors who landed in the United States."

He added that each of these small plane flights has been announced previously.

The agreement provides that:

1. In 1963-64, the Soviet Union and the United States will experiment with weather satellites and work out communication links for the transfer of information gathered by them; in 1964-65, there will be "coordinated launches by the two nations of a system of operational weather satellites; a joint working group of scientists will arrange the details."

2. From mid-1964 to mid-1965, the period called the International Year of the Quiet Sun, each country will launch a satellite to gather data for a map of the magnetic field of the earth; another joint working group of scientists will arrange these details.

3. In 1962-63, the two countries "agree to cooperate in experiments on communication by means of the U.S. satellite Echo A2"; they also agree to hold meetings on "the working out of other nations of a project for experimental global system of space communications."

No Mention Of Telstar
No mention was made in the agreement of the project by which the United States last July launched the experimental communication satellite known as Telstar for the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Nor was any mention made of the U.S. law that turned over the communication satellite field to a special corporation.

The arrangement arises from a broad agreement on cooperation in outer space reached by President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev in letters last February.

Soviet academician Anatoly A. Blagoderov and Deputy Director Hugh L. Dryden of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration worked out a summary of understanding in Geneva June 8.

Unofficial tabulations by The Associated Press on election night Nov. 6 showed Miss Blatt ahead by 2,488 votes. These tabulations did not include the absentee ballots, which under law could not be counted until Nov. 15.

The current totals are on the basis of certified results from 65 of the 67 counties, and a telephone report of Lackawanna figures and unofficial returns from Montgomery.

Chest Fund Nears Goal

MAYBE THERE is a Santa Claus! Leaders in the United Appeal of the Monroe County Community Chest and Red Cross took fresh heart yesterday as the total donations reached and then went over the $100,000 mark for the first time in the history of the county.

The total as of yesterday was $101,000 bringing the total to within $10,516 of the 1963 goal of $111,516. That quota was set to provide for minimum requirements of the 13 member agencies of the Chest for their services to local residents.

Last year the campaign failed to reach its goal and member agencies were required to take a proportionate cut in their allocations, finishing out the fiscal year on short rations.

This year, spearheaded by a big surge of special gifts, the campaign was off to an encouraging start. However, for some time it has stuck at the $99,000 mark. With answers to appeal letters, the fund has started to rise, meeting its present total yesterday.

Fund officials are hopeful that returns will continue to come in and appeal to everyone, especially those who may not have been contacted, to send in their contributions in order that the campaign can be brought to a triumphant close before the new year.

This year's goal is a record-breaking one because of the addition of the Monroe County Chapter of the American Red Cross to the list of member agencies, as a major step in a really United Appeal. The Red Cross will not conduct a separate campaign this year, but will receive their proportionate share of the present campaign. Other member agencies have initiated additional service to the community.

General Of 79th Views Reshuffle

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The commander of Pennsylvania's 79th Division, which was wiped out in the Defense Department's planned reserve reorganization, says some of his men may not be able to get assignments to other units.

The 79th, known as the Cross of Lorraine Division, now has about 8,000 Reservists, mostly from Pennsylvania, but with some from Maryland and Delaware.

Under Tuesday's Army Reserve reorganization, it will be replaced by the 157th Brigade, with headquarters in Upper Darby, near Philadelphia. The 157th will have a complement of 3,312 men.

Maj. Gen. J. Calvin Frank, commander of the 79th, who retires Sunday, said he expected the order, but added he and "thousands of other officers and men in my division, are very disappointed."

He said that the 5,000 who are not assigned to the new brigade will be able to stay in the Reserve for at least another year while the reorganization is going on.

Then, he said, they will have the option of resigning or joining one of the many new service units, such as hospital, quartermaster, petroleum, which were created in the reorganization.

"It's going to necessitate a lot of adjustment for individuals," he said. He added that there will be some "who won't be able to get assignments."

Had 'Message'
"It sounds crazy, but I just got a message from a higher power," Swanson said later at a hospital. He was treated for a mauling he got after being knocked to the floor by Hoffa, kicked by a spectator and hit by marshall.

U.S. Dist. Judge William E. Miller, in whose courtroom the shooting occurred, late ordered Swanson committed to the medical center for federal prisoners at Springfield, Mo. Authorities said Swanson would be sent there immediately.

The incident, which lasted only seconds, stopped the seven-week-old trial for the day. Hoffa is accused of conspiring to accept $1 million in illegal payments from a trucking firm.

Judge Miller, whose composure never left him during the shooting, said that henceforth all persons entering his courtroom would be searched.

The incident which upset the decorum in Miller's sodate, walnut-paneled courtroom came about an hour after court had opened.

Saw Assaultant
Hoffa, dressed in a dark gray business suit, was seated at the long defense table when Swanson pushed through the gate that separates spectators from the attorneys.

"I heard the gate swing open and saw him coming toward me," Hoffa said later.

"He was pulling the gun out and started shooting it. I ducked and went after him," Hoffa said, adding that he had worked out in Nashville gym earlier Wednesday.

"It pays to be in shape."

The shots—there appeared to be about three of them in rapid order—made small popping sounds. Hoffa, examined by a physician suffered only pellet marks.

Swanson fell to the floor under Hoffa's blow and a spectator, identified as Charles O'Brien, 23, jumped on the man, holding him until shocked U.S. marshals reached the scene. Someone landed several kicks on the man's head before the marshals got handcuffs on him and spirited him out.

"My man Chucky O'Brien held that fellow down. I raised that kid," Hoffa confided later. He said O'Brien was a representative of Teamsters Local 299 at Detroit and his rival for president of that local.

ESSC Set For White Elephant Sale

A "WHITE Elephant Sale" will be held next Wednesday, December 12, from 4:00 to 7:00 p.m. in the basement of Stroud Hall. Purpose of the sale is to raise money for the exchange program for this summer which is being sponsored by the student exchange committee.

Faculty members, students and the public are being solicited by the committee for any material which is saleable and are urged to contribute at least one object for the sale which is open to ESSC students, faculty members and the general public.

Collection of articles will continue through next Wednesday morning. The price-tagged objects will be put on display in rooms 4 and 5 in Stroud Hall basement.

Proceeds of the program will supplement the $300 already allocated by the Student Senate. "Experiment in Living," the six week summer program, will cost between $150 and $1000 depending upon the country visited. Students who are applying for the program have a choice of 38 countries.

Deadline for applications is Friday, Dec. 7. Forms must be turned in to Dr. Emerson Loucks, committee adviser.

Five applicants will be chosen by a faculty-student committee. Their applications will be sent to a board of the "Experiment in Living" program in Putney, Vermont. Ultimately, one student will be chosen to represent the college abroad this summer.

Driver Is Hurt As Car Rolls Over

PARRYVILLE—Argus Brentari, 45, of 614 W. Bacon St., Pottsville, suffered spinal injuries at 11 a. m. yesterday when the milk truck he was driving skidded on a curve on Detour Route 29 and rolled over.

Brentari was admitted for treatment to Gaden-Heulen Hospital, Lehighton. Damages to the truck was estimated at $500.

State Police at Lehighton said the highway was wet when the accident occurred. About two cases of milk were thrown from the truck as it overturned.

Coal Says Oil Uses False Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—A coal industry spokesman accused residual fuel oil importers yesterday of using "trumped up or contrived" claims of pending shortages in an effort to get import quota increases.

Joseph E. Moody, president of the National Coal Policy Conference, issued a statement in which he said:

"Even though total supplies of residual available on the east coast since the new quota year began last April have been nearly 8.5 million barrels greater than in the same period a year ago, and four million barrels more than the average for that period in the past three years, these oil importers are now beginning to raise the specter of residual shortage."

Moody said it is apparent "this is the start of a propaganda campaign by the big international oil companies to force the secretary of the interior to raise the quota limits on residual, to the further grave damage to domestic fuels markets."

Moody said that supplies of residual in the East actually are higher than in 1961 while consumption has shown a decrease. He claimed that when the present import quota program was started in 1959, imports were displacing 30 million tons of coal annually and they now are displacing 44 million tons. Moody said the real object of the importers is to increase the imports in order to increase conversions to oil use and to keep oil prices down.

Ample Supply Of Christmas Stamps At S-burg Postoffice

FRED H. Rhodes, Stroudsburg postmaster, announced last night that there is ample supply of the new first Christmas postage stamp issued by the United States.

The 4-cent, red, and white stamp went on sale in Pittsburgh Nov. 1, in conjunction with the annual convention of the National Association of Postmasters of the United States and second day sales began here Nov.

The new and unusual issue will be available at local post-offices through Dec. 31.

The Christmas stamp, intended especially for use on seasonal greeting cards, depicts the traditional holiday symbols—burning tapers and an evergreen wreath, adorned with red bow. Lettering on the stamp is Old English.

Issuance of the stamp ties in with the post office department's "shop and mail early" campaign. The stamp will supply a colorful filip to greeting cards and this is in response to heavy public demand.

It will also encourage the use of first class postal rate for greeting cards, providing preferred handling and return to sender service in the event of non-delivery.

The stamp is intended for general use, and plans are to reissue a Christmas stamp future holiday seasons. It will remain on sale indefinitely at the Philatelic Sales Agency, Washington 25, D. C.

The initial printing by the Post Office Department—500,000,000 from six plates.

Workshop For Wayne Teachers Held

HONESDALE — Dr. Kenneth Benson of Newark State College, a handicraft consultant, conducted a workshop in arts and crafts recent Wayne county teachers of elementary special classes in the J. J. Koehler Building.

The morning and afternoon sessions included demonstrations by Dr. Benson and work periods during which the teachers gained experience in a number of projects for use in their classrooms.

Teachers of the county's special classes at the secondary level also met Saturday at the Koehler Building. Under the direction of John C. Tobey, Supervisor of Special Classes in the secondary teachers devoted their sessions to an evaluation of the social studies curriculum and discussion of possible improvements.

The meetings were part of the new program for in-service study which has been instituted this year for all special class teachers by the Wayne County Board of School Directors. Administered through the office of the county superintendent of schools, the in-service program aims at a continuing study and improvement of the special class curriculum.

Federal Agent Checks Program

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—A federal agent is in the Wilkes-Barre area checking possible violations of the $250,000-per month U.S. Food Stamp Program, it was disclosed Wednesday.

The program, which replaced the surplus food program in Luzerne County Oct. 1, currently has enrolled about 19,000 individuals representing 5,500 relief and non-relief families.

John Conaboy, federal supervisor of the stamp plan here, confirmed that an investigator has been assigned to the area to determine if any violations have occurred, and to apprehend the offenders.

The stamp is intended for general use, and plans are to reissue a Christmas stamp future holiday seasons. It will remain on sale indefinitely at the Philatelic Sales Agency, Washington 25, D. C.

Peifly Elected Board Head

BANGOR — Clair H. Peifly was elected president of the Bangor School Board, succeeding William Baskovill.

Dr. Nicholas Cascardio proposed Peifly for the post. Kenneth Ace offered the second. There were no dissenting votes.

Named as vice president was W. John Heard.

Peifly named Baskovill, finance chairman, and Ace and Heard, co-chairmen of transportation. Named to the joint school committee are Ace, Dr. Cascardio, Charles Williams, Mrs. Charlotte Hough and Peifly.

Bills totaling $37,112.35 were approved for payment. Report of Mrs. Hough, treasurer, listed a balance of $120,877.97.

Asphalt Co. Received Bid

HARRISBURG (AP) — The American Asphalt Paving Co. of Shavertown was awarded a $41,187 contract Wednesday to replace a bridge over Briar Creek on Legislative Route 19037 between Berwick and Bloomsburg in Columbia County.

The work in North Center Twp. also includes the bituminous surfacing of 0.15 of a mile at the bridge, which will replace a one-lane timber deck structure.

ESSC Gallery Exhibiting Work Of Local Artists

THE GALLERY of the East Stroudsburg State College Art Department is currently showing paintings, prints and drawings from collectors of the area.

The comprehensive exhibition contains work of varied styles, ranging from complete abstraction to complete realism, and touches on the varied styles ranging between.

Collectors contributing to the exhibition are: Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Strauser, Mr. Paul Hamel, Mr. George B. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. George Levin, Mrs. Agnes Dyer, Mr. Edward Driebe, Mr. and Mrs. David Cartright, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Hebard, Mr. David Harrington, Drs. Mary and Llewellyn Hunsicker, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Rubin and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Logan.

Among the works being shown are prints by Henri Matisse, Henry Moore, Zou-Wou-Ki, and Joseph Hirsch; with paintings by Andre Racz, David Burlik, Louis Elshemius, and Raymond Bessy; and drawings by Louise Nevelson, and Abe Harriton.

Also included are paintings, prints and drawings by well known local artists. Of special interest are three Mogul paintings in the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Strauser.

The tastes of these local collectors is so varied and clever that a trip up to the college gallery in Stroud Hall will be well worth the time, a ESSC official said yesterday.

The gallery is open to the public weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., December 3 through December 20.

Giant Step Forward

The decision of East Stroudsburg Borough Council on Tuesday night to go along with the Lincoln Ave. and S. Courtland St. redevelopment programs, and thereby benefit from an allocation of $875,000 in Federal funds, is one to be lauded long and loud. The outcome was somewhat dubious right up to the time of the meeting, but the final unanimous decision was greeted wholeheartedly by borough officials, businessmen and residents alike.

While the Council is commended for the action, there are other forces that deserve equal praise. The planning commission, headed by Ralph Burrows, did a masterful job of gathering facts, figures and projections before presenting the issue to Council. The East Stroudsburg Businessmen's Assn. was also instrumental in advancing the project.

Laudable, too, is the interest of the individual citizens. For the first time in the memory of most of the principals, the Council chamber was filled to overflowing with East Stroudsburg property owners and residents who made their support of the project known to their elected representatives. This, indeed, is democracy at work.

In effect, the Council put its seal of approval on one of the most important, dramatic and fruitful steps that has ever been taken in this area, and paved the way for East Stroudsburg to ultimately become one of the most prosperous communities in the East, regardless of size. The door to a new era of progress was thrown open wide.

In time, the action will give the community and the county a wider tax base and ease the load on the individual taxpayer. It will provide a sound and most attractive incentive for new industries to establish themselves here. It is just the beginning of a bright future.

Between now and the time the project is accomplished, the area will be kept informed on all facets and future steps to be taken in this great movement.

We congratulate the East Stroudsburg Borough Council and all who were involved, directly and indirectly, in taking this giant step forward.

Opinions Of Other Editors

A First Lady's Dilemma

The late Eleanor Roosevelt suffered the slings and arrows of outrageous comment during the years her husband presided over the Presidency because she was different than the usual run of our First Ladies. Eleanor Roosevelt was a doer. Eleanor Roosevelt was a battler for causes.

But who remembers the outrageous snide remarks?

Instead, Eleanor Roosevelt is and always will be remembered for her deeds, for the high sense of purpose she brought to American life.

Now, because she, too, is different—in a different sort of way—Jacqueline Kennedy is suffering the slings and arrows of public life. There are those who are trying to capitalize on her pretty face, her quiet beauty, her flair for fashion.

It is little wonder, as the White House has revealed, that the President's wife is described as sorry—even shocked—at the treatment she and her family are getting from the trash and tinsel magazines.

The clap-trap movie magazines and the confession and romance magazines have made Jacqueline Kennedy a "cover girl." They do not abide by the usual yardstick of dignity where a President or a President's wife is concerned.

It is true, as the White House points out—even as it deplores the garish magazine cover treatment—that Mrs. Kennedy is in the public domain, and there is nothing she can do about it.

But time will pass.

The pretty face, the young and vibrant beauty—alas, this will soften, too, as time goes on.

But she already has taken her place as a special First Lady—one who has won for the arts and the men and women of the arts—the writers, the musicians, the artists, the poets—a new public recognition and a new public stature. And this is something to make Jacqueline Kennedy and all Americans, for that matter, happy.

The tinsel and trash magazines notwithstanding, it's sort of nice to have a "cover girl" with brains in the White House. They're few and far between—in the White House and everywhere else.

—Harrisburg Patriot

Half A Century Of Service

No public official in any part of the country is comparable to Robert Moses in his devoted and unending and mostly uncompensated public service for nearly half a century.

Of the Al Smith tradition, Moses regarded public service as a career and he gathered about him able executives who built for New York City a superb park system, for New York State a beautiful and useful parkway system and for the St. Lawrence River, a power utility.

He also manages the Triborough Bridge Authority and the New York World's Fair. He once held 11 jobs but a salary only for one.

At 73, Robert Moses can do more of a day's work than most and Governor Nelson Rockefeller's plea, on dismissing Moses from one position, that Moses was "overloaded" is nonsense.

The fact is that Rockefeller wants Moses' job on the Park Council, for his brother, Laurence, who is also overloaded with numerous real estate and other business operations. The Rockefeller must be jealous of the Kennedy's, but that is no excuse for asking a competent, efficient, honored public servant to resign in favor of nepotism.

There is no criticism of Laurence Rockefeller. He has been Vice President of the New York State Park Council, appointed by Governor Lehman long before Nelson Rockefeller became Governor. There must be criticism of the Governor's bad manners, his ineptitude in proposing that Moses resign to give his brother a chance to shine in the public eye.

It was absurd of the Governor to propose that when Moses resigned his numerous state jobs, he say nothing to the press on the subject. Moses' reply, I cannot ask anyone to print.

It was explosive, direct and to the point. It was an older and more experienced man talking to a youngster in the toolshed. I saw Bob Moses several hours later and his eyes were still blazing. He was not acting as a cover for anyone.

The significance of all this is that it adds to the political turmoil in New York State and leaves Governor Rockefeller's chances of running for the Presidency on the Republican ticket more uncertain.

No man can be trusted with major affairs who asks such a man as Robert Moses to resign so that his brother might bask in the bloom of another's achievements. It indicates a political instability that is dangerous in times like these.

There also can be no doubt that Senator Jacob Javits' large vote in the 1962 election, compared to Rockefeller's small vote, both running against inconsequential opponents, cut Nelson Rockefeller to the quick. That vote was a political setback.

True, Rockefeller had a frightfully insignificant speech-writing organization, whereas Javits rolled his own, as it were, but there were many other factors in the situation which turned the New York State voter against him, whether Republican or Democrat.

Since the election, Rockefeller has been remote from the public. Announcing himself as a candidate for the Presidency in 1964, prematurely, and advising Republicans to go slow, he stirred the embers of the conservative fire in both New York State and California.

The Conservatives are not likely to accept Rockefeller, even if he were willing to take Barry Goldwater for Vice President. On the other hand, some non-political persons, carried away by the size of the Javits vote for Senator, are already mentioning him for Vice President which will stir up very ugly opposition in many parts of the country and a rampage of antagonism from Governor Nelson Rockefeller.

In a word, the pot is boiling in these parts and turning out a very snelly stew. From it, nothing good can come to Rockefeller.

It is curious, in American politics, how minor incidents take on national significance. Governor Nelson Rockefeller has groomed himself for the Presidency, preparing for it since the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He has met with some measure of success in New York State, but generally, the American people do not know him and have not been particularly impressed by his personality which is strictly cosmopolitan New York.

He has, on the whole, been a competent Governor of New York State, but not a beloved one, as, for instance, Al Smith was. His personality is pleasant but cold; he lacks the vibrant humanity of John F. Kennedy.

The Pennsylvania Story

The Trend To The Winning Side

By Mason Denison
Harrisburg — Today is the day the trend is expected to start reversing in Pennsylvania—a rather peculiar phenomenon no longer of any great particular significance, but interesting.

Today party registration books in counties throughout the Keystone State officially open for the first time since last spring (March 26, to be exact) for those who wish to change party registrations.

Will there be much changing of party affiliations? It's difficult to answer with any great degree of certainty, but the facts point out that on the basis of experience in recent years, in all probability there will be quite a change in the offing.

Reason for this of course is the fact that the new upcoming Republican Scranton Administration in Pennsylvania represents a change from the Democratic administrations of the past eight years.

Exactly what any such change as this has to do with party registration figures always is a mystery—but nevertheless, there it is.

For example in 1954 when Democrats won the gubernatorial horsehoe pitching contest for the first time in 16 years, Republicans at that time had a lead of around 500,000. Yet notwithstanding this "hot lead" Democrats emerged the (appalled) victors.

In the short space of those eight years what has happened in the interim?

The registration lead has changed dramatically—to the point where at the moment (and going into the November 5 general election that saw Republican gubernatorial candidate gain the nod) Democrats rather than Republicans hold the edge, to the tune of around 195,000!

Yet again, although the lead was with the opposition party—as in 1954—the minority or "outs" pulled the victory cord.

Registration leads invariably follow the party in power—why, no one seems to know. Does it represent a switch of those who consciously or unconsciously simply "want to be on the winning side?"

It can't be those on the state payroll—at best this figure doesn't exceed 80,000 potentials. Nevertheless the trend will be there. Today with registration books opening for the first time since the November election, the change in party registrations will continue to grow—with the leverage in favor of Keystone State Republicans simply because they have become the in-power party.

Actually it wasn't until the advent of the Democratic Leadership Administration in 1954 that Pennsylvania ever had a chance to look for any significant registration change—for the simple reason that historically the lead had always been Republican, a somewhat staggering lead at times, it might be added.

Paralleling this almost boring GOP lead in the pre-1950 years—back in the days when the political machine was paramount—Republican administration followed Republican administration, with the exception of three interruptions during the preceding 100 years.

Today any such lead is meaningless, as clearly evidenced by the past three gubernatorial elections—a complete reversal from yesterday. The machine has gone out—the individual voter has come in, with the latter turning the key regardless of what the registration lead may be.

Be all this as it may—the fact remains that today, December 6, is the day "the great switch" begins!

Red Cross volunteer workers in the area donated more than 1,000 hours during the month of November.

Coolbaugh Township High School defeated Millford 46-38.

State Police from Stroudsburg investigated a truck accident in Bartonsville. Canned goods from the truck scattered all over the highway.

R.P.O. 219, East Stroudsburg, announced it would conduct memorial services for four of its members who died during the past year. They also were to honor all members who have died.

"Cap" Curtis' boys went into the final period of a game with Easton leading. But when the gun sounded at the end the score was 23-18 in favor of the Bovers.

Two men were standing at the bar when one fell flat on his back. "That's what I like about Joe," said the other. "He knows when to quit."

Now's the time to open a new bank account, especially if the old one doesn't have any money in it.

About Town

Stopped by a Statistic

At a shower for the bride-to-be, she told her friends, "I plan to have four children—two boys and two girls."

"Why stop at four?" one friend asked.

"Because," replied the bride-to-be, "I've been reading statistics and find that every fifth child is Chinese."

George O'Brien tells the story of the guy who ran into the bar and gasped "Give me something for hiccups!" So the bartender slipped him across the face with a wet bay towel.

"What did you do that for?" squealed the man.

"Stopped your hiccups, didn't it?" said the bartender.

"For crying out loud," exclaimed the man. "My wife is outside and she's the one with the hiccups."

Quitting Time

Two men were standing at the bar when one fell flat on his back. "That's what I like about Joe," said the other. "He knows when to quit."

Off The Record

By Bob Clark

Henry Platt, the Holland Furnace man, is high in the clouds these days. The reason:

Well, Platt received a letter from the State Department of Forest and Waters, citing his "faithful performance" on the recent completion of a furnace replacement at the ranger dwelling at Hunter's Range.

Platt's organization was low bidder on a state contract for the project up in the woods near Porter's Lake.

Henry is so pleased with the state's letter of commendation that the message from Maynard Heach, chief, Division State Forest Management, is beginning to wear out from the continual showing to friends.

John Kirk, Monroe County Traffic Club official, is preparing a top notch program for the next session of the organization. The unit will meet Dec. 11 at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The Traffic Club is a budding group of industrial executives which view the transportation problems affecting the plants in the county.

Ally, Ed Hoffman is a guy who likes his coffee in the morning. The Stroudsburg attorney makes sure he gets his "nourishment" every aye'n around the 10:30 mark.

Incidentally if a Hall of Fame for church ushers is ever started, Ed will be one of the first nominees to be nominated from the locale.

Mrs. Robert (Trudy) Hellmann, has to go down as one of the busiest young women in Monroe County.

The Stroud Twp. resident offers her services to practically every worthwhile project in the community. And you can bet her assistance is more than welcomed.

Mrs. Hellmann is one of those citizens who typifies the best of Monroe County's progressive leaders.

Lady Motorist: "I'm afraid this accident was largely my own fault."

Gentleman: "Nonsense! The blame rests entirely with me. I saw you at least three blocks away and had plenty of time to swerve down a side street."

Few Glasses Help

Comedy star W. C. Fields, a man devoted to the bottle, was persuaded by a friend to go duck hunting. Waiting in his blind in the cold, gray dawn, Fields took a few nips to combat the chill.

Suddenly, a flock of birds appeared out of the mist. Fields fired one time and a plump duck plummeted to the water. The friend came over and exclaimed admiringly: "That's great shooting, Bill. Did you need glasses to see them?"

"Only three or four," replied Fields.

The Allen-Scott Report

Direct Moscow-New York Air Route Considered

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington, December 6 — Russia is again trying to establish a direct airline to the U. S. General G. S. Schetshikov, first deputy director of Aeroflot, and General B. M. Gaydarov, communications head of the government-owned airline, have been in this country several weeks discussing such a plan with State Department and other authorities.

Accompanied by General A. N. Chizhov, air attaché of the Russian embassy, the two Aeroflot chiefs have conferred with Washington and New York airport officials on the leasing of landing, maintenance and other facilities.

Indicated aim of the Soviet is a direct air route between Moscow and New York, with landing rights at Washington's huge new Dulles International Airport.

Pan American Airways is greatly interested in this proposal. The U. S. line would like to establish direct air service to Russia in exchange for the granting of similar rights here.

The Krenlin has been seeking a direct air connection here for more than 2½ years. These on-again-off-again negotiations were abruptly shelved several months ago, shortly before the historic showdown over the withdrawal of missiles and other offensive weapons in Cuba.

The resumption of these long-pending discussions is viewed as a significant indication of the improved relations between the two countries.

Traveling Plans — If conditions permit, President Kennedy intends to make a trip to the Far East next year.

That's what he told the group of Japanese cabinet members at his White House luncheon for them early this week. Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira gave hearty assurances the President would be "enthusiastically welcomed."

"If everything works out right, as I hopefully believe it will," the President told his Japanese guests, "I look forward to doing quite a bit of foreign traveling in 1963. These plans contemplate a trip to the Far East, and foremost among the countries I want to go to is Japan."

"I have received several invitations, and it is my earnest desire to have the opportunity to accept them. Naturally, these plans are still very tentative. But they are definitely in mind."

In President Eisenhower's last year in office, he embarked on a visit to Japan, but turned back after a succession of violent Communist-led riots. Subsequently, one of the leaders of these mass disturbances expressed apologies and regrets. Earlier this year there were reports the former President might go to Japan, but the plans did not materialize.

White House leaders say the President is thinking in terms of an extended trip that would include Alaska, Japan, Okinawa, the Philippines, India, Pakistan, and possibly Indonesia.

Patients — Ted Kennedy, 30-year-old brother of the President, has yet to take the oath of office as U. S. Senator, but there is no limit to his vaulting ambitions. He has already applied for a seat on the much-sought Foreign Relations Committee, and now he is aspiring to a place on the even more powerful Appropriations Committee. It's a virtually unprecedented feat for a "rookie" to be named to either of these top committees, but young Kennedy seems to be confident he has a good chance to make one of them.

If he does, a number of considerably more senior senators will be very unhappy. They are seeking these prizes, too, and have a lot more claim to them than newly-elected Kennedy, whose term only runs for two years. Foremost among those with a strong claim for a seat on the Appropriations Committee is Senator Clair Engle, D-Calif., who has been a member of Congress since 1944, and before being elected to the Senate was chairman of the house Interior Affairs Committee. Able and hard-working, Engle has the backing of Senate Democratic leaders for an appropriations assignment.

Former Vice President Nixon is raising a lot of puzzled eyebrows in G.O.P. circles. In his spectacular "farewell" press conference, Nixon avowed he was through with politics. Yet every successful Republican member of Congress has received a letter of congratulations from him—and quite a number of them are privately wondering how come and why! . . . Sam Pryor, able and popular vice president of Pan American Airways, is retiring next April. Formerly National Republican Committeeman from Connecticut, Pryor plans to move his permanent home to Hawaii . . . Publicly, the White House is saying nothing about the 1963 San Francisco mayoralty race, which already is at fever pitch. But privately, lieutenants of the President are making no bones they favor Representative John Shelley—an original Kennedy supporter. Although just re-elected for an eighth term in the House, Shelley is already busily running for mayor. He has opened a headquarters, and is zealously hustling for votes.

James Landis, one-time dean of Harvard Law School, New Deal brain-truster, former chairman of the Securities & Exchange Commission and the Maritime Commission, and attorney for former Ambassador Joseph Kennedy, father of the President, has his eye set on being general counsel of the billion-dollar communications satellite corporation authorized by the last session of Congress. The corporation, to be legally established by February 1, will create a number of big-paying jobs.

DEAR INTERESTED: Make no mention of it. He will take the ring off, or change it to his other hand, when he feels like it. But don't get your hopes up. That may be never.

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "BROKEN-HEARTED" (the 15-year-old boy whose parents kept him awake with their fighting) struck close to home with me. Many times I'd go to school after being up half the night trying to keep my parents from inflicting physical harm on one another. I listened to threats and accusations no child should ever be forced to hear. The only consolation I can offer is that we sometimes profit more from a bad example than a good one. I learned what qualities to look for in a mate. Kindness, understanding and honesty. My children will never have to go through what I did.

DEAR ABBY: There is an old bag who works with us. She's been divorced a couple of times and is now single. She spends her money entertaining the young men who work with her. She is old enough to be their mother. She isn't smart enough to realize that the only reason they bother with her is because she picks up the tab. It bothers us to see this woman taken for a fool. Shouldn't someone put her wise? Or should we let her go on being a sucker?

DEAR CO-WORKERS: Your concern brings a lump to my throat. If the woman enjoys herself, and the young men enjoy themselves, who's the harm? She has a right to spend her money the way she wants to. I think you have "none" trouble.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with a man whose wife died a year ago. He still wears his wedding band on his left hand. Is there some way to ask him to take it off entirely or to wear it on his other hand, without being too forward? I am very much interested in him.

INTERESTED

DEAR ABBY: Not because she's my daughter, but Joyce is an exceptionally beautiful 18-year-old. My problem is with her father. He is always picking on her. If she gets ready to go out in a hurry and leaves her cosmetics or clothes on the bathroom sink, he will pick everything in the waste basket. (I regret it all later.) He is always finding fault with the boys she goes with, and they are certainly nice young men. He inspects her room, and if it isn't in perfect condition he calls her sloppy and lazy. This has started only recently. How can I make him realize that she's a good girl and he should leave her alone?

TROUBLED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: First, your husband should realize what HIS problem is. He doesn't like to see his "little girl" grow up. His attitude is common and it will take some uncommon diplomacy on your part to make him face the facts and behave accordingly.

Friends and relatives may call at the funeral home Friday after 7 p.m.

Stroudsburg High Honor Grad

FUNERAL services for Mrs. Mary Morgan Scarlett, an honor graduate of the class of 1917 at Stroudsburg High School, were held recently in Brunswick, Ga.

Mrs. Scarlett, the wife of Frank M. Scarlett, judge of the U. S. District Court at Brunswick, attended the 40th reunion of her class in June, 1957, at the Bartonsville Hotel.

She was born in Walnut Valley, N. J., and became a resident of Brunswick in 1923 when she married Judge Scarlett.

Long active in civic affairs there, she was presented with a silver service in 1960 by city and county leaders which was inscribed:

"Presented to Mrs. Frank M. Scarlett at the dedication of the new Federal Building as a token of the affection and esteem the people of Brunswick and Glynn County have for her."

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are a daughter, Mrs. L. G. Crowe, Rome, Ga.; two sons, Rev. F. M. Scarlett, Jr., Fayetteville, N. C., and Richard Morgan Scarlett, Brunswick, and six grandchildren. A brother, George F. Morgan, Pen Argil, also survives.

C. P. Terhune, 73, of 929 Washington St., Easton, died on Saturday in the Easton Hospital.

Born in Newark, N. J., he was a division engineer for the Lehigh Valley Railroad. A graduate of Cooper Union Institute, he held a bachelor's degree in civil engineering. He was a member of the Masonic Order.

In addition to Mrs. Knepp, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Caroline Petty, of Pleasantville, N. J., and two granddaughters.

Interment was in the Borden-town Cemetery.

Arthur Mackes' Burial Held

FUNERAL services for Arthur L. Mackes, 17, of Saylorburg, RD 1, were held yesterday at 2 p.m. in the Kroske Funeral Home, with the Rev. Adnan Bohner officiating.

Interment was in the Mount Eton Cemetery.

Palbearers were Jack Kern, Marvin Finkle, Tom Lippincott, John Lippincott, Andy Tell and James Handeling.

S-burg Planners Will Get $7,500

STROUDSBURG Borough Council last night assured the borough planning commission it will appropriate $7,500 over the next two years to hire technical planning assistance and to provide for miscellaneous operating expenses of the commission.

The appropriation is contingent upon assurances of receiving state and federal funds. The total cost of a planning program for the borough, estimated by Candeb, Cabot and Associates, of Scranton, is $23,500, of which the borough will pay approximately $6,167, the state $1,666 and the federal government, $15,667.

Dreher Residents Complain

Approximately 10 residents of Dreher Ave. attended the meeting to complain of the condition of sidewalks on the street resulting from a change in grade made by the State Highways Dept. as part of the construction of the Stroudsburg Thruway.

The residents were told that borough officials will contact J. H. Beers, Inc., contractor for the project, to determine what part of the cost of replacing sidewalks the firm will pay, based on an oral promise by Beers while the construction was under way.

Yetter To Aid

In addition, local utility companies who broke up sidewalks to relocate poles will be asked if they intend to provide replacements. A letter was read from Rep. Van D. Yetter, Jr., in which he promised to assist with any discussions involving the Highways Dept. relating to the problem.

In other action, Council Voted to amend the ordinance governing sewer rates to increase the basic rate from $18 to $21. The move, effective April 1, is expected to provide an additional $10,000 a year for the borough's municipal authority.

Granted Henry Baustine of the Stroudsburg Typewriter Co. permission to cut the curb on N. Ninth St. to construct a ramp to allow access to a parking space beside the building. One parking meter will be removed.

Fire Appropriations

Authorized annual appropriations of $1,000 each to Chemical Co. No. 1 and Phoenix Co. No. 2. Tabled for at least a year a bid by E. H. Staples Construction Co. for furnishing labor, material and equipment to maintain the flood control project on Broadheads and McMichael's Creeks. It was pointed out that the first year's maintenance is the responsibility of the contractor who built the project. Councilmen John Hauser, Howard Altman and Stephen Sackley were named to a committee to discuss dike maintenance and possible purchase of equipment with a committee from East Stroudsburg.

Received from John A. Kitchen tax collector, on 1962 tax duplicate, $116, real estate tax: $83.69 occupation tax: $1,375 per capita tax: $5,354.50 total. Received from Monroe County on 1960 and 1961 land returns — $31,700.

Fire Dept. — Nov. 10, Stroudsburg Thruway, automobile; Nov. 25, rear 1153 W. Main St., storage shed; investigated fire code violations, three abated, three pending.

Board of Health — Five cases of reportable disease; nine nuisance complaints investigated and abated; 12 inspections of public eating and drinking places; 281 health cards collected to date.

Area Deer Kill Light On 3rd Day

THE THIRD day of the 1962 deer season was a reported quiet one.

Game Protectors John Doebeling and John Spencer reported that very few hunters were in the woods. Both attributed inclement weather for keeping the hunters home.

Kills reported to The Daily Record were:

Barry Kistler, Promised Land, a senior at Southern Wayne Joint School shot his buck Monday afternoon.

Fred Bancroft, South Sterling, killed a six-point buck on Monday.

Educator's Funeral Held

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Funeral services were held Wednesday for Dr. John Gilbert Bowman, former chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh.

Bowman died Sunday at the age of 85 at his home in Bedford. He was buried in Pittsburgh.

The Iowa native headed Pitt from 1921 to 1945, during which time the 42-story Cathedral of Learning, the world's tallest educational building, was constructed. He previously served as president of the University of Iowa for four years.

THE Red Cross Bloodmobile will make a scheduled visit in this area, under the auspices of the Monroe County Chapter, next Monday. The mobile unit will be at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church from 11:45 a. m. to 3:45 p. m.

In stressing the importance of the American Red Cross and its blood program locally, Joseph DeRenzis, program chairman, remarked:

"For a few months back, the blood donor program was on rather shaky ground. We were not coming up to our quota of donors, and it was a tragic situation. The visit of the Bloodmobile last month was a decided improvement, and we are hoping that it will continue this Monday."

Nice To Know It's There

"Some people remark that we could get along without the Red Cross. Of course we could," the chairman said, "but isn't it nice to know it's there?"

"Isn't it nice, for example, to know that your friends and neighbors care enough for their fellowman to give time in volunteer service through the American Red Cross. And isn't it comforting to realize that someone cares enough to teach first aid and water safety?"

"Yes, maybe you think you could get along without the Red Cross, but then maybe you've never needed BLOOD. That's right, human blood! Whole blood for operations... and blood fractions such as gamma globulin, fibrinogen, and serum albumin."

"Yes, it's nice to know that Red Cross is there... and how about you? Can you think of a better gift than the gift of life? Be a holiday blood donor. Call your local Red Cross, today!"

"Yes, it's nice to know Red Cross is there. It's even better to know that you'll be there too!" he concluded.

NO ONE was injured in a two-car collision at Kane and McConnell Sts., Stroudsburg, at 5:50 p.m. yesterday.

Borough police identified the drivers as Nelson Hamilton, 58, of 117 Day St., East Stroudsburg, and Carlton E. Stover, 54, of 405 Oak Terrace, Reading.

Damage was estimated at $200 to Hamilton's car and $150 to Stover's.

FINAL ACTION — Richard L. Price, treasurer of Racing, Inc., left, accepts the title for the last piece of property completing purchase for the proposed race track. Handing him the title is Austin C. ## Racing, Inc. Takes Title To Final Tract Of Land

RACING Incorporated took title to the third and final tract of land in the 1025-acre site for the "Pocono Mountains International Raceway."

The site is strategically located two miles from the planned Keystone Shortway (Federal Route 80), five miles from planned interchange of Keystone

Shortway and the Penn-Can Highway (Federal Route 81S), and 10 miles from the Pocono Interchange on the Northeastern Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike via Route 940.

The site slopes gradually from State Route 115 to Long Pond Lake which will enable spectators to view with ease the entire layout of the Raceway. Parking space will be available for some 30,000 automobiles. It is within 135 miles of 36,000,000 Americans.

David Montgomery Jr., president of Racing Incorporated, expressed his gratitude to the business and resort leaders for their recognition and support of this important project.

The next meeting is scheduled for Jan. 16, in Hose Co. 1 firehall, Honesdale.

$50,000 Suit In Car Death On Rte. 209

SCRANTON—A $50,000 lawsuit, resulting from the death of a six-year-old boy is scheduled for trial today before Federal Judge Frederick V. Follmer and a jury here.

Michael Lysak, a New Jersey resident, administrator of the estate of his late son, Myron B. Lysak, seeks the damages from Edward O. Metzgar, cashier of Skytop Lodge, Monroe County.

The plaintiff contends the defendant's car struck the boy on Route 209, nine miles south of

You want relief—want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation setting up your backache. Or, if you're getting relief from food and drink—often setting up your backache.

Doan's Pills work fast in 4 separate ways:

1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headache, muscle aches and pains;
2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation; 3. by increasing flow of urine to flush out mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So, if you have trouble sleeping and the same happy relief millions have found in 60 years. For convenience, ask for the large size, Get Doan's Pills today!

Western Pennsylvania, southeastern New York, and New Jersey—Temperatures are expected to average near or slightly above normal; cooler early in period and again before the end of the period, milder during mid-period. Precipitation may total about a half inch, occurring as showers at beginning of period and about mid-period, with occasional showers or snow flurries lingering over the mountains through the period.

Officials said Moose was alone in the house and apparently fell asleep on a living room couch. His body was found in rubble about seven hours after the blaze broke out. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Japanese Wife Of Roseto Man Likes U.S.

ROSETO — Air Force Staff Sgt. Orreste Castellucci is visiting his home in Roseto for the first time in six years.

His wife and daughter are visiting Roseto for the first time.

Sgt. Castellucci and his family returned recently from a tour of duty in Japan and are on a 30-day leave at the home of the sergeant's father, Leonardo Castellucci, 96 Gambaldi Ave.

The sergeant and his wife, the former Ayako Masuda of Tokyo,

Industry Paying Sets New Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the strength of an unexpected rise since midyear, industry spending for new plant and equipment in 1962 is breaking the $37-billion record set in 1957, the government announced Wednesday.

The increase is not spectacular, however, and the investment plans reported by business firms across the country indicate a leveling-off this quarter and a slight decline in early 1963.

But advance estimates for last summer and fall proved to be overly conservative. This led some government economists to speculate that the gains will continue next year.

The official survey, made in November, indicated that plant and equipment outlays reached a record yearly rate of $38.35 billion in the July-September quarter. This was $1.4 billion higher than in the second quarter and is the rate at which investment apparently is now running.

Wayne Hunter Is Critical

HONESDALE, Pa. (AP)—A man was wounded seriously Wednesday while deer hunting at Cold Springs about 19 miles north of here.

In critical condition at Wayne Memorial Hospital is Michael Naeve, 19, of Philadelphia with a wound in the chest.

A state Game Commission said Naeve was accidentally struck by a shot fired by a hunting companion, Robert Gonzo, 19, also of Philadelphia.

The two were hunting on a big tract of state game lands when the accident took place. Naeve was removed from the woods in a tractor-drawn farm wagon and then taken to the hospital by ambulance.

he was on temporary duty from Hawaii. She worked at U. S. commissaries and post exchanges.

The transition to the American way of life is not difficult, Mrs. Castellucci said, because they had lived in the American community in Japan and she is used to it now.

"I like southern fried chicken, spaghetti, and hamburger," she said. "And I don't like steak." She agreed that this dislike is a definite advantage for the budget.

"We're going to spend the leave visiting friends and the family," the sergeant said, "and meeting the people around here."

They will be assigned to Andrews AFB, Md. at the end of their vacation.

The Castellucci family was flown from Japan aboard a C-118. They left from Tachikawa AFB and landed at Travis AFB, California. The sergeant had shipped his car from Japan earlier and it was waiting in San Francisco for them when they arrived.

They motored across country, arriving in Roseto last Friday.

Mrs. Castellucci was amazed at the size of the country. "She was especially interested in the vast wastelands of the Southwest," the sergeant said.

"We had briefed her on what to expect in the way of the weather here," he explained. "We brought heavy winter clothing and everything." The extremely mild temperature surprised them.

"It's just like back in the Tokyo area," she said.

The new member of the family is popular with the Castellucci family in Roseto. They are holding an open house in her honor starting at 4 p.m., Sunday.

Sgt. Castellucci enlisted in the U. S. Navy in 1944. He has a total of 13 years service in the Navy and Air Force. "I re-enlisted for four years in October," he said, "and I intend to do the full 20 for retirement."

The sergeant's father, a shoe repairman, proudly displays a picture taken some 50 years ago when he was in the Italian army.

MINOR injuries to her right arm were suffered by a young Philadelphia woman in an accident on Main Street, Stroudsburg, at 12:55 yesterday.

Mrs. Joan Krueger, 29, of 148 Ridgeway St., East Stroudsburg, was backing out of a parking place in front of the Womans Shop in Stroudsburg when she backed into the rear of a car driven by Kenneth Veil, 23, of 4441 Cottman St., Philadelphia.

The car, which was a 1961 Chevrolet, was backing out of the Veil car but the right door of the Veil car was smashed in and the window broken. Veil's wife, Dorothy Veil, 24, suffered injuries to her right arm.

Stroudsburg police investigated.

Meaning Of Carols Explained

MOUNT POCONO — The origin and meaning of popular Christmas carols were explained by Dr. Donald B. Corson, head of the music department of East Stroudsburg State College at the meeting of the Mount Pocono Rotary Club on Tuesday night at the Mount Pocono Methodist Church.

With recorded carols as a background, Dr. Corson told of their composers, their history, and incidents in their history which enriched their meaning for the members.

At their business meeting, the club discussed installing parking benches and school bus stop shelters. Plans were made for a ladies night Christmas party to be held Saturday, Dec. 15 at High Point Inn when a check of the Christmas fund will be taken.

$40,270 Shortage Is Discovered

LEBANON, Pa. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Alvin B. Lewis Jr. said Wednesday that a $40,270 shortage in the accounts of the Citizens Fire Co. of Palmyra was discovered.

He added that his office would order changes of embezzlement and fraudulent conversion against Russell Barry, former treasurer of the volunteer fire company, who disappeared in early November.

The financial plight of the organization came to light in the process of purchasing a new fire truck. It was discovered there was no account in the bank to cover the purchase.

The fire company earlier filed a complaint of fraudulent conversion against Barry and Lewis' office authorized a state police alert for him. Lewis said Wednesday the state police broadcast for Barry's apprehension was being issued in the light of developments.

Wayne Hunter Accidentally Killed

A WAYNE County man became this area's first deer hunting fatality when he was shot and killed accidentally in the Winderle area of Buckingham Township, Northern Wayne County, Tuesday afternoon.

He was identified as Francis S. Stanton, 38, of Buckingham Township, Rd. Hancock, N. Y.

A lumber inspector for the Carley Brook Lumber Co., Honesdale, Mr. Stanton was the father of two children, and his wife is expecting a third in January.

He died on the spot of a neck wound suffered when he was mistaken for a deer and shot by another hunter, Michael E. Wick, 33, Oakland, N. J., authorities said.

Investigations said the victim was hunting with his father-in-law.

Area Moravian Churches To Hold Combined Service

NEWFOUNDLAND — The congregations of the Newfoundland and Canadian Moravian Churches combined to hold the annual advent service, with the lighting of the advent star, at the Newfoundland Church.

The choir of the two churches presented anthems, and Mrs. Charlotte Price and Mrs. Christine McLean were organists for the service, respectively.

The Rev. Larry Lindemuth, Newfoundland, was in charge of the service, and the Rev. Nathaniel Albee, Canada, brought the message. There was a carol sing during the service.

The Greenwood - Newfoundland-South Sterling Youth Fellowship attended the service in a group, after holding a brief business meeting.

Stolen Car

ROME (AP) — Discovering his car stolen, businessman Giuseppe Zonzani tried to report it to police. On the way he saw three cars smash at an intersection, one of them his. The thief, unhurt, fled.

Refloat Jap Sub

SINGAPORE (AP) — A salvage company has refloated the Japanese submarine 134, which was torpedoed by a British sub Nov. 13, 1945, with 85 aboard, near Pongau Island. The sub will be broken up for scrap. Bodies will be cremated.

Professional Staff Now At Eight

THE appointment of two engineering specialists to fill vacant positions with the Delaware River Basin Commission was announced yesterday by James F. Wright, Executive Director.

The new officials are David A. Robertson, who is 37, has been a graduate of New York University, has served several consulting firms as chief sanitary engineer and has worked for the U. S. Geological Service and New York State. He last worked for Brown Engineers of New York. He is 68.

The two engineers will work under Herbert A. Howlett, the Commission's Chief of Planning. Another branch head position, for Project Planning, is still vacant. Robertson's annual salary is $16,000 and Howlett's $18,000.

The federal-international compact under which the Commission was created and assigned jurisdiction last year ordered the preparation of a comprehensive plan for development of the Delaware River system in which the fight against water pollution is a leading feature.

The compact also directed that no private or public project having a substantial effect on the basin's water resources may be undertaken without Commission approval. It is in these respective areas that Robertson and Howlett will function.

Tannersville Lions Host Zone Meet

THE regular meeting of the Tannersville Lions was held at the Tannersville Lions Club on Tuesday night, Dec. 4, at the Tannersville Fire Hall.

The next meeting of the club will be held Dec. 11 at the Tannersville Fire Hall.

Robertson spoke on the visitors' exchange. It provides a method whereby people of other countries will come to know us better through their own people. It can be a great tool for peace in the world, he said.

Lion Deputy District Governor Paul Maxwell spoke on various operations to the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., on Dec. 11 for a week to prepare for their class with Florida in the 1962 Gator Bowl.

3rd Red Channel

MOSCOW (AP) — This Soviet capital will get its third television channel in 1963, said the Soviet news agency Tass. It reported the Soviet Union has 123 television stations and almost 20 relay stations serving an area with more than 90 million people.

Interpreting The News

Communism Not Surrendering

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst
The speculation of the last few weeks over Communist intentions and the effect of the Cuban con-

GI Insurance Dividends To 250,000

MORE than $327 million in 1963 GI insurance dividends — including a special dividend of $30 million — will be paid in record time, according to John S. Gleason, Jr., Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

Plans for payment of both regular and special 1963 dividends were announced by the White House.

Under a greatly speeded-up timetable, the entire payment of both regular and special dividend payments is expected to be completed during the month of January, 1963.

About $222 million of the $327 million total is the regular 1963 dividend that will go to nearly five million World War II veterans holding National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) policies.

More than $15 million will go to 250,000 World War I veterans who hold U. S. Government Life Insurance (USGLI) policies.

Regular dividends, which are distributed annually, have regularly been paid on the anniversary date of the original issuance of the policy. On this occasion, the payment will be speeded up to be completed within the month of January. An accelerated method was used once before by the Veterans Administration when the regular dividends during 1961 were paid by mid-March of that year.

Special Dividend

In addition to the regular dividend, the VA will pay a special dividend of $30 million during 1963 to all World War II NSLI policyholders. A previous special dividend was paid to World War II policyholders during 1961.

The dividends which are paid to both World War I and World War II policyholders are primarily a return to the policyholders of part of their premium payments since the death rate among GI policyholders continues to be lower than the rate upon which the payments were established by law.

The special dividend will be paid from the contingency reserve fund due to the fact that study and current experience indicate that the fund is more than ample to meet the needs of the insurance program.

VA officials reminded veteran policyholders that the preparing and mailing of the dividend payment was automatic and required no correspondence from veterans or their families. In fact, such correspondence might delay the dividend disbursement process, they said.

Yule Stamp Going Like Hot Cakes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postal officials said yesterday they might put an extra printing press into service to help fill the record-breaking demand for the new 4-cent Christmas postage stamp.

"If somebody could invent a hot cake that would sell like this stamp, he could make a fortune," said James Farley, Post Office Department information aide.

Postmasters throughout the nation have reported a sellout of the Christmas stamp, he said.

He estimated sales might run to 750 million stamps by the end of the holiday season. The previous record for a special issue was 320 million for the 4-cent stamp commemorating John H. Glenn's space flight earlier this year.

Two Engineers Named To DRBC

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Two engineers were appointed Wednesday to head departments on the Delaware River Basin Commission.

David A. Robertson of Cambridge, Mass., was named head of the commission's water quality branch at a salary of $16,000 a year. Theodore Brignati of Freeport, N. Y., was named to head the project review branch at $14,000.

James F. Wright, executive director of the commission, said the appointments bring the commission's professional staff to eight.

Robertson, 37, has held water engineering positions with the U.S. Public Health Service, Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission, and with the states of Virginia and North Carolina.

Brignati, 48, has served consulting firms and worked for the U.S. Geological Service and New York State.

Apartment Planned

MOSCOW (AP)—An apartment hotel, planned to be Europe's largest, is under construction near the Kremlin, said the Soviet news agency Tass. It will accommodate 6,000 residents and include shops, two restaurants, two theaters and a park-like roof area, Tass said.

JFK Threatened; Man Is Arrested

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Secret Service agents arrested a Birmingham resident yesterday on a charge that he threatened the life of President Kennedy in a letter.

He was identified as James B. Hubka, 20.

In a hearing before U.S. Commissioner Louise O. Charlton, Hubka said he wrote the letter.

He was held under $25,000 bond.

The agents said the letter was sent to J. Walter Yagley of the Department of Justice.

Hubka twice asked Mrs. Charlton if he could explain his actions, but she refused.

Mrs. Charlton said she was not interested in his motives, that they are "between you and your God."

If convicted, Hubka could be fined $1,000 or sent to prison for five years, or both.

Soviets Kill Hope Of Test Ban Pact

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union killed all Western hopes yesterday that an emergency nuclear test ban agreement could be rushed into operation by the end of the year.

Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin told a subcommittee of the 17-nation disarmament conference there will never be any agreement so long as the West insists on inspection of suspicious underground disturbances.

For their part, U.S. Ambassa-

Saylorsburg

Mrs. Anna M. Serfass
Phone WY 2-4358

MR. AND MRS. James Serfass, Sr., were recent guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Serfass, Stroudsburg. Mrs. Thad Shiner, Stroudsburg, business in Scranton on Saturday. Mrs. Phyllis Griffith, Mrs. Helen Klinger, Miss Beatrice Custer, Mrs. Helen Praetorius, Mrs. Kathryn Jones and Mrs. Eva Snyder recently attended an Eastern Star district meeting at the YWCA, Easton.

A congregational meeting of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, Saylorsburg, will be held Sunday, December 9 at 10:10 a. m.

Mrs. Olga Weidlich will sponsor a musical program at the Zion Church, Brodheadsville, on Sunday, December 9 at 7 p. m. Benefit of Youth Fellowship.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Serfass, Susan Hoffman and Mrs. James Serfass were recent guests of Mrs. Mary Newhart and family, Stockertown.

Janice Kreege, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Kreege, had the misfortune of cutting his arm with glass, on Sunday. Five stitches were necessary to close the wound.

Mrs. Nona Warner returned home from the Monroe County General Hospital.

for Arthur H. Dean and British Minister of State Joseph B. Godber reiterated that a quota of on-site inspections must be included in any system ending tests.

Dean declared the installation of black boxes—robot automatic detectors—would not abolish the need for such inspections or completely replace manned control posts.

He said a network of the boxes, if made tamper proof, would have some auxiliary value in recording earth disturbances. But he challenged Tsarapkin's claim that such a network, plus existing national detection systems, would eliminate the need for on-site inspections.

The subcommittee met for 2½ hours. The participants agreed only that the nuclear negotiations were stalemated.

Western diplomats said privately Tsarapkin's rejection of emergency test ban proposals advanced by the nonatomic powers undoubtedly reflected a new stiff attitude in Moscow.

Westerners said Tsarapkin apparently is under instructions to frustrate any new moves in the nuclear negotiations, and keep the conference frozen.

The disarmament conference is required to make a progress report to the U.N. General Assembly Dec. 10.

Deer Hunters Shoot Horses

ROMNEY, W. Va. (AP)—It was bound to happen.

The natural resources department here received yesterday a complaint from Donald Hott that deer hunters using spotlights shot two horses on his farm near here Sunday night.

The deer season didn't begin until Monday. And spotlighting is definitely illegal.

Hott said one horse was killed, the other wounded.

Production Of Paperboard Dips

NEW YORK (AP)—The production of paperboard, which has innumerable uses, especially in the packaging field, dropped to the lowest level for a non-holiday week since early July, the National Paperboard Association said. It said production in the week ended Dec. 1 was 324,169 tons, compared with 331,113 a week earlier.

Stripped Of Rank

K Disparages Abstract Art

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press gave special prominence yesterday to disparage remarks about abstract art made by Premier Khrushchev.

The premier issued his pronouncement after visiting a display of abstract paintings at an undisclosed spot in Moscow. "One isn't able to tell," said Khrushchev, "if they were drawn by the hand of man, or smeared by the tail of a donkey."

He said such paintings were alien to the Soviet way of life and implied they would not be tolerated.

The official party newspaper Pravda spread his remarks over more than a fourth of its front page Sunday. Most other newspapers, including the official military newspaper Krasnaya Zvezda—Red star—did the same.

Pravda and Krasnaya Zvezda had identical headlines: "The lofty calling of Soviet art is to serve the people — the cause of communism."

Scranton Got Strong Cash Backing

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. elect William W. Scranton received strong financial support from out of state friends and relatives in his bid for the governor's chair, it was disclosed yesterday.

Expense accounts filed with the State Elections Bureau show at least $14,000 in out-of-state contributions for the Scranton campaign.

The contributors included Henry R. Luce, board chairman of Time, Inc., New York; James A. Linen III, president of Time, Inc., and Scranton's brother-in-law; and Dr. H. M. Rozendaal, another brother-in-law, from Schenectady, N. Y.

Linen and Rozendaal each contributed $3,000 and Luce $2,000. Scranton's two sisters, Mrs. Rozendaal and Mrs. Linen contributed $3,000 each.

Non-state residents contributing to the Van Zandt for the U. S. Senate Committee included Alice Roscher of Hallandale Beach, Fla., $5,000; James A. Noe, Monroe, La., $1,000; and Hugh L. Stone, San Angelo, Tex., $1,000.

Rep. James E. Van Zandt also was listed as a $2,500 contributor. But he also reported in a statement under affidavit Nov. 26 that his personal expenses did not exceed $150.

Wife Aids Van Zandt
Van Zandt's wife, Esther, was listed as contributing $2,575 to her husband's campaign.

Other New York contributors to the Scranton campaign fund included Thomas J. Watson Jr., president of International Business Machines, and Arthur K. Watson, who each gave $1,000.

The largest individual contributions came from two Harrisburg men—Robert M. Mumma and Robert H. Stewart—each who gave $5,000—the maximum allowed by state law.

Pennsylvanians making key contributions to the Scranton-Van Zandt ticket were Roger Blough, board chairman of U. S. Steel Corp., $1,000; J. Howard Pew of Philadelphia, $3,000; J. N. Pew Jr. of Philadelphia, $3,000; Mabel Ethel Pew, Philadelphia, $3,000; R. K. Mellon, Pittsburgh, $1,000; and Mrs. Alan M. Scuffe, Pittsburgh, $1,000.

Committees
The Scranton for Governor Committee reported total contributions of $74,124. Total receipts for the Van Zandt for U. S. Senate Committee amounted to $64,015.

Labor unions played a big role in financial contributions to the campaign. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, re-elected Democrat.

The United Steelworkers of America and the International Ladies Garment Workers Union each chipped in with $5,000 apiece while the Textile Workers Union contributed $1,000 and the United Auto Workers Citizenship Department $2,000.

Total contributions for the Clark committee were $106,914. The Clark-Diworth Committee for Southeastern Pennsylvania reported contributions of $114,169 with $60,000 coming from the Democratic State Finance Committee.

Wind Gap Council To Study Plan

WIND GAP — David Pritchard, borough engineer, was instructed by the Wind Gap Borough Council at a meeting this week to work on a plan to change the width of Constitution Avenue from a 60-foot right-of-way to a 46-foot right-of-way.

Council said that after the plan is worked out and approved, James Charron, borough solicitor, will be authorized to draft an ordinance to obtain the street.

The Pennsylvania Department of Justice informed council that the borough lookup was inspected and was given a rating of "good".

The council decided to work out a solution to a problem of locating a line, fronting on the property of Alexandria Cortez, on the south side of East Center Street, for the purpose of having curbing installed on the property.

The council decided to have the Blue Mountain Consolidated Water Co. install new fire hydrants on the north side of Lehigh Avenue, west of the Davey residence, and at Maple Street and Alpha Road.

The property committee was instructed to investigate insurance coverage for the boiler in the borough building to comply with the new bill recently passed in connection with public buildings.

Receipts for the month totaled $1,072.32. It was decided to borrow $1,000 from the Wind Gap Citizens Bank to meet current expenses. Expenses were $1,976.42.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 7 in Borough Hall.

Fewer Business Failures In Nov.

NEW YORK (AP)—The number of commercial and industrial failures through November totaled 15,024 or 313 a week, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported Wednesday.

The business news and statistics firm said this compares with 16,163 or 317 a week for the smaller 1961 period. Failures for the week ended Nov. 26 were 332 from 253 in the Thanksgiving week and compared with 356 a year ago.

Poisoned Babies Lifesaver Heads Week's Medical News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A lifesaver for poisoned babies, chemicals to improve memory, and wine as a diet aid are in the medical news.

Baby Saver
In Binghamton, N.Y., last March 14, babies accidentally received formulas containing salt instead of sugar. They began dying from excess salt in their bloodstreams.

Three were saved by a technique which exchanged salt for sugar, and this method has since been used successfully in adults with similar salt poisoning, reports Dr. John E. Kiley of Albany Medical Center.

A solution of sugar and water is injected into the abdominal cavity, and left there for two to three hours. The sugar filters slowly into the bloodstream, and salt fil-

Four Killed In Milton Crash

MILTON, Pa. (AP)—The driver and one of the three young occupants of an automobile were killed Wednesday when their car swerved off Rt. 220 and crashed into a tree.

State police said the car apparently was traveling at high speed when the accident occurred north of Picture Rock in Lycoming County.

Barbara Ann Bario, 17, Hughesville, was reported in serious condition at Muncy Valley Hospital, Muncy. Less seriously hurt and in the same hospital was Calvin Bailey, 21, Picture Rock.

Men and women taking a few ounces of wine with meals or dessert cut down their daily food intake and showed small but consistent weight losses, he says.

Wine at bedtime also reduced nightly refrigerator raids. Glasses of wine taken 30 minutes before dinner, however, did not have any detectable effect.

Helps Diet
Reducing Aid.

Wine taken with or right after dinner helps overweight persons stay on a reducing diet, a physician finds.

It probably acts as a tranquilizer, and reduces the emotional tension of sticking to a diet, says Dr. Giorgio Lolli of the International Center of Psychodietetics, New York City.

Memory Booster
Tiny injections of the powerful poison, strychnine, enable rats to learn tasks more quickly, and with fewer errors.

Not only that, they remember better how to do the task if they get strychnine injections one minute after initial trials, says Dr. James L. McGaugh, associate professor of psychology at the University of Oregon.

Strychnine and other drugs stimulate the central nervous system, although the exact mechanism is not known. Far too poisonous for human use, strychnine in these experiments might show the way to development of similar but less dangerous drugs to help control mental deficiency, or improve learning and memory.

Wind Gap Bank To Hold Open House

THE Citizens Bank of Wind Gap will hold open house for residents of the area on Dec. 8, 2 to 8 p. m. The completely renovated and enlarged facilities will offer beautiful, comfortable and modern banking service in every department.

The Citizens Bank of Wind Gap, established in 1914 by local people to serve the needs of local people, had as its first president, Oscar A. Greenzweig.

In 1937, A. L. Greenzweig was elected president of the Citizens Bank of Wind Gap. Greenzweig served as a member of the Board since 1910 and its vice president from 1950.

Time deposits have more than doubled, total assets have increased over fifty per cent, and the number of loans extended has doubled. New services offered to customers include consumer loans, car financing, banking by mail, night depository, drive in window, parking accommodations, modern bookkeeping machines, micro-film equipment has been installed for recording all transactions. The expanded institution offers the service and convenience of a metropolitan bank, plus the friendliness and interest found only in a small, progressive community.

Present officers and directors of the Citizens Bank of Wind Gap are: A. L. Greenzweig, president; George N. Miller, vice president; M. Frank Schick, vice president; Ellis Griffith, secretary-treasurer, and Floyd Breidinger, J. Lawrence Davis and L. A. Teel.

Contest Chairman Jerome Weinstein, editor of the Centre Daily Times at State College, said the entry deadline is Feb. 1.

Eligible to compete are staffers of PNPA member newspapers, and members of the Pennsylvania Society of Newspaper Editors. These two organizations, with the Pennsylvania State University School of Journalism, sponsor the competition.

Wintering Rose Bushes

By George Abraham
YOU'D THINK it would be an easy matter to tell you how to winter protect your roses. I can't tell you how to bring roses through the winter because I don't know, even though I've studied the problem for years. Does anyone really know?

We've been advocating this policy: Allow the rose canes to harden up by a few frosts in the fall, then apply your favorite covering, if you believe in covering. This philosophy has been advocated by rosearians for years. Now there's a new concept!

The director of research of the largest rose growing firm tells me that since roses actually winter-kill in fall by severe frosts the newest philosophy is to cover roses in Mid-October even if in full foliage and full bloom. If the roses are covered to six or eight inches, even with foliage and flowers on, the freeze can't get to the buds below that cover.

The director tells me that he applies a rose spray to cover the canes, and his firm cuts back the tops only enough to keep the plants from swinging in the wind. The company is using sawdust as a cover this year. It feels that sawdust if available, will help make rose culture a lot more interesting.

How large a mound should be placed over the rose bush? The point where the rose is budded or grafted is particularly tender and it should be covered with at least 6 inches of soil.

Many gardeners write and tell me they don't bother to mound their roses and have just as good luck as their neighbors who do protect the plants. How do you account for this? I wish I had an answer.

Roses vary considerably in their hardiness or ability to withstand cold. Some of the newer hybrid teas, floribunda, and grandiflora roses are hardy, but probably need extra protection. Rose hybridizers in their search for better flower form and new colors have had to settle for the loss of some inherent hardiness in these plants.

RABBITS AND MICE: What's a good home-made repellent for trees and shrubs frequented by rabbits, mice and deer? I mentioned our alcohol-rosin formula and it works with some success. Dissolve 7 lbs. of rosin in 1 gallon of denatured alcohol and paint tree trunk or shrubs.

One of my readers prefers to use another home-made repellent which she feels is more effective. She mixes 9 parts of linseed oil (by weight) with 1 part of dusting sulfur. Here's how she does it: Heat the linseed oil in a double boiler, then take it outside and mix the sulfur into the oil, stirring slowly. The repellent is brushed on with a wall paper brush.

It smells bad but works good since the animals don't like the sulfur smell. The sulfonated oil

Question Box

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: A. S. of Marshall's Creek: "In November I was given some bitter-sweet. It rooted in the vase of water during the winter and in spring I planted the rooted vines outdoors near a stone retaining wall. The first summer no growth, but this year it grew to a height of 3 feet with numerous branches. No berries. Do I have a male or female plant, or what do I need to get the vines to bear?"

It's hard to say which sex your vines are. Usually it takes up to 3 years for berries. Bittersweet seed has no gender (that is, it is neither male nor female) but the blossoms do have a male or female gender. How can you tell? Study the floral parts with a magnifying glass. Also if you notice that blossoms shed after the pollen has been released, you can be reasonably sure you have male vines.

If clusters gathered in fall are small and imperfect, that means you have female vines which would benefit from the presence of a "rooster" vine. Where male vines are present, the answer is to plant a female vine obtained from a nursery, or take cuttings from a fruiting vine growing in the wild. Female vines can be made to bear by cutting bouquets from a male vine and placing them in a bottle of water. Tie them up in your female vine for a week or so. Do this in June when the plants are in bloom.

D. E. of Bangor: "I made a plastic cover for my roses and evergreens for winter protection. Will these do any harm?" Yes, it's been my experience that the plastic tents trap heat inside and cook the tissues of evergreens and other plants. Even the perforated plastic sheet gets hot inside on warm winter days, enough to cook the plants.

C. C. of Strun: "We were given some new plants and now find they had mealybugs which infested our gardenias, poinsettias and adonis violets. You should warn people about bringing in new plants, until they are sure about not having mealybugs, aphids or red spiders. What can be done about mealybugs?"

It is a good idea to quarantine your healthy plants when a plant is given to you just in case the newcomer is peppered with insects. Mealybugs, noted for their toughness, are white and cottony in appearance. They suck sap and secrete a sticky honeydew which makes leaves unsightly.

repellent doesn't harden, as does the rosin material. Try it and tell me how you like it.
DUMB CANE: What causes the bottom leaves to droop? Usually if dumb cane gets too much water or if the soil is poorly drained, the leaves will droop. Dry soil causes same condition. Yellowing can be due to low temperatures, dry soil or dry air.
Dumb Cane or Dieffenbachia likes it warm, humid and shade from direct sun. I have a 10 ft. Dumb Cane which I'm shortening. To do this you cut a slit through the stem, insert a sliver of wood in the wound, wrap a ball of damp sphagnum moss around it and then wrap tightly with a sheet of plastic film. Wrap wire around the plastic.
It takes about a year for the moss to have enough roots for cutting. You make the cut below the moss and then pot the rooted plant in a florist pot.
POTTED MUM PLANTS: Should the florist mums be saved and grown on again in the garden? Usually most florist mums are too late for outdoor blooming, but they may be saved for indoor blooming.
After yours has finished flowering, cut the tops back to about 4 inches, keep the soil slightly moist and grow the plant on in a cellar window. When spring comes it can be planted outdoors. You'll find it sending out small shoots. Break these off and root in sand or water.
The mum can be grown in full sun. If it doesn't form buds when fall comes, dig it up and bring indoors where it will bloom as soon as the nights grow longer. Or to put it another way: when the days get shorter it'll start to bloom.
PHILODENDRON NOTES: Why is it you buy philodendrons from a florist (or stores) and the leaves are nice and large. After two months in the home the leaves start to get small. One reason is a lack of light.
As I mentioned recently, these stamped envelopes. The postoffice does not know which town or city you mean, and as a result we have these returned. Always be sure your return address is complete, correct and accurate.

A GOOD TIP: A reader writes: "I make candles, using a cardboard milk carton as you suggested. To fancy up the square candle I place pictures from old Christmas cards on the sides. Then I wrap paraffin and ice the corners, top and bottom of the cards. All my friends think the candles are extra pretty."
Another good tip passed to me: The ladies' hair spray does a fine job keeping catfish from opening. If you're one who's wanted a way to keep catfish from exploding, then here's your answer.

HURRY ONLY 16 DAYS 'TIL CHRISTMAS

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

It was a confusing kind of a day, starting from daybreak — which didn't, causing a lot of people, lulled by the dim light and the soft drip of rain, to oversleep, which slanted everything off on the wrong foot.

Including ordinarily conscientious publicists who got so involved in personal affairs that they forgot to call in the club meetings. "Car 54 where are you?" I kept keeping.

Then in my mailbox there were letters from both of the children, which always makes a red letter day — except Peter's was in the form of a tape recording in answer to ours of Thanksgiving. Something like that to a mother with no tape recorder of her own to play it on is one of the quickest ways to drive her absolutely stark, staring mad.

Six busy but tortured hours later I managed to get to a tape recorder, only to discover that the original voices hadn't been erased and his voice only came through in snatches. So a toches like "And my other big news is —", or "I've been dating —", only to be drowned out by my own voice saying something that sounded idiotic even when I said it.

But that's not all. I was the instrument for bringing down the same kind of flocking nightmare on my nephew, who arrived to go back to Dippy Doll deer hunting. Since Ray Price had come in for a meeting and was going back later last night I arranged to leave Topper at the Penn-Stroud where he'd pick him up after the meeting.

It sounded sensible, but it didn't look sensible when I dumped him off in well-worn hunting garb, complete with a mangy-looking quilt, a pillow and his gun, and told him to wait in the lobby. If ever a human could look like a wounded deer, he did. What the Penn-Stroud thought of that addition to their decor I didn't dare wait to see.

However in the whole confusing day, there was one thing I did get straightened out. I had met Jean Eshback again at the dinner which the Pocono Art Center gave for David Mark, the young author and playwright in one of their conversations not long ago. Yesterday when I got the news of their marriage, I wondered whether I had seen the start of a whirlwind courtship. But I found out that it was the other way around: that the Art Center was able to have him as their guest because he was already a friend of Jean. Anyway, the marriage made a proper happy ending, and I'm glad at least one thing worked out right for somebody.

College Party Plans Progressing

Plan for the College Night party are shaping up. The adult committee, sponsoring the affair, met to discuss details at the Penn-Stroud Hotel where the party will be held on Dec. 26 from 8:30 to 12 midnight.

The party is planned as a holiday event for all Monroe County students now attending higher institutions of learning and their guests.

This is the fourth year for the party. Mrs. W. Ashley Anderson and Mrs. J. S. Swartley have served as chairmen for the three previous parties. Continuing to serve this year are Mrs. Frank L. Patterson, Mrs. Eugene Martin, Mrs. Robert O. Schell, Mrs. Edward Williams, Mrs. Evan Reese, Mrs. Edward Driebe, Mrs. T. I. Metzgar, Mrs. William Wyckoff and Mrs. J. L. Cohen.

Added to the committee as new members this year are: Mrs. Charles Bensinger, Jr., Mrs. William Tarr, Mrs. Walter McClelland, Mrs. Francis Shinn, Mrs. William Howard, Mrs. J. V. Vriesnick, Mrs. Edmund A. Strickland and Mrs. Russell Imbt, Jr.

Sun. School Delegates

Bartonville — Joanne Dunbar, Sarah Jane Cyphers, Donna Hartman and Dorothy Possinger were delegates from St. John's Lutheran Sunday School, to the recent Monroe County Sunday School convention held at the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church and served as ushers at both evening sessions.

Berean Class Friday

Bartonville — The Berean Class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School will hold their annual Christmas party at the parish house on Friday night, Dec. 7, at 8.

TWIST, STOMP or cha cha cha, this recreation room offers an ideal area for teenage entertaining. Complete with fireplace, television set and soda bar with chairs, the room includes an acoustical ceiling to provide quiet for the rest of the home from the noise of active teenage parties. The giant record in the floor is created by using contrasting colors in vinyl flooring in six foot widths, which also offer an ideal dance surface.

S. S. Christmas Program Dec. 23

Bartonville — The children of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School will present a Christmas program for their relatives and friends on Sunday morning, December 23, at 10 o'clock.

The first practice for the program will be held at the church on Saturday afternoon, December 8, at 2.

Old-Fashioned Turkish Delight Goes Modern

Youngsters living in the first half of this century were lucky: their mothers, or teenage sisters, were likely to go into the kitchen around holiday time and make a batch of Turkish Delight.

Several years ago culinary experimenters came up with a new edition of this sweet, using a modern product — nonfat dry milk. When recently we tried an orange-flavored version of this latest rule, we felt it was worth passing along.

ORANGE TURKISH DELIGHT

3 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 1/2 cups cold orange juice
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
1/2 cup extra-cold orange juice
1/2 cup nonfat dry milk solids
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Extra chopped walnuts or grated coconut

In a large mixing bowl, sprinkle gelatin over 1/2 cup of the cold orange juice to soften. In a 2-quart saucepan stir together the sugar, corn syrup and remaining 1/2 cup cold orange juice; stir constantly over moderate heat until mixture reaches a rolling boil; boil for 5 minutes without stirring. Remove from heat; pour over softening gelatin; stir until gelatin dissolves. Stirring occasionally, cool at room temperature to the consistency of a thick syrup — 45 to 60 minutes. Pour the 1/2 cup extra-cold orange juice into a medium mixing bowl. Add dry milk and beat with an electric beater until soft peaks form — about 3 to 4 minutes; add lemon juice; beat until very stiff — about 3 to 4 minutes; without washing beater, beat into gelatin mixture until smooth. Fold in chopped walnuts and orange rind. Turn into buttered 9-inch square pan. Chill at least one hour. Cut into 36 pieces. Roll in extra chopped nuts or grated coconut. Store, covered, in refrigerator where it will keep well for about a week.

If you want those beef short ribs to be rich and flavorful, braise them with sliced onions and very little liquid.

Play Given For Salem Woman's Guild

Gilbert — A Christmas play, "Gifts for the Christ Child" was presented at the December meeting of the Women's Guild of the Salem United Church of Christ held Tuesday night in the choir room of the church. Joanne Altemose was pianist.

Plans were made for a Christmas party to be held Wednesday, Dec. 12, in the Guild Hall when the program will be presented by officers of the Guild. Gifts will be exchanged and an offering will be taken for the Bethany Children's Home.

Esther Hendry and Beulah Gregory reported on the church conference they had attended in Salem Church Allentown.

It was announced that the manger scene would be lighted on Sunday, Dec. 9 at 7 p. m. Congregations of the church are all invited to the paragon lawn for a brief service of song and Scripture when the lights are turned on.

Newly-elected officers of the Women's Guild, its departmental chairmen, as well as members of the consistory, Youth Fellowship and Sunday School officers and

Churchwomen Play Santa Claus For 354 Patients At State Mental Hospital

At least 354 patients at the Allentown State Hospital will have personal remembrances this year in a project of the member churches of the Monroe County Council of United Church Women under the auspices of the Monroe County Mental Health Assn.

That's how many stockings the members made and filled with personal gifts this year. There were 21 churches contributing to the project. Members of the Mental Health Assn. are now preparing the shipment for delivery to the hospital in time for Christmas.

Mrs. Claude Leister is president of the county council of church women. Mrs. Nathan Meyer was chairman of the Christmas stocking committee which included Mrs. Albert Sommer, Mrs. Milton Mery and Miss Grace DePue.

Participating churches included: Pocono Lake: Salem United Church of Christ and Methodist Church; Mount Pocono, Methodist Church; Tannersville, Methodist Church and Grace United Church of Christ; Poplar Valley and Cherry Valley Methodist Churches also contributed.

Stroudsburg churches taking part were the Zion United Church of Christ, Christ Episcopal, Presbyterian, Methodist, Seventh Day Adventist and St. John's Lutheran.

East Stroudsburg: Grace Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian and the Home League of the Salvation Army.

Also contributing were the Shawnee Presbyterian Church; the Delaware Water Gap Presbyterian and Methodist Churches and the Middle Smithfield Presbyterian.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

ROUND AND ABOUT WYCKOFF'S—

With Christmas three weeks away, it is natural that the humor overheard in our employees' lounge is "straight from the cob". Everyone is weary and slap happy. A dozen times a day someone is sure to demand, "D'ya know a good gift suggestion for the man who has everything?" A dozen times a day someone is sure to bite—and all of us, anxious to laugh at something, chuckle at the answer: "A box to put it in". As I said before, we're all a bit weary and we'll be more so before Christmas eve *** but we're thrilled that this is true. It would be a sad state of affairs if we weren't busy, wouldn't it? ... Among the most genial of the Christmas shoppers visiting our store Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Haven Shaffer of Nazareth. Mrs. Shaffer tells me they recently purchased a new radio for her kitchen so she can continue listening to The Wyckoff Shopper program every morning. "You didn't know you helped clean the upstairs last week, did you?" she chuckled. I said no, but I was happy we did it before the holidays. Now if we could only do MY house, things would be perfect. ... Hannah Shupp feels I should mention some of the interesting new merchandise in our Gift department: the brassware from India, for instance, with its etched design and precious "look of gold". There are vases that appear very impressive, for less than four dollars, and ash trays for as little as 39c. And have you seen all the elephants and horses, that look as old as Methuselah and are really museum pieces? For the Top Brass on your list, why not an art object of brass this year? Or why not onyx bookends, or a very beautiful piece of cut glass from Germany? Our International Gift Center has literally burst its seams with the unusual. ... I have been talking on the air about chess sets for men, women or children who are devotees of the game. Chess is Greek to me. My mind can't cope with queens, and knights, and kings, and such, all moving in different directions. My son plays, and would love to own a set of handcarved ivory chessmen. We sell them boxed in velvet—real works of art. These are way beyond my pocketbook, but there are others of alabaster and inlaid or enameled woods that are charming. You'll see some in our front window, but do come inside for closer observation. ... Near the center aisle cash register there is a table arranged with Swank accessories for the men. There are covered jewel boxes, trays with compartments for all the items men carry in their pockets (one has a clothes brush that forms the front of a penguin, standing upright on the tray) and the Valet-er, which is box-like without lid. One style is black lined with red, another is black with orange, a third is brown with tan, and a fourth combines black and olive. Older, more conservative men, favor the covered boxes I notice, but the teen-age crowd goes for the Valet-er, priced at 3.95. ... Hannah Shupp also tells me to suggest big wooden, brass-headed buckets for your Christmas poinsettia plants or tree. These buckets vary in size, and are priced from 5.00 to 13.00. ... Have you purchased your Christmas fruit cake as yet? I notice our Candy department is once again stocking the Crosse & Blackwell cake which I personally consider the finest on the market; also some of the most delicious looking fruit cake miniatures I've ever seen. The Mrs. Carter miniatures, in their neat fluted cups, are just right for serving guests. After all, fruit cake is rich and we women are calorie counters. We also have some mighty appetizing looking cheese wedges, imported sardines, and other delicacies in attractive boxes, baskets, or trays. These can be expensive or inexpensive, as one wishes and are just the gift for a gourmand. ... I could go on like this for pages, but "covering Wyckoff's" is a full time, go-by-foot job if one is to see everything. Why don't you make the Grand Tour today—or tonight until nine?

LAUREL MANOR OPENINGS

The other day, enroute to Hamburg, I noticed that building is under way at Laurel Manor, our very lovely home for aging citizens on West Main street. Now, I understand, there are three vacancies. Should you know of someone interested in residing there, contact me and I'll see that you receive an application form.

Marines Set Sights On Women

GUNNERY Sergeant A. John Dattilo, the Marine recruiter for Stroudsburg area, announced that Marine Corps careers and opportunities are far from being slanted toward men only.

"Quite to the contrary, career and vocational opportunities for women in today's modern Marine Corps are virtually unlimited. There was a time when people thought of a Marine as a foot soldier with packs and rifles.

"True enough, there is, and will always be the need for infantrymen in the Marine Corps, for the individual Marine with his rifle is still the finest weapon ever conceived," he continued.

"But today we have reached an age of technical advancement where it takes more than mere physical strength and agility to maintain our winning team. Today's Marine not only possesses the physical characteristics that have marked him as outstanding in the past, but he is mentally agile, as well."

"In our modern form of readiness, we have young men and women working side by side in nearly all technical fields... fields such as electronics, data processing, aircraft control, aerology and communications."

Qualified
"In spite of the fine men and women we have in the Marine Corps," Sgt. Dattilo continued, "there will always be a need for more qualified young men and women."

"At the present time, we have several advantageous programs available to men and women interested in becoming part of the Marine Corps. One program that applies to men and women is the 120-Day Delay program," he concluded.

"This program enables an applicant to join the Marine Corps but remain at home for a period up to 120 days and to choose his or her date for reporting to active duty."

Other advantages to this program is the fact that the new less tobacco common stock which I owned outright and put them up as collateral, so that I could buy 1,500 more shares, at $28.50 a share. The broker charged me five percent interest on the money I borrowed through him, in order to buy the 1,500 additional shares. The dividends paid on those shares more than pay that interest charge.

I am speculating that the market value of this stock will rise. What's wrong with that?

A. Nothing — as long as you realize that it's a straight speculation. And that's simply another word for gamble. When you buy on margin, you gamble. That's all there is to it.

If the market value of American Tobacco common stock rises, you'll be a winner. If it falls, you'll be a big loser.

You happen to have a stock on which the dividend (now at the rate of $1.50 a share a year) is more than sufficient to pay the interest charges on your borrowing.

Many people buy stocks with lower dividend yields when they deal on margin. As a result, there is a steady drain on their account from interest charges.

You mention that the broker is charging you five percent interest on your borrowing. That's low these days. Many (perhaps most) brokers charge about six percent. Either you have found a friendly broker or are a damned good customer.

"I'm going to kill myself," the girl told Mrs. Fay Weathered, night chief telephone operator, after dialing "Operator" from her home.

Mrs. Weathered said she realized her task was to learn the name and address before the girl slumped into unconsciousness or the call could not be traced.

She talked to the girl 1½ hours and finally obtained sufficient information to send police and an ambulance to her home.

When police arrived, they found the girl near death. The telephone receiver was next to her ear. Mrs. Weathered was still talking.

At Methodist Hospital, attendants pumped the girl's stomach. She was released later in good condition.

Marine, while awaiting his reporting date, accrues longevity for pay and promotion purposes, in effect giving him an automatic pay raise upon reporting for training, should he choose to take the full 120 days delay.

Also available are the "buddy program," where two or more friends may enlist and be guaranteed training in the same platoon and the aviation program.

In the latter, an applicant, if qualified, may be guaranteed in writing, assignment to the aviation field in the Marine Corps.

Actually, at the price at which you bought those 1,500 additional shares, you're risk is reasonably well reduced. That stock sold as high as $55.75 a share late in 1961, came way down when stock prices in general went into a nosedive, and dipped even more as the result of the latest "cancer scare."

Like other big tobacco companies, this one has weathered reports allegedly linking cigarette smoking to cancer before — to post higher sales and earnings.

American Tobacco common stock is considered a reasonable long-range investment and/or speculation.

It was noted that police feel that there should be one police officer for each 1,000 population. Buncer currently has three full-time policemen and according to this ratio should have six. Miles Heller, chairman of the safety committee reported that the new police car had been placed in operation on Nov. 15 and Earl Menhennitt and Milton Frey were named officials under civilian defense.

Sewer Fund
Approval was given by council to pay $20,000 from the earned income tax to the borough sewer fund in order that the payment of $58,000 could be made according to plan on Dec. 15.

This money had been owed to the sewer account and had been previously budgeted for that purpose by the council. Final passage was also made on several ordinances revising the parking regulations and limiting truck traffic in certain sections of the borough, on designated streets.

Henry Thomas of the sewer committee reported that receipts of $7,332.23 were received during the past month. Expenditures were $691.63.

The report also showed that 1470 connecting permits had been issued; that $38,450 had been collected for 1,969 units and that 1,177 units had been connected to the system to date.

In an effort to protect the borough employees, council took steps to secure unemployment compensation for all borough employees. It was noted that employees now have unemployment insurance but the other protection had never been established for local workers.

Henry Thomas of the committee on sewers also noted that Samuel Becker, sewer plant operator who has been confined to his home with illness will return to his duties within the next several days.

Bangor Council Re-enacts Earned Income Ordinance

BANGOR — Bangor residents will again face an earned income tax this year.

Bangor Borough Council, at its recent meeting, re-enacted the ordinance declaring a tax of one percent on all earned income, a tax it shares with the Bangor Borough School District.

The council also passed a second ordinance establishing again the $5 per capita tax.

Council also authorized that the initial steps be taken to acquire the portions of the Old Blake Estate on Pennsylvania Ave. that it needs to re-align the streets in the Fourth Ward area of the borough.

In view of the recent wave of robberies in the borough a long discussion was held by council on the matter of improving and increasing the amount of police protection presently available in the borough.

It was noted that police feel that there should be one police officer for each 1,000 population. Buncer currently has three full-time policemen and according to this ratio should have six. Miles Heller, chairman of the safety committee reported that the new police car had been placed in operation on Nov. 15 and Earl Menhennitt and Milton Frey were named officials under civilian defense.

that minor repairs had been made to the library building and that painting and some repairs were being made to the municipal building.

After some discussion, council authorized that bids should be requested to place a new heating system in the Bee Hive (Youth Center) Building as soon as possible.

Warwick In Charge
Walter Warwick, president, had charge of the meeting and John Cascioli of the street committee gave a routine report. Leonard Grupp, of the sidewalk and lighting committee reported that most residences of South Main Street are making an effort to pay the borough for repairs made to their sidewalks.

Numerous residents of the borough have informed councilmen that they have been unable to secure contractors to place new sidewalks following sewer construction. In an effort to assist property owners whose sidewalks have been rebuilt by the borough, council agreed to accept payments on an installment basis.

Each case will be individually treated by the sidewalk committee with the approval of council. Grupp reported that his committee would tour the borough in the near future to study points where street lighting might be improved. Bills totaling approximately $20,000 were approved for payment.

Mayor Quintus LaBar reported receipts of $84.32 from the following sources: licenses $35; fines $37.30; building and digging permits, $8.25 and parking meters, $73.77. The following balances were noted in the borough accounts: general fund, $14,811.97 and state highway aid fund, $12,717.55.

Housing Order To Be Broadened
WASHINGTON (AP) — Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver indicated yesterday that President Kennedy's order banning discrimination in federally financed housing may be broadened to include conventional financing.

Weaver's comment came at a news conference spelling out regulations for enforcement of the order on new projects by the public housing, urban renewal and community facilities administrations.

At present the anti-discrimination order is restricted to private homes financed by the federal housing and veterans administration — about 15 to 20 per cent of the total.

Conventional financing is the term the housing industry uses to refer to mortgages obtained through banks and similar institutions without government assistance or insurance.

Dismiss Petition Of Racketeer

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals dismissed a petition by former racketeer Frank Costello for a review of his deportation order.

The 71-year-old Costello is expected to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The appeals court yesterday upheld the government's contention that Costello, in his 1951 conviction for income tax evasion, had been found guilty of a crime of moral turpitude and therefore was deportable.

Families Expect To Return Home
WASHINGTON (AP) — The wives and children of Navy men, evacuated from Guantanamo Bay naval base at the outset of the Cuban crisis will be returning soon, informed sources said yesterday. An announcement is expected soon from the Navy—possibly Wednesday.

More than 2,800 dependents were evacuated by ship and plane Dec. 22, just before President Kennedy imposed an arms blockade on Cuba because of the presence of missiles threatening the United States.

The Navy families had only the briefest notice of the evacuation and many left with little more than the clothes they were wearing or the few belongings they could pack.

Warriors Romp To 69-51 Hoop Victory

EAST STROUDSBURG State College's basketball team last night romped to an easy 69-51 triumph over an outclassed Cheyney club on the ESSC court behind the steady shooting of John Murphy and Burt Reese.

Reese put the Warriors ahead with a free throw, followed by a driving layup for a 3-0 lead which was never relinquished. Cheyney trailed by a 20-point margin throughout most of the contest.

It marked the Warriors first court success of the year, after having dropped their opening game of the season to Montclair State last Saturday night.

For the Cheyney Wolves of Coach William O'Sheilds, it marked their cage debut of the 1962-63 season.

Only Owen Smyre kept the game fairly respectable as he dumped in 20 points on nine field goals and two free throws to lead both clubs in scoring. Murphy, meanwhile, tallied 18 for the Warriors of Coach M. Hochheiser to lead his club for the second straight time. He notched 27 in the opener against Montclair. Reese was the only player on either team to reach double figures with a 13-point output.

Neither team sparkled at the foul line, with ESSC hitting on 13 of 27, while Cheyney sunk 11 of 18.

At the start of the contest, Howie Best of Cheyney connected on a nifty pair of one-handers from the corner to bring the score to 5-4 before the Warriors opened up a gap of 11-4 as Will Pfeiffer hit on a one-hand pop from in front and Murphy added a brace of field goals with a one-hand pump from the side and a layup after driving the entire length of the court.

Widen Margin

East Stroudsburg went on another spree eight straight points with Murphy and Reese accounting for all the goals to widen the spread to 21-8.

After Cheyney hit double figures for a 21-10 count, Murphy combined with Jack Jones for another eight-point spurt and a 29-10 bulge which, to all intents and purposes, had put the game out of reach.

The Warriors built up a 39-20 halftime lead, midway through the second half, upped the margin by 24 points when John Ferguson dumped in a two-pointer for a lead of 56-32—the biggest lead of the evening.

Hochheiser substituted freely throughout the rest of the game.

Pius X Loses In Opener At Home

ROSETO—Al DeRenzis poured in 20 points for the Royals of Pius X here last night, but it was all in vain as a strong Summit Hill combine outplayed Pius X to spoil their hoop debut, 61-40.

Wally Wahodes and Joe Perilli combined for a 29-point production between them, while teammate Leo Leonzi added 11 to overshadow the fine exhibition put on by the losers' DeRenzis.

Wahodes was top scorer for his club with 15, while Perilli hit the cords for a total of 14.

Coach John Thomas' Pius X quartet held the stronger and sharper-shooting Summit Hill club on even terms throughout the first period before the visitors put on a second-quarter blitz to take complete command of the ball game.

Summit Hill outscored the Royals by a 20-8 margin in that second canzo for a halftime lead of 33-20, and it was all over after that.

The visitors poured in 16 more points in the third session while holding the Pius X squad to 10 for a 49-30 advantage entering the final stanza.

Only Four Score

Only four Pius X players got into the scoring act, and only DeRenzis hit double figures. Steve Zengala and Frank Godino tallied eight for the losers, while Frank Bartoli tossed in four to complete the scoring for the Royals.

On the foul line, Pius X connected on 12 of 21, while Summit Hill dumped in 15 of 23. Summit Hill outscored the Royals in field goals by a margin of 23 to 11.

Besides DeRenzis, Zengala and Godino were the only players to hit from the floor for the Royals. Bartoli's four points all came from the foul marker. And DeRenzis was the only other Royal to hit from the free throw line, totaling eight of 11.

Syracuse Meets UCLA Saturday

SYRACUSE, N.Y.—A pair of unpredictable football teams will lock heads in Los Angeles on Saturday afternoon, when Syracuse and UCLA do battle before the NCAA-CBS television cameras.

The Orangemen, who downed UCLA 36-8 in 1959 in their only previous meeting, had good days against Penn State and Navy, two of the East's better ball clubs.

UCLA upset powerful Ohio State and gave arch-rival Southern Cal, the Rose Bowl host team, a stiff battle.

With rookie quarterback Walley Mahle having a brilliant afternoon, Syracuse spotted Gator Bowl entrant Penn State a quick 14 points, then dominated most of the remainder of the game. The Lions rallied for a 20-19 triumph.

Rushed Staubach

Against Navy, Syracuse rushed Middle quarterback Roger Staubach with abandon and halfback John Mackey's two long touchdowns runs led the Orange to a one-sided 34-6 victory.

UCLA, which features one of the nation's top backs in Kermit Alexander, opened its season by surprising Ohio State 9-7.

Orange coach Ben Schwartzwalder feels that Alexander, a 187-pound senior, will be one of the best backs to go against the Orange this season.

"He's a strong boy," Schwartzwalder said, "and he can run the 150 in 9.8. That's the kind of athlete you like to have on your side."

Schwartzwalder pointed out that Alexander is not the only "speed boy" the Bruins will toss at the Orange. "They've got a stable full of fast ones," said Ben, "and they'll run us from one side line to the other, if we let them."

Cubs' Hubbs Named NL '62 Rookie

BOSTON (AP)—Ken Hubbs of the Chicago Cubs, the slick-fielding second baseman who set two major league records last season, was named the National League rookie of the year Wednesday.

Hubbs, who will be 21 years old Dec. 23, gathered 19 of the 20 votes cast in the poll conducted by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Don Clendenen, who forced slugging Dick Stuart off first base for the Pittsburgh Pirates, attracted the remaining ballot.

Hubbs had only one year in professional baseball before joining the Cubs this year. He played in the Class B Northwestern League before stepping up to the majors.

He played 78 consecutive games batted 260 but it was his work with the glove that set the National League ago.

He played 78 consecutive games without an error, erasing the major league record of 72 set by Bobby Doerr of the Boston Red Sox in 1948.

And his 418 chances accepted without a bobbie, going four better than the 411 Doerr handled in 1948.

The voting outcome marked the second straight year the honor went to the Chicago Cubs. Outfielder Billy Williams was the baseball writers' choice in 1961.

New Players Keep Coming To Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators acquired infielder Marv Breeding, outfielder Barry Shetrone and pitcher Art Quirk from Baltimore Wednesday in a swap for pitcher Pete Burnside and infielder Bob Johnson.

This raises to 10 the number of new players acquired by the Senators in the past week. Last week they purchased six players in draft sessions for $73,000 and picked up first baseman Rogelio Alvarez from Cincinnati.

General Manager George Selkirk plans to put Breeding at either shortstop or third base. Shetrone is viewed as adding badly-needed left-handed hitting to the Washington club.

Don Clendenen, who forced slugging Dick Stuart off first base for the Pittsburgh Pirates, attracted the remaining ballot.

Cincy's Bearcats Best In Country

Cincinnati's veteran - studded Bearcats, picking up where they left off last season when they captured their second straight NCAA basketball title, were nearly an unanimous pick Wednesday as the nation's top college cage team.

In The Associated Press first weekly poll of the season, a panel of sports writers and sportscasters gave the Bearcats 38 of the 41 votes cast. Only three other teams received top billing. Duke got three first place votes, West Virginia two and Texas one.

Duke Second

Cincinnati, which polished off its first two opponents with ease, accumulated 429 points, over 100 more than its closest pursuer. Duke's Blue Devils edged out the Mountaineers of West Virginia for second place, 307 points to 281.

Oddly enough, only one of the top ten teams in the AP pre-season poll, fell out of the elite group although Kentucky dropped all the way down from third to ninth because of its opening season home defeat by unheralded Virginia Tech. St. Bonaventure, a perennial cage power, was the team which was unceremoniously dumped from the top ten. The Bonnies were beaten by Southern Illinois in one of the most startling upsets of the infant season.

Top Ten

The top ten, based on total points allotted 10 points for a first place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third down to 1 for a tenth place vote. First place votes in parentheses:

Cincinnati (38)	429
Duke (3)	307
West Virginia (2)	281
Loyola Chicago	210
Mississippi State	160
Wisconsin	140
Oregon State	136
Indiana	125
Kentucky	118

Undecided About Pros

Baker Picks Up Heisman Trophy

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Terry Baker, the Oregon State quarterback named the outstanding player in college football, picked up the Heisman Trophy—with both hands—Wednesday.

Then he said that he hadn't yet made up his mind about a pro football career, but indicated that he would play. He added that he would be lucky to get in more than one day of practice with his team before the Liberty Bowl game against Villanova in Philadelphia Dec. 15.

Baker, a left-handed passer who punts right-footed, throws a baseball with his right hand and shoots a basketball with both, received the trophy at a dinner at the Downtown Athletic Club which selects the winner.

Natural Lefty

"I consider myself a natural left-hander," Baker said before the dinner. "I pitch baseball right."

Sentence Two In Fix Of Cage Games

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Prison terms of five years each and fines totaling $30,000 were handed out Wednesday to two men convicted here of bribing players to shave points in college basketball games.

Superior Court Judge Herman Clark ordered the prison terms for Dave Goldberg, 46, and Steve Leikomets, 36, both of St. Louis, Mo.

Lawyers for the two said they will appeal to the North Carolina Supreme Court. They were released under bond pending the appeal.

Find Him Guilty

A jury in Wake County Superior Court deliberated only two hours Tuesday before it returned with a verdict finding Goldberg guilty of 18 counts of bribery or conspiring to bribe North Carolina State college players to shave points in eight basketball games played between December, 1959, and January, 1961.

The jury's verdict ended a 10-day trial during which five other men, who have pleaded either guilty or nolo contendere (no contest) to fixing charges, testified for the state.

These five are scheduled to be sentenced Thursday. They are Aaron Wagman and Joseph Greene, Paul Walker, Michael Siegel and Louis Barschak, all of New York.

Four N.C. State college players — Don Gallagher, Stan Niewierowski, Anton Muchbauer and Terry Litchfield — also testified. They have not been charged, although they admitted being in on the game fixes.

During his many years as a sports editor in Atlanta he supervised many newsmen who later became widely known. They included Constitution publisher Ralph McGill, who succeeded Danforth as sports editor of the Constitution in 1932; Harold H. Martin, Constitution columnist and associate editor of the Saturday Evening Post; Henry McElmore, columnist; the late O. B. Keeler, famed as golfer Bobby Jones' Boswell; and many others.

Danforth is survived by the widow and two daughters.

Offer New Arena For Pat-Liston

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The city of Long Beach formally offered its new arena Wednesday for the proposed Sonny Liston-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title rematch.

The City Council, in telegrams to both camps, noted that the arena can seat more than 15,000 and is near national television-radio and transportation facilities.

There will be No Trespassing — No Doe Hunting — on McMichaels Hunting Club Grounds

The area will be patrolled by Monroe County Police Reserve. Trespassers will be prosecuted.

Time Short For Pitt's Fullback

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Time is running out for John Henry Johnson in his bid to overtake Green Bay's Jim Taylor for the National Football League's individual rushing honors, but the big Pittsburgh fullback has not given up trying.

Johnson, who was supposed to play second fiddle to rookie Bob Ferguson at the start of the season, gained 98 yards against St. Louis last Sunday to gain some ground but Taylor still leads with two weeks to go, 1,239 yards to Johnson's 1,016.

Although held to only 61 yards, Taylor rushed over for two touchdowns against Los Angeles and took over the scoring lead with 102 points, based on 17 touchdowns. He was tied with Jimmy Brown of Cleveland last week at 90 points each.

Bert Starr, Green Bay's quarterback, ousted Eddie LeBrone as the passing leader with a brilliant aerial display against the Rams. Starr completed 13 of 20 passes to move into first place with 152 completions in 235 attempts, good for 2,103 yards and a 61.7 average.

Mexicans Make Sweep Of India

MADRAS, India (AP)—The surprising Mexican Davis Cup team completed a 5-0 sweep of India Wednesday by winning the two final singles matches, and prepared to leave for Australia to challenge for the big international tennis trophy at Brisbane Dec. 26-28.

A Mexican victory in the doubles Tuesday clinched the interzone victory over India, sending Mexico into the challenge round for the first time ever.

With rookie quarterback Walley Mahle having a brilliant afternoon, Syracuse spotted Gator Bowl en-

Rushed Staubach

Against Navy, Syracuse rushed Middle quarterback Roger Staubach with abandon and halfback John Mackey's two long touchdowns runs led the Orange to a one-sided 34-6 victory.

UCLA, which features one of the nation's top backs in Kermit Alexander, opened its season by surprising Ohio State 9-7.

Orange coach Ben Schwartzwalder feels that Alexander, a 187-pound senior, will be one of the best backs to go against the Orange this season.

"He's a strong boy," Schwartzwalder said, "and he can run the 150 in 9.8. That's the kind of athlete you like to have on your side."

Schwartzwalder pointed out that Alexander is not the only "speed boy" the Bruins will toss at the Orange. "They've got a stable full of fast ones," said Ben, "and they'll run us from one side line to the other, if we let them."

Cubs' Hubbs Named NL '62 Rookie

BOSTON (AP)—Ken Hubbs of the Chicago Cubs, the slick-fielding second baseman who set two major league records last season, was named the National League rookie of the year Wednesday.

Hubbs, who will be 21 years old Dec. 23, gathered 19 of the 20 votes cast in the poll conducted by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Don Clendenen, who forced slugging Dick Stuart off first base for the Pittsburgh Pirates, attracted the remaining ballot.

Ex-Yankee Is Jailed For Bribery

MADERA, Calif. (AP) — Monte Pearson, onetime pitching star for the New York Yankees and the Cleveland Indians, was sentenced Wednesday to eight months in the Madera County Jail on a bribery conviction.

Pearson, now 54, was the county's chief sanitarian for nine years.

The Bethlehem resident said the affair will start at 6:30 p.m. in the Lehigh Valley Club, Allentown, and because of the size of the facilities the tickets will be limited.

Dr. William Unangst, Bethlehem, again will have charge of the awards and will be assisted by Joseph Hospodar.

Joseph Federico, Allentown, will be program chairman.

James Flowers, Allentown, will have charge of the decorations and seating.

Edward Charles, Allentown, will be coordinator and head of the host committee.

Milton Greenberg and A. W. Chenoweth, both of Bethlehem, will have charge of tickets.

John M. Quigg is honorary chairman and Lawrence Rosati, secretary. Both are of Bethlehem.

S. Parnell Lewis will be publicity director.

Sears, Naulls Go For Gola

NEW YORK (AP)—The floundering New York Knicks picked up Tom Gola, an old Madison Square Garden favorite, Wednesday in a trade with the San Francisco Warriors. The New Yorkers gave Kenny Sears and Willie Naulls in exchange.

The Knicks, in the NBA Eastern Division cellar 12 games out of first place, hope to get scoring punch, hustle, defense and crowd appeal from the veteran Gola.

Gola, who lives in Philadelphia where the Warriors played before their shift to San Francisco this season, was named the most valuable player in three Garden tournaments during his 1952-54 college days at LaSalle.

BILLY Bruton hit 17 home runs for Detroit in 1961, exceeding by five his previous high with Milwaukee.

Banquet Set For Jan. 28 In Allentown

GUST C. Zarnas, president of the Lehigh Valley Chapter, National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, yesterday announced the organization's third annual scholar-athlete banquet will be held Monday, Jan. 28, 1963.

The Bethlehem resident said the affair will start at 6:30 p.m. in the Lehigh Valley Club, Allentown, and because of the size of the facilities the tickets will be limited.

Sutherland Gets Pact Renewal

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Football Coach Jim Sutherland's contract was renewed for two years Wednesday by the Washington State University Board of Regents.

Sutherland's present three-year contract would have run out Feb. 1. He now makes $17,500 a year, but school officials said his salary under the renewal would be decided next spring.

Hubbs had only one year in professional baseball before joining the Cubs this year. He played in the Class B Northwestern League before stepping up to the majors.

He played 78 consecutive games batted 260 but it was his work with the glove that set the National League ago.

LINEBACKER DE LUXE! - - By Alan Maver

White Wows Crowd

NEW YORK (AP) — Touch football, often called the sport of the New Frontier, was thrust suddenly into the fore of the National Football Foundation's annual Hall of Fame festivities by no less a personality than Byron (Whizzer) White, associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Justice White, a former All-American at the University of Colorado and later a professional star halfback with Pittsburgh and Detroit, received the foundation's Gold Medal Award for outstanding contribution to football Tuesday night.

Charles Thorne

While tracing the history of football from ancient times until the present, Justice White suddenly changed his theme.

"Then came a major development — the game of touch football was popularized by a family in Massachusetts," he said.

"The crowd of more than 1,500 including President Kennedy's brothers, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Massachusetts Senator-elect Edward M. Kennedy, broke into laughter.

"The rules of the game are vague," continued Justice White and again the crowd laughed.

"The season begins in September on the banks of the Potomac and continues till May. Training is done on the sandy beaches of New England with the stipulation that the sand cannot be more than six inches in depth.

Fans Barred

"I have never seen it because spectators are barred," he added, as the crowd roared again.

"But they say that even women are allowed to play.

"However, we will continue to watch developments of this game for some time to come."

Justice White, who was President Kennedy's first appointee to the Supreme Court, spoke out against the critics of football for demeaning the sport because of injuries.

"No game can carry on without accompanying dangers," he said.

Justice White also spoke out against "commercialization" and an uncontrolled "will to win."

Twelve new members were inducted into football's Hall of Fame. They were Benny Boynton, Williams, 1917-1919, 1920; Guy Chamberlain, Nebraska, 1913-1915; Dan Hill Jr., Duke, 1936-38; Cal Hubbard, Centenary 1922-24 and Geneva, 1926; Phil King, Princeton, 1890-93; John McEwan, Army, 1913-16; John Minder, Penn., 1894-97; Pat O'Dea, Wisconsin, 1897-99; Joseph Routh, Texas A&M, 1935-37; William Spears, Vanderbilt, 1925-27; Andrew Wyatt, Bucknell, 1888-91; Chicago 1892-94; and Tuss McLaughry, coach at Westminster, Amherst, Brown and Dartmouth, 1916-1934.

NOT ONE FUMBLE

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Sophomore fullback Rick Leeson of Pitt ran the ball 103 times last football season without fumbling. He lost only two yards rushing. He had a total of 454 yards gained, the most for a Pitt sophomore since 1937.

Alabama's Jordan Lineman Of Week

By PHIL ORAMOUS

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—The soil plays a big part in the life of Lee Roy Jordan of Alabama, who was named The Associated Press Lineman of the week Wednesday for the second time this season.

On the football field he spends much of his time on the soil—usually on top of an opposing ball carrier. The soil has a role in his future too, since he intends to play professional football for a while, then buy a farm.

"One Of Greatest"

When he first learned of his selection, the rugged center-linebacker hesitated before saying, "This is one of the greatest things that ever happened to me."

Jordan, a 6-foot, 208-pounder, was a first round draft choice of Dallas of the National Football League and a second round pick of the American League's Boston entry.

"Yes," he said, "I intend to play pro football, but I'm undecided as to which league I'll play in. They haven't talked to me yet—just drafted me."

Wants Ranch

"I think four or five years in the pro game is enough," Jordan said. "After that I intend to get a farm of my own. I really want a cattle ranch."

The farm boy from Excel, Ala., was chosen lineman of the week over Navy guard Vern Von Sydow and tackle Larry Graham, who drew praise for their performances in the Mideast's 31-14 victory over Army Saturday.

Jordan's first selection as the nation's top lineman came after Alabama whipped Mississippi State 20-0 Nov. 3.

Yanks Relying On Tresh, Pepitone

By FRANK ECK

AP Newsmasters Sports Editor

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Tom Tresh, baseball's rookie of the year, wasn't within 400 miles of the annual minor league meetings, yet he is one of the reasons behind Yankees' big deal which sent first baseman Moose Skowron to the Los Angeles Dodgers for pitcher Stan Williams.

The other reason is Joe Pepitone, a young first baseman.

The bats of Tresh and Pepitone, the Yankees figure, will make up for the loss of Skowron's 23 homers and 80 runs batted in last season.

"We needed a starting right-handed pitcher and the Dodgers needed a strong right-handed hitter," says Manager Ralph Houk of the champions. The deal wasn't that simple.

The Yankees usually are certain about their deals. Seldom does one backfire. They are taking a chance on Williams and they realize it.

Williams forced home the winning run with a walk when the bases were loaded in the final National League playoff game. Even the Dodgers admit he wasn't throwing as hard as he did last spring.

Williams, 26, had a 14-12 record but completed only four of his 28 starts. He walked 98 in 186 innings, had seven wild pitches and three balks. Those statistics point to weakness.

However, the Yankees feel he will do better with their heavier hitting club, and their stronger defense.

On the other side, the Yankees feel they will have a stronger attack in 1963. Tresh came of age as a third place hitter late last season. Now Pepitone is expected to drive in his share of runs and hit into less double plays than did the Moose.

Pep's fielding and throwing arm also give him a plus rating over Skowron. The Yankees could have dealt Skowron last June but at the time they weren't sure about Pepitone. And Tresh was the shortstop and leadoff hitter while Tony Kubek was in the Army. Tresh later proved himself in left field, and with the bat.

Houk regards Tresh as "another Al Kaline" and a sure-handed left fielder. Left field had been a spot once shared by Hector Lopez and Yogi Berra. They are now free for other duties. Berra to pinch hit and catch some 50 games and Lopez to learn another new position.

In the spring, Houk will have Lopez working out at first base as a backup man for Pepitone. However, Houk is sure Pep can hit left-handed pitchers almost as well as right handers.

"I'll just bet Lopez can play first base," says Houk. "After all, Tresh had never played left field.

As to the Dodgers, they left the winter meetings with a shortage of pitchers. Until Sandy Koufax proves that the numb index finger on his (left) pitching hand is 100 percent, Dodger pitching cannot match that of the San Francisco Giants.

The Dodgers already are talking about platooning Skowron at first base with Ron Fairly. They may have to because Moose is prone to injury.

But the kiddies had better be dressed for the weather . . . and Wyckoff's has some of the warmest, most wonderful snowsuits around. We're especially proud of our Gardner snowsuits, which we think are the finest made.

From the left: Orlon-pile lined by Gardner, quilted jacket with hood, 3-7, 25.00. Gay suit for a girl, fly-away tassel on pert hood . . . 3x6X, 10.98. Soft, white acrilan pile jacket atop gap pants . . . 2-4, 11.98. For toddler 2-4, pretty plaid three-piece snowsuit . . . insulated for 11.98. Pile lined suit for boy by Gardner, washable . . . 3x6X, 19.98. Just a sampling of our many, many suits . . . we have more, and colors galore.

THE SICK OYSTER WHICH
J. A. SHEED

Pen Argyl Sewage Charges At School, Plant Fixed

PEN ARGYL—Sewage charges for the Pen Argyl Area Joint High School and the Collins & Aikman Corp. were fixed this week by Pen Argyl Borough Council.

The school district will be charged $150 per pupil and per month per quarter for nine months of each year, and Collins & Aikman will be charged $150 per employee for each quarter.

In Other Business
Fire Chief William Savoreo reported the fire company washed down the highway after an accident in the borough and a wood fire in a home during the month.

Robert Van Horn, representative of the Stevens Equipment Co. of Harrisburg, submitted a quotation for a cinder spreader. The bid was turned over to the street committee for further action.

David Pritchard, borough engineer, reported on the road conditions and grades on the Pennsylvania Ave. road project. A motion was made that the street committee, the borough engineer and the state engineer be given permission to act on the intersection problems.

Pritchard also discussed the Collins & Aikman Corp. water problem which is currently under study.

Borough employees asked for increases in their pay for 1963, and requested that they be paid weekly instead of bi-weekly as at present.

A letter from James R. Charron, for the Pen Argyl Area Joint School Board, requested that blacktop be put in from the existing blacktop to the curbs on Plainfield Ave. to protect the school property.

Insurance was taken out at a value of $485,069 for the buildings and $10,000 for the contents of the building.

CD Drill
Civil Defense Director Harry Bosold, reporting on the recent Civil Defense drill in the Pen Argyl schools, said every child taking part in the exercise was home within eight minutes.

The park board was given permission to sign licenses with the federal government to stock and maintain the Civil Defense shelter area in the bathhouse of the Weona Park pool.

Permission was given to the sewer committee to use borough employees to install collars on the manholes in the borough to bring them to the proper level. There were 22 new connections to the sewage system during November, bringing the total to 636 connections.

account, and $1,416.75 in the sewer connection account as of Dec. 3 were reported.

An ordinance concerning the vacating of Laurel Ave. between Walter and Albion Avenues for the purpose of turning this section of the street over to the Pen Argyl Area Joint High School Authority was passed.

Two snow tires were reported purchased for the police car. It was reported that the new well at the Weona Park is pumping at a rate of 22 to 26 gallons per minute and that the pool is just about full. As soon as weather permits the ice skating area will be flooded.

Jail "Good Plus"
The jail was inspected by the state and reported to be in "good plus" condition.

A "Dead End" sign will be placed at the corner of Heller and Plainfield Avenues.

Roseto Adopts Portland Re-enactment Of Pay Tax

ROSETO — The Roseto Borough Council last night adopted an ordinance for re-enactment of the wage income tax for 1963 and agreed that the overnight parking on Garibaldi and Roseto avenues and Columbus and Dewey streets be strictly enforced from now on. It also was agreed to have one side parking only on Dante Street in a designated area on trial basis. Harvey Gruver, new Civil Defense director, gave a report. The budget committee of which Daniel Crufa is chairman, will meet next week to set up the 1963 budget.

Matthew Sabatine, chairman of property committee reported repairs to the furnace had been completed Saturday. The board of health report was given by Pasquale Casciano. The checking of four sewerage conditions were reported. Council decided that hereafter all complaints must be registered to council, which in turn will notify the health board to investigate.

Good Jail Rating
The Bureau of Corrections, reported that Roseto jail had received a good rating at its recent inspection.

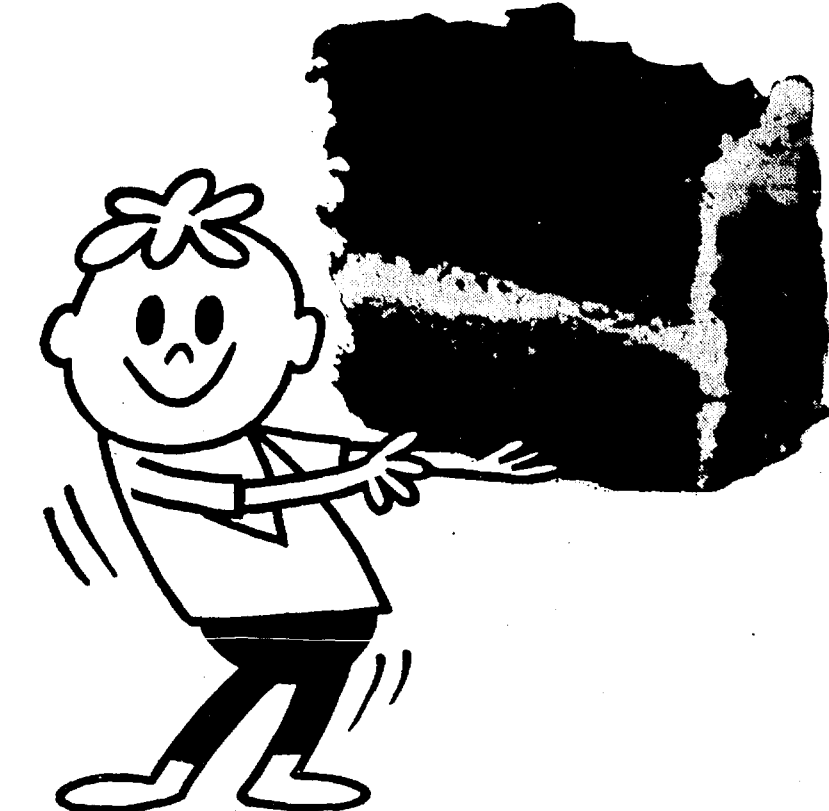

Robert Perin of Slate Spring Farm appeared concerning the collection of garbage. He said he could not bid as there were no specifications. A bid was also received for collection of garbage from the Evans Sanitation Division, Washington, N. J. The solicitor, law committee and members of council will set up specifications for the collection and will forward them to the two concerned.

A bonus was voted to the police force and fire chief. Mayor George Giugliano reported $76.50 in fines, permits and licenses and collection of $160, towards the Christmas light fund. The lights will be turned on Saturday.

Supervisor Louis Casciano reported 92½ hours for November. The report of treasurer Matthew Giovannini listed balances of $4,356.31, 1964 bond sinking fund; $431.19, police pension fund; $189.92, Christmas light fund; $292.78, motor fuel fund and $565.69, general fund. Tax receipts from Michael Filings were $21 for per capita tax and $16.38 real estate. A total of $2,081.65 was received from Benheimer Associates for earned wage tax.

Council urged citizens to avail themselves of the research program by Dr. Stewart Wolf and his team from the University of Oklahoma this week and the chest X-ray and Diabetic tests tomorrow by the Northampton County Tuberculosis and Health Society.

A postage stamp, "The Black Honchos," was sold at auction for $24,500 last year in New York City.

White House Denies Red Plane Flights

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger emphatically denied Wednesday published reports that Soviet reconnaissance planes have flown over the Southeastern United States. So did Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, Air Force chief of staff.

A newspaper executive said the reports are true and came from high administration sources.

Salinger touched off the exchange in a speech Tuesday night at a Pittsburgh journalism awards dinner. He criticized what he called irresponsibility in news reporting and cited a story carried by the Scripps-Howard newspaper chain last week.

That story reported that Soviet planes had been over the southeastern corner of the nation.

Refute Denial

The Washington Daily News, which with other Scripps-Howard papers carried last week's overflight story, followed up Wednesday with headlines proclaiming: "Red Planes Over U.S.? No! Says Salinger, Yes! We Say Again."

The News printed a story on

Lawrence Praises Pa. Guard Division

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's famed 28th National Guard division will be increased, despite the National Guard cut-back, Gov. Lawrence and Adjutant Gen. Malcolm Hay disclosed Wednesday.

"The 28th Division is the best (Guard) division in the country—and I got that from military people in Washington," the governor told his weekly news conference.

Hay said, "The 28th is held in very, very high respect in Washington . . . It is not to be cut down and it is not going to suffer the same fate as the 79th."

Hay referred to the 79th Army Reserve Infantry division, which was partially disbanded by the Department of Defense Tuesday.

"The current framework of the 28th division and the 104th cavalry (a Guard regiment) will remain the same," Hay said. "They will still have the same units in them and they will both be at slightly higher strength than they have been before."

Hay indicated that men from the 18 guard units being disbanded probably would be assigned to units of the 28th.

Hay said he would go to Washington Monday for a meeting of the National Guard Association and then with Defense Department officials.

The meeting, said Hay, would be "an attempt to clarify the issues and see if we can resolve differences that may come up at that time."

Gov. Lawrence also said there was "no question about it" that a meeting between himself and Gov.-elect William W. Scranton would be useful.

"I don't know that there are any special needs for it," he said. "As I have stated very clearly and plainly to the cabinet in their meeting, we want to do everything we can to prevent any impairment of the normal functioning of the government during the transfer."

Soviets, U.S. Cooperate On Communications Satellites

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union announced agreement here, Wednesday, to cooperate in using artificial earth satellites in communication, weather forecasting and mapping the world's magnetic field.

U.S. Chief Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson and Soviet Chief Delegate Valerian A. Zorin gave a joint letter to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant informing him of the agreement.

Later, Stevenson and Soviet Delegate Platon D. Morozov notified the General Assembly's Political Committee.

Guantanamo Wives Begin Moving Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wives and children will start returning to the Guantanamo naval base within a few days and most family units disrupted by the Cuban crisis should be back together well before Christmas.

Word that the return movement is about to start was made official Wednesday by Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth.

Yetter Task Force Ends State Work

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Assemblyman Van D. Yetter, chairman of a Joint State Government Commission task force on properties, said Wednesday night his group had completed its work and made a number of recommendations on real estate taxes.

They included a proposal that charitable institutions be required to pay the same amount as religious institutions on land not for which the institutions were chartered. The land should not be used to compete with commercial enterprises, the task force said.

Another proposal recommended was that the Commonwealth should pay local real estate taxes on lands it owns.

Findings of the task force will be presented to the next session of the legislature.

Chest Fund Nears Goal

MAYBE THERE is a Santa Claus! Leaders in the United Appeal of the Monroe County Community Chest and Red Cross took fresh heart yesterday as the total donations reached and then went over the $100,000 mark for the first time in the history of the county.

The total as of yesterday was $101,000 bringing the total to within $10,516 of the 1963 goal of $111,516. That quota was set to provide for minimum requirements of the 13 member agencies of the Chest for their services to local residents.

Last year the campaign failed to reach its goal and member agencies were required to take a proportionate cut in their allocations, finishing out the fiscal year on short rations.

This year, spearheaded by a big surge of special gifts, the campaign was off to an encouraging start. However, for some time it has stuck at the $99,000 mark. With answers to appeal letters, the fund has started to rise, meeting its present total yesterday.

Fund officials are hopeful that returns will continue to come in and appeal to everyone, especially those who may not have been contacted, to send in their contributions in order that the campaign can be brought to a triumphant close before the new year.

This year's goal is a record-breaking one because of the addition of the Monroe County Chapter of the American Red Cross to the list of member agencies, as a major step in a really United Appeal. The Red Cross will not conduct a separate campaign this year, but will receive their proportionate share of the present campaign. Other member agencies have initiated additional service to the community.

General Of 79th Views Reshuffle

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The commander of Pennsylvania's 79th Division, which was wiped out in the Defense Department's planned reserve reorganization, says some of his men may not be able to get assignments to other units.

The 79th, known as the Cross of Lorraine Division, now has about 8,000 Reservists, mostly from Pennsylvania, but with some from Maryland and Delaware.

Under Tuesday's Army Reserve reorganization, it will be replaced by the 157th Brigade, with headquarters in Upper Merion, near Philadelphia. The 157th will have a complement of 3,312 men.

Maj. Gen. J. Calvin Frank, commander of the 79th, who retires Sunday, said he expected the order, but added he and "thousands of other officers and men in my division, are very disappointed."

He said that the 5,000 who are not assigned to the new brigade will be able to stay in the Reserve for at least another year while the reorganization is going on.

Then, he said, they will have the option of resigning or joining one of the many new service units, such as hospital, quartermaster, petroleum, which were created in the reorganization.

"It's going to necessitate a lot of adjustment for individuals," he said. He added that there will be some "who won't be able to get assignments."

Mrs. Kelly Concedes Election

HARRISBURG (AP) — Mrs. Audrey Kelly, Republican candidate for secretary of internal affairs, conceded Wednesday the reelection of her Democratic opponent, Miss Genevieve Blatt.

Mrs. Kelly, a Montrose attorney, sent a telegram to Miss Blatt which said: "Now that 65 of the 67 counties have certified their official votes, I congratulate you and extend best wishes for a successful third term."

Mrs. Kelly's concession came as new compilations in the state elections bureau showed Miss Blatt ahead by 1,390 votes.

Unofficial tabulations by The Associated Press on election night Nov. 6 showed Miss Blatt ahead by 2,488 votes. These tabulations did not include the absentee ballots, which under law could not be counted until Nov. 16.

The current totals are on the basis of certified results from 65 of the 67 counties, and a telephone report of Lackawanna figures and unofficial returns from Montgomery.

SAYS HE FAVORED NAVAL BLOCKADE—Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, is shown during his appearance on TV show "Today" in New York when he reiterated his denial that he had opposed the naval blockade of Cuba. Stevenson said he had approved the blockade at least three days before the government decided to impose it. (AP Wirephoto)

Group Disputes Use Of Readings In N. Y. Schools

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York State, birthplace of the school prayer controversy, is enmeshed in a similar dispute—this time involving the Bible, the Declaration of Independence and the anthem "America."

The question is whether public schools in the state, as part of their opening exercises, may permit readings from the Bible or the Declaration, or recitation of the fourth stanza of "America."

The Declaration and the stanza also contain references to God.

A group of nine parents is protesting the practice, as adopted by the Levittown school district on Long Island, and has asked the state education commissioner for a ruling.

Supreme Court Decision

The parents' attorney argued at a hearing this week before Commissioner James E. Allen Jr. that the Levittown School Board was trying to circumvent last summer's Supreme Court decision.

The court held that a "nonsectarian" prayer recommended by the State Board of Regents, educational governing body, was unconstitutional.

Cross-Section

The protesting parents represent a cross-section of religious faiths—five Protestants, two Unitarians, a Catholic and a Jew.

Their attorney contended that the Bible was a sectarian book and that reading sections of it in class violated constitutional prohibitions against government interference in religion.

He said there was dispute over the practice of reading from historical documents—such as the Declaration of Independence and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address—because of "the aura of religion surrounding opening exercises."

The school board's lawyer maintained that the Bible was not sectarian and represented "the great traditions of Judaic-Christian heritage."

Hoffa, dressed in a dark gray business suit, was seated at the long defense table when Swanson pushed through the gate that separates spectators from the attorneys.

"I heard the gate swing open and saw him coming toward me," Hoffa said later.

"He was pulling the gun out and started shooting it. I ducked and went after him," Hoffa said, adding that he had worked out in a Nashville gym earlier Wednesday.

"It pays to be in shape."

The shots—there appeared to be about three of them in rapid order—made small popping sounds. Hoffa, examined by a physician suffered only pellet marks.

Swanson fell to the floor under Hoffa's blow and a spectator, identified as Charles O'Brien, 28, jumped on the man, holding him until shocked U.S. marshals reached the scene. Someone landed

Denies Advocating A Trade With Cuba

NEW YORK (AP) — United Nations Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, under fire in the Cuban crisis, said Wednesday he emphatically approved in advance in arms blockade of the island, although he opposed any invasion.

Stevenson also denied advocating a trade, to eliminate Soviet bases in Cuba in return for the United States giving up bases of its own abroad. He said he did advise that this country develop well in advance its position concerning such a suggestion by the Soviet Union.

The former Democratic presidential candidate appeared on an NBC television program— "Today"—to enlarge on his previous denials of a report in the Saturday Evening Post.

Refutes Article

The magazine article reported that Stevenson "dissented" from the general agreement in the executive committee of the National Security Council last October that a naval blockade be imposed around Cuba to block the flow of Soviet nuclear weapons to Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

In a statement Monday, the White House denied the magazine report and declared that Stevenson strongly supported President Kennedy's decision to impose the blockade.

The Saturday Evening Post article was written by Charles Bartlett, a reporter for the Chattanooga Times and a close friend of Kennedy, and by Stewart Alsop, Washington editor of the magazine, who is reported to have excellent contacts within the administration.

Stevenson already had denied that the article reflected his views on the Cuban crisis. Wednesday, he called the article a "classic example of irresponsible journalism . . . untrue as to what I proposed and as to what I opposed."

Calls It False

"It charges," Stevenson continued, "that I opposed the President's policy on Cuba, and that I was the only one to dissent from the consensus of the President's advisers. To put it mildly, this is false."

"I emphatically approved the blockade on further arms shipments to Cuba."

"What the article doesn't say is that I opposed, equally emphatically, an invasion of Cuba at the risk of world nuclear war until the peace-keeping machinery of the United Nations had been used."

"This was the policy adopted by President Kennedy. This is the policy that has worked so successfully that the nuclear menace from Cuba has been removed and war avoided, and at no cost to the United States."

"I hope the time hasn't come in the United States when it is considered better to advocate war to settle issues than the peaceful means, because if that time should come, the world is doomed."

Stevenson said it wasn't unusual for members of the President's advisory committee to disagree.

No Negotiation

Asked if he advocated that the United States give up bases abroad in return for elimination of Soviet bases in Cuba, Stevenson replied: "No. I said that if the United States started a negotiation about the elimination of the base with Mr. Khrushchev, we would have to develop well in advance the content, the political content of whatever . . . our position would be. Among those would inevitably be the subject of bases, which Mr. Khrushchev would raise."

In Washington, there was speculation that Stevenson's future as Kennedy's ambassador to the United Nations rested under a cloud unless the President spoke out publicly in his support.

Stevenson was asked on the television program if he had been approached to resign his U.N. post. He replied without elaboration: "On the contrary."

Optimist Club Makes Plans For Dec. 11 Ladies Night

THE Stroudsburg Optimist Club held a business meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel, Tuesday, Edward Hoffner, president was in charge.

Many items were discussed, including the forthcoming ladies night scheduled for Tuesday, Dec. 11, commencing at 7:30 p.m. at the Charcoal Hearth.

Tickets are available from the committee members. William Fisher, Bob Hoffman and Floyd Kellogg.

Club fund raising projects were discussed. Plans call for a gaso-tania with a number of local service stations and club

ESSC Set For White Elephant Sale

A "WHITE Elephant Sale" will be held next Wednesday, December 12, from 4:00 to 7:00 p.m. in the basement of Stroud Hall. Purpose of the sale is to raise money for the exchange program for this summer which is being sponsored by the student exchange committee.

Faculty members, students and the public are being solicited by the committee for any material which is saleable and are urged to contribute at least one object for the sale which is open to ESSC students, faculty members and the general public.

Collection of articles will continue through next Wednesday morning. The price-tagged object will be put on display in rooms 4 and 5 in Stroud Hall basement.

For Foreign Program
Proceeds of the project will supplement the $300 already allocated by the Student Senate. "Experiment in Living," the six week summer program, will cost between $450 and $1000 depending upon the country visited. Students who are applying for the program have a choice of 38 countries.

Deadline for applications is Friday, Dec. 7. Forms must be turned in to Dr. Emerson Loucks, committee adviser.

Five applicants will be chosen by a faculty-student committee. Their applications will be sent to a board of the "Experiment in Living" program in Putney, Vermont. Ultimately, one student will be chosen to represent the college abroad this summer.

Driver Is Hurt As Car Rolls Over

PARRYVILLE—Argus Brentari, 45, of 614 W. Bacon St., Pottsville, suffered spinal injuries at 11 a. m. yesterday when the milk truck he was driving skidded on a curve on Detour Route 29 and rolled over.

Brentari was admitted for treatment to Gaden-Heuten Hospital, Lehighton. Damages to the truck was estimated at $300.

State Police at Lehighton said the highway was wet when the accident occurred. About two cases of milk were thrown from the truck as it overturned.

Coal Says Oil Uses False Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—A coal industry spokesman accused residu fuel oil importers yesterday of using "trumped up or contrived" claims of pending shortages in an effort to get import quota increases.

Joseph E. Moody, president of the National Coal Policy Conference, issued a statement in which he said:

"Even though total supplies of residual available on the East coast since the new quota year began last April have been nearly 8.5 million barrels greater than in the same period a year ago, and four million barrels more than the average for that period in the past three years, these oil importers are now beginning to raise the specter of residual shortage."

Moody said it is apparent "this is the start of a propaganda campaign by the big international oil companies to force the secretary of the interior to raise the quota limits on residual, to the further grave damage to domestic fuels markets."

Moody said that supplies of residual in the East actually are higher than in 1961 while consumption has shown a decrease. He claimed that when the present import quota program was started in 1959, imports were displacing 30 million tons of coal annually and they now are displacing 44 million tons. Moody said the real object of the importers is to increase the imports in order to increase conversions to oil use and to keep oil prices down.

Ample Supply Of Christmas Stamps At S-burg Postoffice

FRED H. Rhodes, Stroudsburg postmaster, announced last night that there is ample supply of the new first Christmas postage stamp issued by the United States.

The 4-cent, red, and white stamp went on sale in Pittsburgh Nov. 1, in conjunction with the annual convention of the National Association of Postmasters of the United States and second day sales began here Nov.

2. The new and unusual issue will be available at local post-offices through Dec. 31. The Christmas stamp, intended especially for use on season's greeting cards, depicts the traditional holiday symbols—burning tapers and an evergreen wreath, adorned with red bow. Lettering on the stamp is Old English.

Issuance of the stamp ties in with the post office department's "shop and Mail Early" campaign. The stamp will supply a colorful fillip to greeting cards and this is in response to heavy public demand.

It will also encourage the use of first class postal rate for greeting cards, providing preferred handling and return to sender service in the event of non-delivery.

The stamp is intended for general use, and plans are to reissue a Christmas stamp future holiday seasons. It will remain on sale indefinitely at the "Philatelic Sales Agency, Washington 25, D. C."

The initial printing by the Post Office Department—500,000,000 from six plates.

Federal Agent Checks Program

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—A federal agent is in the Wilkes-Barre area checking possible violations of the $250,000-per month U.S. Food Stamp Program, it was disclosed Wednesday.

The program, which replaced the surplus food program in Luzerne County Oct. 1, currently has enrolled about 19,000 individuals representing 6,500 relief and non-relief families.

John Conaboy, federal supervisor of the stamp plan here, confirmed that an investigator has been assigned to the area to determine if any violations have occurred, and to apprehend the offenders.

Peifly Elected Board Head

BANGOR — Clair H. Peifly was elected president of the Bangor School Board, succeeding William Basile.

Dr. Nicholas Cascario proposed Peifly for the post. Kenneth Ace offered the second. There were no dissenting votes.

Named as vice president was W. John Heard.

Peifly named Basile, finance chairman, and Ace and Heard, co-chairmen of transportation. Named to the joint school committee are Ace, Dr. Cascario, Charles Williams, Mrs. Charlotte Hough and Peifly.

Bills totaling $37,112.35 were approved for payment. Report of Mrs. Hough, treasurer, listed a balance of $120,877.97.

ESSC Gallery Exhibiting Work Of Local Artists

THE GALLERY of the East Stroudsburg State College Art Department is currently showing paintings, prints and drawings from collectors of the area. The comprehensive exhibition contains work of varied styles, ranging from complete abstraction to complete realism, and touches on the varied styles ranging between.

Collectors contributing to the exhibition are: Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Strauser, Mr. Paul Hamel, Mr. George B. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. George Levin, Mrs. Agnes Dyer, Mr. Edward Driebe, Mr. and Mrs. David Cartright, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Hebard, Mr. David Harrington, Drs. Mary and Llewellyn Hunsicker, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Rubin and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Logan.

Works Being Shown
Among the works being shown are prints by Henri Matisse, Henry Moore, Zou-Wou-Ki, and Joseph Hirsch; with paintings by Andre Racz, David Burliuk, Louis Eilshemius, and Raymond Bessy; and drawings by Louise Nevelson, and Abe Harriton.

Also included are paintings, prints and drawings by well known local artists. Of special interest are three Mogul paintings in the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Strauser.

The tastes of these local collectors is so varied and clever that a trip up to the college gallery in Stroud Hall will be well worth the time, a ESSC official said yesterday.

The gallery is open to the public weekdays from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., December 3 through December 20.

Giant Step Forward

The decision of East Stroudsburg Borough Council on Tuesday night to go along with the Lincoln Ave. and S. Courtland St. redevelopment programs, and thereby benefit from an allocation of $875,000 in Federal funds, is one to be lauded long and loud. The outcome was somewhat dubious right up to the time of the meeting, but the final unanimous decision was greeted wholeheartedly by borough officials, businessmen and residents alike.

While the Council is commended for the action, there are other forces that deserve equal praise. The planning commission, headed by Ralph Burrows, did a masterful job of gathering facts, figures and projections before presenting the issue to Council. The East Stroudsburg Businessmen's Assn. was also instrumental in advancing the project.

Laudable, too, is the interest of the individual citizens. For the first time in the memory of most of the principals, the Council chamber was filled to overflowing with East Stroudsburg property owners and residents who made their support of the project known to their elected representatives. This, indeed, is democracy at work.

In effect, the Council put its seal of approval on one of the most important, dramatic and fruitful steps that has ever been taken in this area, and paved the way for East Stroudsburg to ultimately become one of the most prosperous communities in the East, regardless of size. The door to a new era of progress was thrown open wide.

In time, the action will give the community and the county a wider tax base and ease the load on the individual taxpayer. It will provide a sound and most attractive incentive for new industries to establish themselves here. It is just the beginning of a bright future.

Between now and the time the project is accomplished, the area will be kept informed on all facets and future steps to be taken in this great movement.

We congratulate the East Stroudsburg Borough Council and all who were involved, directly and indirectly, in taking this giant step forward.

A First Lady's Dilemma

The late Eleanor Roosevelt suffered the slings and arrows of outrageous comment during the years her husband presided over the Presidency because she was different than the usual run of our First Ladies. Eleanor Roosevelt was a doer. Eleanor Roosevelt was a battler for causes.

But who remembers the outrageous snide remarks?

Instead, Eleanor Roosevelt is and always will be remembered for her deeds, for the high sense of purpose she brought to American life.

Now, because she, too, is different—in a different sort of way—Jacqueline Kennedy is suffering the slings and arrows of public life. There are those who are trying to capitalize on her pretty face, her quiet beauty, her flair for fashion.

It is little wonder, as the White House has revealed, that the President's wife is described as sorry—even shocked—at the treatment she and her family are getting from the trash and tinsel magazines.

The clap-trap movie magazines and the confession and romance magazines have made Jacqueline Kennedy a "cover girl." They do not abide by the usual yardstick of dignity where a President or a President's wife is concerned.

It is true, as the White House points out—even as it deplores the garnish magazine cover treatment—that Mrs. Kennedy is in the public domain, and there is nothing she can do about it.

But time will pass.

The pretty face, the young and vibrant beauty—alas, this will soften, too, as time goes on.

But she already has taken her place as a special First Lady—one who has won for the arts and the men and women of the arts—the writers, the musicians, the artists, the poets—a new public recognition and a new public stature. And this is something to make Jacqueline Kennedy and all Americans, for that matter, happy.

The tinsel and trash magazines notwithstanding, it's sort of nice to have a "cover girl" with brains in the White House. They're few and far between—in the White House and everywhere else.

The Pennsylvania Story

The Trend To The Winning Side

By Mason Denison

Harrisburg — Today is the day the trend is expected to start reversing in Pennsylvania—a rather peculiar phenomenon no longer of any great particular significance, but interesting.

Today party registration books in counties throughout the Keystone State officially open for the first time since last spring (March 26, to be exact) for those who wish to change party registrations.

Will there be much changing of party affiliations? It's difficult to answer with any great degree of certainty, but the facts point out that on the basis of experience in recent years, in all probability there will be quite a change in the offing.

Reason for this of course is the fact that the new upcoming Republican Scranton Administration in Pennsylvania represents a change from the Democratic administrations of the past eight years.

Exactly what any such change as this has to do with party registration figures always is a mystery—but nevertheless, there it is.

For example in 1954 when Democrats won the gubernatorial horsehoe pitching contest for the first time in 16 years, Republicans at that time had a lead of around 900,000. Yet notwithstanding this "hot lead" Democrats emerged the (appalled) victors.

In the short space of those eight years what has happened in the interim?

The registration lead has changed dramatically—to the point where at the moment (and going into the November 6 general election that saw Republican gubernatorial candidate gain the nod) Democrats rather than Republicans hold the edge, to the tune of around 195,000!

Yet again, although the lead was with the opposition party—as in 1954—the minority or "outs" pulled the victory cord.

Registration leads invariably follow the party in power—why, no one seems to know. Does it represent a switch of those who consciously or unconsciously simply "want to be on the winning side?"

It can't be those on the state payroll—at best this figure doesn't exceed 80,000 potentials. Nevertheless the trend will be there. Today with registration books opening for the first time since the November election, the change in party registrations will continue to grow—with the leverage in favor of Keystone State Republicans simply because they have become the in-power party.

Actually it wasn't until the advent of the Democratic Leadership Administration in 1954 that Pennsylvania ever had a chance to look for any significant registration change—for the simple reason that historically the lead had always been Republican, a somewhat staggering lead at times, it might be added.

Paralleling this almost boring GOP lead in the pre-1950 years—back in the days when the political machine was paramount—Republican administration followed Republican administration, with the exception of three interruptions during the preceding 100 years.

Today any such lead is meaningless, as clearly evidenced by the past three gubernatorial elections—a complete reversal from yesterday. The machine has gone out—the individual voter has come in, with the latter turning the key regardless of what the registration lead may be.

Be all this as it may—the fact remains that today, December 6, is the day "the great switch" begins!

Off The Record

By Bob Clark

Henry Platt, the Holland Furnace man, is high in the clouds these days. The reason:

Well, Platt received a letter from the State Department of Forest and Waters, citing his "faithful performance" on the recent completion of a furnace replacement at the ranger dwelling at Hunter's Range.

Platt's organization was low bidder on a state contract for the project up in the woods near Porter's Lake.

Henry is so pleased with the state's letter of commendation that the message from Maynard Hench, chief, Division State Forest Management, is beginning to wear out from the continual showing to friends.

John Kirk, Monroe County Traffic Club official, is preparing a top notch program for the next session of the organization. The unit will meet Dec. 11 at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

The Traffic Club is a budding group of industrial executives which view the transportation problems affecting the plants in the county.

Atty. Ed Hoffman is a guy who likes his coffee in the morning. The Stroudsburg attorney makes sure he gets his "nourishment" every ayem a round the 10:30 mark.

Incidentally if a Hall of Fame for church ushers is ever started, Ed will be one of the first nominees to be nominated from the locale.

Mrs. Robert (Trudy) Hellmann, has to go down as one of the busiest young women in Monroe County.

The Stroud Twp. resident offers her services to practically every worthwhile project in the community. And you can bet her assistance is more than welcomed.

Mrs. Hellmann is one of those citizens who typifies the best of Monroe County's progressive leaders.

About Town

Stopped by a Statistic

At a shower for the bride-to-be, she told her friends, "I plan to have four children—two boys and two girls."

"Why stop at four?" one friend asked.

"Because" replied the bride-to-be, "I've been reading statistics and find that every fifth child is Chinese."

George O'Brien tells the story of the guy who ran into the bar and gasped "Give me something for hiccups!" So the bartender slapped him across the face with a wet bar towel.

"What did you do that for?" squealed the man.

"Stopped your hiccups, didn't it?" said the bartender.

Quitting Time

Two men were standing at the bar when one fell flat on his face. "That's what I like about Joe," said the other. "He knows when to quit."

The Allen-Scott Report

Direct Moscow-New York Air Route Considered

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington, December 6 — Russia is again trying to establish a direct airline to the U. S. General G. S. Schetshikov, first deputy director of Aeroflot, and General B. M. Gaydarovskiy, communications head of the government-owned airline, have been in this country several weeks discussing such a plan with State Department and other authorities.

Accompanied by General A. N. Chizhov, air attaché of the Russian embassy, the two Aeroflot chiefs have conferred with Washington and New York airport officials on the leasing of landing, maintenance and other facilities.

Indicated aim of the Soviet is a direct air route between Moscow and New York, with landing rights at Washington's huge Dulles International Airport.

Pan American Airways is greatly interested in this proposal.

The U. S. line would like to establish direct air service to Russia in exchange for the granting of similar rights here. The Kremlin has been seeking a direct air connection here for more than 2½ years.

These on-again-off-again negotiations were abruptly shelved several months ago, shortly before the historic showdown over the withdrawal of missiles and other offensive weapons in Cuba.

The resumption of these long-pending discussions is viewed as a significant indication of the improved relations between the two countries.

Traveling Plans — If conditions permit, President Kennedy intends to make a trip to the Far East next year.

Definitely on his schedule would be a visit to Japan. That's what he told the group of Japanese cabinet members at his White House luncheon for them early this week. Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira gave hearty assurances the President would be "enthusiastically welcomed."

"If everything works out right, as I hopefully believe it will," the President told his Japanese guests, "I look forward to doing quite a bit of foreign traveling in 1963. These plans contemplate a trip to the Far East, and foremost among the countries I want to go to is Japan."

"I have received several invitations to have the opportunity to accept them. Naturally, these plans are still very tentative. But they are definitely in mind."

In President Eisenhower's last year in office, he embarked on a visit to Japan, but turned back after a succession of violent Communist-led riots. Subsequently, one of the leaders of these mass disturbances expressed apologies and regrets. Earlier this year there were reports the former President might go to Japan, but the plans did not materialize.

White House insiders say the President is thinking in terms of an extended trip that would include Alaska, Japan, Okinawa, the Philippines, India, Pakistan, and possibly Indonesia.

Politics — Ted Kennedy, 30-year-old brother of the President, has yet to take the oath of office as U. S. Senator, but there is no limit to his vaulting ambitions. He has already applied for a seat on the much-sought Foreign Relations Committee, and now he is aspiring to a place on the even more powerful Appropriations Committee. It's virtually unprecedented for a "rookie" to be named to either of these top committees, but young Kennedy seems to be confident he has a good chance to make one of them.

If he does, a number of considerably more senior senators will be very unhappy. They are seeking these prizes, too, and have a lot more claim to them than newly-elected Kennedy, whose term only runs for two years, when he has to campaign again. Foremost among those with a strong claim for a seat on the Appropriations Committee is Senator Clair Engle, D-Calif., who has been a member of Congress since 1944, and before being elected to the Senate was chairman of the House Interior Affairs Committee. Able and hard-working, Engle has the backing of Senate Democratic leaders for an appropriations assignment.

Former Vice President Nixon is raising a lot of puzzled eyebrows in G.O.P. circles. In his spectacular "farewell" press conference, Nixon avowed he was through with politics. Yet every successful Republican member of Congress has received a letter of congratulations from him—and quite a number of them are privately wondering how come and why! ... Sam Pryor, able and popular vice president of Pan American Airways, is retiring next April. Formerly National Republican Committee chairman from Connecticut, Pryor plans to move his permanent home to Hawaii.

Publicly, the White House is saying nothing about the 1963 San Francisco majority race, which already is at fever pitch. But privately, lieutenants of the President are making no bones they favor Representative John Shelley—an original Kennedy supporter. Although just-elected for an eighth term in the House, Shelley is already busily running for mayor. He has opened a headquarters, and is zealously hustling for votes.

James Landis, one-time dean of Harvard Law School, New Deal brain-truster, former chairman of the Securities & Exchange Commission, and attorney for former Ambassador Joseph Kennedy, father of the President, has his eye set on being general counsel of the billion-dollar communications satellite corporation authorized by the last session of Congress. The corporation, to be legally established by February 1, will create a number of big-paying jobs.

Dear Abby

out being too forward? I am very much interested in him.

INTERESTED

DEAR INTERESTED: Make no mention of it. He will take the ring off, or change it to his other hand, when he feels like it. But don't get your hopes up. That may be never.

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "BROKEN-HEARTED" (the 15-year-old boy whose parents kept him awake with their fighting) struck close to home with me. Many times I'd go to school after being up half the night trying to keep my parents from inflicting physical harm on one another. I listened to threats and accusations no child should ever be forced to hear. The only consolation I can offer is that we sometimes profit more from a bad example than a good one. I learned what qualities to look for in a mate. Kindness, understanding and honesty. My children will never have to go through what I did.

BEEN THROUGH IT

DEAR ABBY: Not because she's my daughter, but Joyce is an exceptionally beautiful 16-year-old. My problem is with her father. He is always picking on her. If she gets ready to go out in a hurry and leaves her cosmetics or curlers on the bathroom sink, he will pitch everything in the waste basket. (I retrieve it all later.) He is always finding fault with the boys she goes with, and they are certainly nice young men. He inspects her room, and if it isn't in perfect condition he calls her sloppy and lazy. This has started only recently. How can I make him realize that she's a good girl and he should leave her alone?

TROUBLED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: First, your husband should realize what HIS problem is. He doesn't like to see his "little girl" grow up. His attitude is common and it will take some uncommon diplomacy on your part to make him face the facts and behave accordingly.

DEAR ABBY: There is an old bag who works with us. She's been divorced a couple of times and is now single. She spends her money entertaining the young men who work with her. She is old enough to be their mother. She isn't a smart enough to realize that the only reason they bother with her is because she picks up the tab. It bothers us to see this woman taken for a fool. Shouldn't someone put her wise? Or should we let her go on being a sucker?

CO-WORKERS

DEAR CO-WORKERS: Your concern brings a lump to my throat. If the woman enjoys herself, and the young men enjoy themselves, where's the harm? She has a right to spend her money the way she wants to. I think you have "nose" trouble.

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with a man whose wife died a year ago. He still wears his wedding band on his left hand. Is there some way to ask him to take it off entirely or to wear it on his other hand, without being too forward?

Half A Century Of Service

No public official in any part of the country is comparable to Robert Moses in his devoted and unending and mostly uncompensated public service for nearly half a century.

Of the Al Smith tradition, Moses regarded public service as a career and he gathered about him able executives who built for New York City a superb park system, for New York State a beautiful and useful parkway system and for the St. Lawrence River, a power utility.

He also manages the Triborough Bridge Authority and the New York World's Fair. He once held 11 jobs but a salary only for one.

At 73, Robert Moses can do more of a day's work than most and Governor Nelson Rockefeller's plea, on dismissing Moses from one position, that Moses was overloaded is nonsense.

The fact is that Rockefeller wants Moses' job on the Park Council for his brother, Laurence, who is also overloaded with numerous real estate and other business operations. The Rockefeller must be jealous of the Kennedy's, but that is no excuse for asking a competent, efficient, honored public servant to resign in favor of nepotism. There is no criticism of Laurence Rockefeller. He has been Vice President of the New York State Park Council, appointed by Governor Lehman long before Nelson Rockefeller became Governor. There must be criticism of the Governor's bad manners, his ineptitude in proposing that Moses resign to give his brother a chance to shine in the public eye.

It was absurd of the Governor to propose that when Moses resigned his numerous state jobs, he say nothing to the press on the subject. Moses' reply, I cannot ask anyone to print.

It was explosive, direct and to the point. It was an older and more experienced man talking to a youngster in the tool-shed. I saw Bob Moses several hours later and his eyes were still blazing. He was not acting as a cover for anyone.

The significance of all this is that it adds to the political turmoil in New York State and leaves Governor Rockefeller's chances of running for the Presidency on the Republican ticket more uncertain.

No man can be trusted with major affairs who asks such a man as Robert Moses to resign so that his brother might bask in the bloom of another's achievements. It indicates a political instability that is dangerous in times like these.

There also can be no doubt that Senator Jacob Javits' large vote in the 1962 election, compared to Rockefeller's small vote, both running against inconsequential opponents, cut Nelson Rockefeller to the quick. That vote was a political setback.

True, Rockefeller had a frightfully insignificant speech-writing organization, whereas Javits rolled his own, as it were, but there were many other factors in the situation which turned the New York State voter against him, whether Republican or Democrat.

Since the election, Rockefeller has been remote from the public. Announcing himself as a candidate for the Presidency in 1964, prematurely, and advising Republicans to go slow, he stirred the embers of the conservative fire in both New York State and California.

The Conservatives are not likely to accept Rockefeller, even if he were willing to take Barry Goldwater for Vice President. On the other hand, some non-political persons, carried away by the size of the Javits vote for Senator, are already mentioning him for Vice President which will stir up very ugly opposition in many parts of the country and a rampage of antagonism from Governor Nelson Rockefeller.

In a word, the pot is boiling in these parts and turning out a very smelly stew. From it, nothing good can come to Rockefeller.

It is curious, in American politics, how minor incidents take on national significance. Governor Nelson Rockefeller has groomed himself for the Presidency, preparing for it since the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He has met with some measure of success in New York State, but generally, the American people do not know him and have not been particularly impressed by his personality which is strictly cosmopolitan New York.

He has, on the whole, been a competent Governor of New York State, but not a beloved one, as, for instance, Al Smith was. His personality is pleasant but cold; he lacks the vibrant humanity of John F. Kennedy.

There is a simple elegance, a way of life; a kind of thought, Unequaled by extravagance, Or anything that can be bought.

Stroudsburg High Honor Grad

FUNERAL services for Mrs. Mary Morgan Scarlett, an honor graduate of the class of 1917 at Stroudsburg High School, Ga., were held recently in Brunswick, Ga.

Mrs. Scarlett, the wife of Frank Mair Scarlett, judge of the U. S. District Court at Brunswick, attended the 40th reunion of her class in June, 1957, at the Bartonsville Hotel.

She was born in Walnut Valley, N. J., and became a resident of Brunswick in 1923 when she married Judge Scarlett.

Long active in civic affairs there, she was presented with a silver service in 1960 by city and county leaders which was inscribed:

"Presented to Mrs. Frank M. Scarlett at the dedication of the new Federal Building as a token of the affection and esteem the people of Brunswick and Glynn County have for her."

Surviving, in addition to her husband, are a daughter, Mrs. L. G. Crowe, Rome, Ga.; two sons, Rev. F. M. Scarlett, Jr., Fayetteville, N. C., and Richard Morgan Scarlett, Brunswick, and six grandchildren. A brother, George F. Morgan, Pen Argyl, also survives.

C. P. Terhune's Funeral Held

FUNERAL services for Cornelius P. Terhune, father of Mrs. Thomas Knepp of Stroudsburg, were held on Dec. 4 at the Snover Funeral Home, in Bortontown, N. J.

Mr. Terhune, 73, of 929 Washington St., Easton, died on Saturday in the Easton Hospital.

Born in Newark, N. J., he was a division engineer for the Lehigh Valley Railroad. A graduate of Cooper Union Institute, he held a bachelor's degree in civil engineering. He was a member of the Masonic Order.

In addition to Mrs. Knepp, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Caroline Petty, of Pleasantville, N. J., and two granddaughters.

Interment was in the Bortontown Cemetery.

Area Deer Kill Light On 3rd Day

THE THIRD day of the 1962 deer season was a reported quiet one.

Game Protectors John Doebeling and John Spencer reported that very few hunters were in the woods. Both attributed inclement weather for keeping the hunters home.

Kills reported to The Daily Record were:

Barry Kistler, Promised Land, a senior at Southern Wayne Joint School shot his buck Monday afternoon.

Fred Bancroft, South Sterling, killed a six-point buck on Monday.

Educator's Funeral Held

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Funeral services were held Wednesday for Dr. John Gabbert Bowman, former chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh.

Bowman died Sunday at the age of 85 at his home in Bedford. He was buried in Pittsburgh.

The Iowa native headed Pitt from 1921 to 1945, during which time the 42-story Cathedral of Learning, the world's tallest educational building, was constructed. He previously served as president of the University of Iowa for four years.

Bloodmobile Hits S-burg On Monday

THE Red Cross Bloodmobile will make a scheduled visit in this area, under the auspices of the Monroe County Chapter, next Monday. The mobile unit will be at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church from 11:45 a.m. to 3:45 p.m.

In stressing the importance of the American Red Cross and its blood program locally, Joseph DeRenzis, program chairman, remarked:

"For a few months back, the blood donor program was on rather shaky ground. We were not coming up to our quota of donors, and it was a tragic situation. The visit of the Bloodmobile last month was a decided improvement, and we are hoping that it will continue this Monday."

Nice To Know It's There "Some people remark that we could get along without the Red Cross. Of course we could," the chairman said, "but isn't it nice to know it's there?"

"Isn't it nice, for example, to know that your friends and neighbors care enough for their fellowman to give time in volunteer service through the American Red Cross. And isn't it comforting to realize that someone cares enough to teach first aid and water safety?"

"Yes, maybe you think you could get along without the Red Cross, but then maybe you've never needed BLOOD. That's right, human blood! Whole blood for operations... and blood fractions such as gamma globulin, fibrinogen, and serum albumin."

"Yes, it's nice to know that Red Cross is there... and how about you? Can you think of a better gift than the gift of life? Be a holiday blood donor. Call your local Red Cross, today!"

"Yes, it's nice to know Red Cross is there. It's even better to know that you'll be there too!" he concluded.

PM High Works For Toys For Tots

SWIFTWATER — The Student Council of Pocono Mountain Joint Junior-Senior High School is sponsoring a drive for new and usable toys this week.

Toys collected will be donated to the 2nd Motor Transport Maintenance Co., USMC, who is conducting its annual "Toys For Tots" campaign in Monroe County.

Six collection points have been established in the new high school and students are urged to donate to the drive, William Gaskill, representing the student council, said last night.

East Bangor Man Named CD Aide

HARRISBURG — Marwood Hill has been appointed by Gov. David L. Lawrence as Civil Defense Director for East Bangor.

Harry Hauser was named to the same post for Fountain Hill, Lehigh County, and George M. Wismer for Plumstead Township, Bucks County.

The appointments were based upon recommendations by the governing bodies of the political subdivisions concerned.

Racing, Inc. Takes Title To Final Tract Of Land

RACING Incorporated took title to the third and final tract of land in the 1025-acre site for the 'Pocono Mountains International Raceway'.

The site is strategically located two miles from the planned Keystone Shortway (Federal Route 80), five miles from planned interchange of Keystone Shortway and the Penn-Can Highway (Federal Route 81S), and 10 miles from the Pocono Interchange on the Northeastern Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike via Route 940.

The site slopes gradually from State Route 115 to Long Pond Lake which will enable spectators to view with ease the entire layout of the Raceway. Parking space will be available for some 30,000 automobiles. It is within 135 miles of 36,000,000 Americans.

David Montgomery Jr., president of Racing Incorporated expressed his gratitude to the business and resort leaders for their recognition and support of this important project.

"As an industry, the Raceway will employ from 40 to 120 people during each year while also providing the Poconos with a major attraction of national importance," he emphasized.

"The community has entered into the spirit of this vital project and support continues to grow. Our stockholders now include business and resort leaders, purveyors, employees, and even housewives."

"Now that Racing Incorporated has title on the entire Raceway Site, the period of greatest financial risk is over. Our strength continues to grow daily," Montgomery pointed out.

Wayne Firemen Elect Aides

NEWFOUNDLAND — Harvey Marshall of Seelyville was elected president of the Wayne County Firemen's Association at a recent meeting in the American Legion Home, Waymart. Edward Drake, retiring president, conducted the session.

Other officers named for the year are: Steve Domanich, vice president; Glenn Haggerty, secretary-treasurer; Henry G. Soete and Walter Hook, auditors.

Reports included a resume of the Hawley Fire School and the recent banquet and dance. Plans for the future included classes in rescue work beginning early in 1963. All firemen are encouraged to participate in the classes.

The county radio system was discussed and those companies not having radios will be aided as much as possible by the association.

$50,000 Suit In Car Death On Rte. 209

SCRANTON—A $50,000 lawsuit, resulting from the death of a six-year-old boy is scheduled for trial today before Federal Judge Fred V. Follmer and a jury here.

Michael Lysak, a New Jersey resident, administrator of the estate of his late son, Myron B. Lysak, seeks the damages from Edward O. Metzgar, cashier of Skytop Lodge, Monroe County.

The plaintiff contends the defendant's car struck the boy on Route 209, nine miles south of

Japanese Wife Of Roseto Man Likes U.S.

ROSETO — Air Force Staff Sgt. Oreste Castellucci is visiting his home in Roseto for the first time in six years.

His wife and daughter are visiting Roseto for the first time.

Sgt. Castellucci and his family returned recently from a tour of duty in Japan and are on a 30-day leave at the home of the sergeant's father, Leonardo Castellucci, 96 Garibaldi Ave.

The sergeant and his wife, the former Ayako Masuda of Tokyo, were married at the Tachikawa Air Force Base Chapel in 1960. Their daughter, Marie Lucia, was born at the base hospital. She is 18 months old.

Castellucci, a flight steward on C-54 aircraft, met his wife while

Wayne Hunter Is Critical

HONESDALE, Pa. (AP)—A man was wounded seriously Wednesday while deer hunting at Cold Springs about 19 miles north of here.

In critical condition at Wayne Memorial Hospital is Michael Naerie, 19, of Philadelphia with a wound in the chest.

A state Game Commission said Naerie was accidentally struck by a shot fired by a hunting companion, Robert Gonzon, 19, also of Philadelphia.

The two were hunting on a big tract of state game lands when the accident took place. Naerie was removed from the woods in a tractor-drawn farm wagon and then taken to the hospital by ambulance.

he was on temporary duty from Hawaii. She worked at U. S. commissaries and post exchanges.

The transition to the American way of life is not difficult, Mrs. Castellucci said, because they had lived in the American community in Japan and she used to it now.

"I like southern fried chicken, spaghetti, and hamburger," she said. "And I don't like steak." She agreed that this dislike is a definite advantage for the budget.

"We're going to spend the leave visiting friends and the family," the sergeant said. "and meeting the people around here."

They will be assigned to Andrews AFB, Md. at the end of their vacation.

The Castellucci family was flown from Japan aboard a C-118. They left from Tachikawa AFB and landed at Travis AFB, California. The sergeant had shipped his car from Japan earlier and it was waiting in San Francisco for them when they arrived.

They motored across country, arriving in Roseto last Friday. Mrs. Castellucci was amazed at the size of the country. "She was especially interested in the vast wastelands of the Southwest," the sergeant said.

"We had briefed her on what to expect in the way of the weather here," he explained. "We brought heavy winter clothing and everything." The extremely mild temperature surprised them.

"It's just like back in the Tokyo area," she said.

The new member of the family is popular with the Castellucci family in Roseto. They are holding an open house in her honor starting at 4 p.m., Sunday.

Sgt. Castellucci enlisted in the U. S. Navy in 1944. He has a total of 13 years service in the Navy and Air Force. "I re-enlisted for four years in October," he said, "and I intend to do the full 20 for retirement."

The sergeant's father, a shoe repairman, proudly displays a picture taken some 50 years ago when he was in the Italian army.

Former Area Native Found Dead

MOUNT POCONO — Russell Davis, 31, formerly of Mount Pocono, was found dead on a street in Norfolk, Va. early Tuesday morning.

It has been reported that he was on his way home from work. Cause of death is not presently known. Police in that city are investigating the case.

He was born in East Stroudsburg.

Plans Retirement

NEW YORK (AP) — Harry A. DeBuits will retire as chairman of the Southern Railway Co. at his own request Feb. 1. The position of chairman will be abolished. He joined the railroad in 1916 as a student apprentice and track laborer.

Industry Paying Sets New Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the strength of an unexpected rise since midyear, industry spending for new plant and equipment in 1962 is breaking the $37-billion record set in 1957, the government announced Wednesday.

The increase is not spectacular, however, and the investment plans reported by business firms across the country indicate a leveling-off this quarter and a slight decline in early 1963.

But advance estimates for last summer and fall proved to be overly conservative. This led some government economists to speculate that the gains will continue next year.

The official survey, made in November, indicated that plant and equipment outlays reached a record yearly rate of $38.35 billion in the July-September quarter. This was $1.4 billion higher than in the second quarter and is the rate at which investment apparently is now running.

AN 1852 law, passed in the reign of Napoleon III, called for regular inspection and repair within Paris.

Motorist Backs Into Passing Car

MINOR injuries to her right arm were suffered by a young Philadelphia woman in an accident on Main Street, Stroudsburg, at 12:55 yesterday.

Mrs. Joan Krueger, 29, of 148 Ridgeway St., East Stroudsburg, backed from a parking place in front of the Woman's Shop in Stroudsburg into a car driven by Kenneth Veil, 23, of 4441 Cottman St., Philadelphia.

There was no damage to the Krueger car but the right door of the Veil car was smashed in and the window broken. Veil's wife, Dorothy Veil, 24, suffered injuries to her right arm.

Stroudsburg police investigated.

Meaning Of Carols Explained

MOUNT POCONO — The origin and meaning of popular Christmas carols were explained by Dr. Donald B. Corson, head of the music department of East Stroudsburg State College at the meeting of the Mount Pocono Rotary Club on Tuesday night at the Mount Pocono Methodist Church.

With recorded carols as a background, Dr. Corson told of their composers, their history, and incidents in their history which enriched their meaning for the members.

At their business meeting, the club discussed installing park benches and school bus stop shelters. Plans were made for a ladies night Christmas party to be held Saturday, Dec. 15 at High Point Inn when Jack Chapman of the Norway Restaurant will furnish the entertainment.

$40,270 Shortage Is Discovered

LEBANON, Pa. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Alvin B. Lewis Jr. said Wednesday shortages in the accounts of the Citizens Fire Co. of Palmyra now total $40,270.

He added that his office would prefer charges of embezzlement and fraudulent conversion against Russell Barr, former treasurer of the volunteer fire company, who disappeared in early November.

The financial plight of the organization came to light in the process of purchasing a new fire truck. It was discovered there was no account in the bank to cover the purchase.

The fire company earlier filed a complaint of fraudulent conversion against Barr and Lewis' office authorized a state police alert for him. Lewis said Wednesday the state police broadcast for Barr's apprehension was being reissued in the light of developments.

Wayne Hunter Accidentally Killed

A WAYNE County man became this area's first deer hunting fatality when he was shot and killed accidentally in the Winterdale area of Buckingham Township, Northern Wayne County, Tuesday afternoon.

He was identified as Francis S. Stanton, 35, of Buckingham Township, RD, Hancock, N. Y.

A lumber inspector for the Carley Brook Lumber Co., Honesdale, Mr. Stanton was the father of two children, and his wife is expecting a third in January.

He died on the spot of a neck wound suffered when he was mistaken for a deer and shot by another hunter, Michael E. Wlock, 33, Oakland, N. J., authorities said.

Investigators said the victim was hunting with his father-in-law Anthony J. Rutkowski, 56, Lake Como, and a friend, Theodore M. Porosky, 44, also of Lake Como, on land owned by the latter.

Through Sapling Area

They were moving through a sapling area about one-quarter mile apart while Mr. Wlock and a companion, Stephen Nesbette, Lodi, N. J., were occupying standing positions.

Wlock told investigators he thought he spotted some deer and also thought he saw 'horne' through his rifle scope.

He said he fired a 30-06 caliber bullet from a distance of about 300 feet and then found that instead of a deer he had shot Mr. Stanton. He ran along a logging road shouting that he had shot some one and encountered the victim's father-in-law.

Chief Wayne County Deputy Coroner Robert Jennings attributed death to a gunshot wound of the neck. Other investigators were State Trooper William Bluff of the Honesdale Substation, Game Protector Frederick Weigelt and Wayne County District Attorney Lewis B. Nielsen.

Wlock was given a hearing today before Honesdale Peace Justice N. C. Farnham on a charge of killing a human in mistake of game.

A native of Starrucca, Mr. Stanton was a son of Floyd and Marion Smith Stanton.

Surviving are his wife, the former Rose Rutkowski; two sons, Francis, 10, and Gary, eight; a brother, Robert, Hancock, N. Y., and a sister, Mrs. Raymond Penson, Hancock.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Refloat Jap Sub

SINGAPORE (AP) — A salvage company has refloated the Japanese submarine I-34, which was torpedoed by a British sub Nov. 13, 1943, with 85 aboard, near Penang Island. The sub will be broken up for scrap. Bodies will be cremated.

Area Moravian Churches To Hold Combined Service

NEWFOUNDLAND — The congregations of the Newfoundland and Canadensis Moravian Churches combined to hold the annual Advent service, with the lighting of the advent star, at the Newfoundland Church.

The choirs of the two churches presented anthems, and Mrs. Charlotte Price and Mrs. Christine McLain were organists for the Canadensis and Newfoundland participation, respectively.

The Rev. Larry Lindenmuth, Newfoundland, was in charge of the service, and the Rev. Nathaniel Albee, Canadensis, brought the message. There was a carol sing during the service.

The Greentown - Newfoundland-South Sterling Youth Fellowship attended the service in a group, after holding a brief business meeting.

River Basin Names Two Officials

THE appointment of two engineering specialists to fill key technical positions with the Delaware River Basin Commission was announced yesterday by James F. Wright, Executive Director.

The new officials are David A. Robertson, of Cambridge, Massachusetts, as head of the Commission's Water Quality branch and Theodore Briganti, of Freeport, New York, as head of the Project Review branch. Their appointment brings the new Commission's professional staff to a total of eight persons.

Robertson, who is 37, has been on leave from his job as water use and development engineer for the State of North Carolina to do graduate work at Harvard University in water resource planning. A graduate in civil engineering from Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Robertson has held water engineering positions with the U. S. Public Health Service, Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission, the State of Virginia and Fredericksburg, Virginia.

Briganti, a civil engineering graduate of New York University, has served several consulting firms as chief sanitary engineer and has worked for the U. S. Geological Service and New York State. He last worked for Brown Engineers of New York. He is 48.

The two engineers will work under Herbert A. Howlett, the Commission's Chief of Planning. Another branch head position, for Project Planning, is still vacant. Robertson's annual salary is $16,000 and Briganti's $14,000.

The federal-interstate compact under which the Commission was created and assigned jurisdiction last year ordered the preparation of a comprehensive plan for development of the Delaware River system in which the fight against water pollution is a leading feature.

The compact also directed that no private or public project having a substantial effect on the basin's water resources may be undertaken without Commission approval. It is in these respective areas that Robertson and Briganti will function.

Tannersville Lions Host Zone Meet

THE regular meeting of the Tannersville Lions was held at the Pocono Township Vol. Fire House with the dinner being served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Co.

Short meeting of the club was held and all the guest members present were introduced.

A moment of silence was held in honor of Lion Robert W. Stadden who died in November.

The club is still asking for glasses that are not of any use to anyone. These glasses may be given to any member of the Tannersville Lion Club or left at the Tannersville Post Office. The glasses are then sent to "Glasses For the Needy" to be put to use by persons unable to buy glasses.

Following the regular meeting of the Tannersville Club the meeting was then turned over to Lloyd Ross, zone chairman. Ross introduced Richard Ketterer who is general chairman of the 1963 state convention which will be held in Allentown this spring. Ketterer spoke on the plans of the coming convention.

Lion Deputy District Governor Paul Maxwell spoke on various zone problems. He also spoke on the Eye Bank. The Northeast Pennsylvania Eye Bank, Inc., which was founded in 1957 by the Lions Clubs of District 14-K has now over 2,000 eyes donated. Maxwell also spoke on the benefits of establishing a Leo Club.

International Counsellor William Roberts spoke on the visitors vacation exchange. It provides a method whereby people of other countries will come to know us better through their own people, it can be a great tool for peace in the world, he said.

Merlin Oyer, district membership development director, showed a film on "What Is Lionism."

Lion Ralph Lockard, international counsellor, from the Richmond Club, gave a talk on Lionism.

The next meeting of the club will be held Dec. 11 at the Tannersville Fire Hall.

GI Insurance Dividends To 250,000

MORE than $327 million in 1963 GI insurance dividends — including a special dividend of $90 million — will be paid in record time, according to John S. Gleason, Jr., Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

Plans for payment of both regular and special 1963 dividends were announced by the White House.

Under a greatly speeded-up timetable, the entire payment of both regular and special dividend payments is expected to be completed during the month of January, 1963.

About $222 million of the $327 million total is the regular 1963 dividend that will go to nearly five million World War II veterans holding National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) policies.

More than $15 million will go to 250,000 World War I veterans who hold U. S. Government Life Insurance (USGLI) policies.

Regular dividends, which are distributed annually, have regularly been paid on the anniversary date of the original issuance of the policy. On this occasion, the payment will be speeded up to be completed within the month of January. An accelerated method was used once before by the Veterans Administration when the regular dividends during 1961 were paid by mid-March of that year.

Special Dividend

In addition to the regular dividend, the VA will pay a special dividend of $90 million during 1963 to all World War II NSLI policyholders. A previous special dividend was paid to World War II policyholders during 1961.

The dividends which are paid to both World War I and World War II policyholders are primarily a return to the policyholders since the death rate among GI policyholders continues to be lower than the rate upon which the payments were established by law.

The special dividend will be paid from the contingency reserve fund due to the fact that study and current experience indicate that the fund is more than ample to meet the needs of the insurance program.

VA officials reminded veteran policyholders that the preparing and mailing of the dividend payment was automatic and required no correspondence from veterans or their families. In fact, such correspondence might delay the dividend disbursement process, they said.

Yule Stamp Going Like Hot Cakes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postal officials said yesterday they might put an extra printing press into service to help fill the record-breaking demand for the new 4-cent Christmas postage stamp.

"If somebody could invent a hot cake that would sell like this stamp, he could make a fortune," said James Furley, Post Office Department information aide.

Postmasters throughout the nation have reported a sellout of the Christmas stamp, he said.

He estimated sales might run to 750 million stamps by the end of the holiday season. The previous record for a special issue was 320 million for the 4-cent stamp commemorating John H. Glenn's space flight earlier this year.

Two Engineers Named To DRBC

TRENTON, N. J. (AP) — Two engineers were appointed Wednesday to head departments on the Delaware River Basin Commission.

David A. Robertson of Cambridge, Mass., was named head of the commission's water quality branch at a salary of $16,000 a year. Theodore Briganti of Freeport, N. Y., was named to head the project review branch at $14,000.

James F. Wright, executive director of the commission, said the appointments bring the commission's professional staff to eight. Robertson, 37, has held water engineering positions with the U.S. Public Health Service, Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission, and with the states of Virginia and North Carolina.

Briganti, 48, has served consulting firms and worked for the U.S. Geological Service and New York State.

Apartment Planned

MOSCOW (AP) — An apartment hotel, planned to be Europe's largest, is under construction near the Kremlin, said the Soviet news agency Tass. It will accommodate 6,000 residents and include shops, two restaurants, two theaters and a park-like roof area, Tass said.

frontation on the world's future is beginning to shake down a little bit.

Communism is not surrendering. The secretary-general of the United Nations has joined the well-populated ranks of those who think there is a leavening in Soviet attitudes, that there have been changes in the Communist world front since Stalin which offer roads to compromise. He thinks the West is too afraid that compromise means surrender.

The corner stone of the current belief in the possibility of change in world affairs rests off-center, primarily on quick Soviet retreat from the Cuban attempt to apply fear in political maneuvers against the United States.

Shaky Support

Another of the rather shaky supports of this theory is that the internal fissures in the Communist monolith, as displayed in world party reaction to the split between Moscow and Peking, represent an important weakening of anticapitalism.

The Red Chinese punchpuling in India is being related to the Soviet punchpuling in Cuba.

The Communists, as a world force, are of balance, and so, among the wishful thinkers, are subject to a change of heart as well as a change of tactics.

In the basis of hard reality, it appears more likely that Communist retreats are from positions which they undertook primarily as calculated risks, from which they could safely withdraw if the reaction proved too strong.

Both of the main Communist entities are in trouble. They are in danger of losing the momentum upon which their existence depends.

Indeed, Red China's seams are so badly strained that the Soviet Union may be beginning to look more to the East than to the West for a profitable salvage operation. This may be especially true since the Western collapse, upon which Stalinist-Leninist hopes were so fondly based, now seems more remote than ever.

Regrouping?

If that were true, an easing of Western pressure on Moscow now could only serve to release available Soviet power for renewed activity in Asia, Stalin once did it for Hitlerite power in the West. Then some day a stronger Soviet Union could once more return to the Stalin-Leninist dream.

The lull in Soviet pressures seems far more likely to mean a regrouping for return to the attack than a search for shelter.

Moscow may have to move cautiously for a time, as she is doing with regard to Berlin, India and China. But so far the West has either not been willing or not been able to mobilize the pressures by which a real Soviet search for shelter could be made essential.

JFK Threatened; Man Is Arrested

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Secret Service agents arrested a Birmingham resident yesterday on a charge that he threatened the life of President Kennedy in a letter.

He was identified as James B. Hubka, 20.

In a hearing before U.S. Commissioner Louise O. Charlton, Hubka said he wrote the letter.

He was held under $25,000 bond. The agents said the letter was sent to J. Walter Yagley of the Department of Justice.

Hubka twice asked Mrs. Charlton if he could explain his actions, but she refused.

Mrs. Charlton said she was not interested in his motives, that they are "between you and your God."

If convicted, Hubka could be fined $1,000 or sent to prison for five years, or both.

Soviets Kill Hope Of Test Ban Pact

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union killed all Western hopes yesterday that an emergency nuclear test ban agreement could be rushed into operation by the end of the year.

Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsaraplin told a subcommittee of the 17-nation disarmament conference there will never be any agreement so long as the West insists on inspection of suspicious underground disturbances.

For their part, U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean and British Minister of State Joseph B. Godber reiterated that a quota of on-site inspections must be included in any system ending tests.

Dean declared the installation of black boxes—robot seismic detectors—would not abolish the need for such inspections or completely replace manned control posts.

He said a network of the boxes, if made tamper proof, would have some auxiliary value in recording earth disturbances. But he challenged Tsaraplin's claim that such a network, plus existing national detection systems, would eliminate the need for on-site inspections.

The subcommittee met for 2½ hours. The participants agreed only that the nuclear negotiations were stalemated.

Western diplomats said privately Tsaraplin's rejection of emergency test ban proposals advanced by the nonatomic powers undoubtedly reflected a new stiff attitude in Moscow.

Westerners said Tsaraplin apparently is under instructions to frustrate any new moves in the nuclear negotiations, and keep the conference frozen.

The disarmament conference is required to make a progress report to the U.N. General Assembly Dec. 10.

Deer Hunters Shoot Horses

ROMNEY, W. Va. (AP)—It was bound to happen.

The natural resources department here received yesterday a complaint from Donald Hott that deer hunters using spotlights shot two horses on his farm near here Sunday night.

The deer season didn't begin until Monday. And spotlighting is definitely illegal.

Hott said one horse was killed, the other wounded.

Production Of Paperboard Dips

NEW YORK (AP)—The production of paperboard, which has innumerable uses, especially in the packaging field, dropped to the lowest level for a non-holiday week since early July, the National Paperboard Association said. It said production in the week ended Dec. 1 was 324,169 tons, compared with 331,113 a week earlier.

Stripped Of Rank

K Disparages Abstract Art

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press gave special prominence yesterday to disparage remarks about abstract art made by Premier Khrushchev.

The premier issued his pronouncement after visiting a display of abstract paintings at an undisclosed spot in Moscow.

"One isn't able to tell," said Khrushchev, "if they were drawn by the hand of man, or smeared by the tail of a donkey."

He said such paintings were alien to the Soviet way of life and implied they would not be tolerated.

The official party newspaper Pravda spread his remarks over more than a fourth of its front page Sunday. Most other newspapers, including the official military newspaper Krasnaya Zvezda—Red star—did the same.

Pravda and Krasnaya Zvezda had identical headlines: "The lofty calling of Soviet art is to serve the people — the cause of communism."

Centre County Man Killed

MILL HALL, Pa. (AP)—A 19-year-old Centre County man was killed yesterday when a car and truck collided on Route 220, two miles west of here.

State police identified the dead man as John W. Shope, 29, of Monaca. He was driving the car which collided with a pickup truck driven by Raymond Derolph, 19, Reynoldsville, a student at the Williamsport Technical School.

Blair Heverly, 44, also of Monaca, Shope's passenger, was injured. He was reported in serious condition at the Lock Haven Hospital. Derolph was admitted for treatment of shock and a possible leg fracture.

Scranton Got Strong Cash Backing

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov.-elect William W. Scranton received strong financial support from out of state friends and relatives in his bid for the governor's chair, it was disclosed yesterday.

Expense accounts filed with the State Elections Bureau show at least $14,000 in out-of-state contributions for the Scranton campaign.

The contributors included Henry R. Luce, board chairman of Time, Inc., New York; James A. Linen III, president of Time, Inc., and Scranton's brother-in-law; and Dr. H. M. Rozendaal, another brother-in-law, from Schenectady, N. Y.

Linen and Rozendaal each contributed $3,000 and Luce $2,000. Scranton's two sisters, Mrs. Rozendaal and Mrs. Linen contributed $3,000 each.

Non-state residents contributing to the Van Zandt for the U. S. Senate Committee included Alice Roscher of Hallandale Beach, Fla., $5,000; James A. Noe, Monroe, La., $1,000; and Hugh L. Stone, San Angelo, Tex. $1,000.

Rep. James E. Van Zandt also was listed as a $2,500 contributor. But he also reported in a statement under affidavit Nov. 26 that his personal expenses did not exceed $150.

Wife Aids Van Zandt
Van Zandt's wife, Esther, was listed as contributing $2,575 to her husband's campaign.

Other New York contributors to the Scranton campaign fund included: Thomas J. Watson Jr., president of International Business Machines, and Arthur K. Watson, who each gave $1,000.

The largest individual contributions came from two Harrisburg men—Robert M. Munna and Robert H. Stewart—each who gave $5,000—the maximum allowed by state law.

Pennsylvanians making key contributions to the Scranton-Van Zandt ticket were Roger Blough, board chairman of U. S. Steel Corp., $1,000; J. Howard Pew of Philadelphia, $3,000; J. N. Pew Jr. of Philadelphia, $3,000; Mabel Ethel Pew, Philadelphia, $3,000; R. K. Mellon, Pittsburgh, $1,000; and Mrs. Alan M. Scalle, Pittsburgh, $1,000.

Committees
The Scranton for Governor Committee reported total contributions of $74,124. Total receipts for the Van Zandt for U. S. Senate Committee amounted to $64,015.

Labor unions played a big role in financial contributions to the campaign. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, re-elected Democrat.

The United Steelworkers of America and the International Ladies Garment Workers Union each chipped in with $5,000 apiece while the Textile Workers Union contributed $1,000 and the United Auto Workers Citizenship Department $2,000.

Total contributions for the Clark committee were $106,914. The Clark-Dillworth Committee for Southeastern Pennsylvania reported contributions of $114,169 with $60,000 coming from the Democratic State Finance Committee.

Wind Gap Council To Study Plan

WIND GAP — David Pritchard, borough engineer, was instructed by the Wind Gap Borough Council at a meeting this week to work on a plan to change the width of Constitution Avenue from a 60-foot right-of-way to a 46-foot right-of-way.

Council said that after the plan is worked out and approved, James Charron, borough solicitor, will be authorized to draft an ordinance to ordain the street.

The Pennsylvania Department of Justice informed council that the borough lockup was inspected and was given a rating of "good".

The council decided to work out a solution to a problem of locating a line, fronting on the property of Alexandria Cortez, on the south side of East Center Street, for the purpose of having curbing installed on the property.

The council decided to have the Blue Mountain Consolidated Water Co. install new fire hydrants on the north side of Lehigh Avenue, west of the Davey residence, and at Maple Street and Alpha Road.

The property committee was instructed to investigate insurance coverage for the boiler in the borough building to comply with the new bill recently passed in connection with public buildings.

Receipts for the month totaled $1,072.32. It was decided to borrow $1,000 from the Wind Gap Citizens Bank to meet current expenses. Expenses were $1,976.42.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 7 in Borough Hall.

Fewer Business Failures In Nov.

NEW YORK (AP)—The number of commercial and industrial failures through November totaled 15,004 or 313 a week, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported Wednesday.

The business news and statistics firm said this compares with 16,163 or 337 a week in the similar 1961 period. Failures for the week ended Nov. 29 rose to 332 from 253 in the Thanksgiving week and compared with 356 a year ago.

Focus On Health

Poisoned Babies Lifesaver Heads Week's Medical News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A lifesaver for poisoned babies, chemicals to improve memory, and wine as a diet aid are in the medical news:

Baby Saver

In Binghamton, N.Y., last March 14, babies accidentally received formulas containing salt instead of sugar. They began dying from excess salt in their bloodstreams.

Three were saved by a technique which exchanged salt for sugar, and this method has since been used successfully in adults with similar salt poisoning, reports Dr. John E. Kiley of Albany Medical Center.

A solution of sugar and water is injected into the abdominal cavity, and left there for two to three hours. The sugar filters slowly into the bloodstream, and salt follows.

Four Killed In Milton Crash

MILTON, Pa. (AP)—The driver and one of the three young occupants of an automobile were killed Wednesday when their car swerved off Rt. 220 and crashed into a tree.

State police said the car apparently was traveling at high speed when the accident occurred north of Picture Rock in Lycoming County.

Barbara Ann Barto, 17, Hughesville, was reported in serious condition at Muncy Valley Hospital, Muncy. Less seriously hurt and in the same hospital was Calvin Bailey, 21, Picture Rock.

ters slowly into fluid in the abdomen. The salty water then is removed, and the process repeated as necessary until the bloodstream becomes normal in salt content.

Learn Tasks

Memory Booster
Tiny injections of the powerful poison, strychnine, enable rats to learn tasks more quickly, and with fewer errors.

Not only that, they remember better how to do the task if they get strychnine injections one minute after initial trials, says Dr. James L. McGaugh, associate professor of psychology at the University of Oregon.

Strychnine and other drugs stimulate the central nervous system, although the exact mechanism is not known. Far too poisonous for human use, strychnine in these experiments might show the way to development of similar but less dangerous drugs to help control mental deficiency, or improve learning and memory.

Diet Aid

Reducing Aid
Wine taken with or right after dinner helps overweight persons stay on a reducing diet, a physician finds.

It probably acts as a tranquilizer, and reduces the emotional tension of sticking to a diet, says Dr. Giorgio Lolli of the International Center of Psychodietetics, New York City.

Men and women taking a few ounces of wine with meals or dessert cut down their daily food intake and showed small but consistent weight losses, he says. Wine at bedtime also reduced nightly refrigerator raids. Glasses of wine taken 30 minutes before dinner, however, did not have any detectable effect.

Wind Gap Bank To Hold Open House

THE Citizens Bank of Wind Gap will hold open house for residents of the area on Dec. 8, 2 to 8 p. m. The completely renovated and enlarged facilities will offer beautiful, comfortable and modern banking service in every department.

The Citizens Bank of Wind Gap, established in 1914 by local people to serve the needs of local people, had as its first president, Oscar A. Greenzweig.

In 1957, A. L. Greenzweig was elected president of the Citizens Bank of Wind Gap. Greenzweig served as a member of the Board since 1940 and its vice president from 1950.

Time deposits have more than doubled, total assets have increased over fifty per cent, and the number of loans extended has doubled. New services offered to customers include consumer loans, car financing, banking by mail, night depository, drive in window, parking accommodations, modern bookkeeping machines, micro-film equipment has been installed for recording all transactions. The expanded institution offers the service and convenience of a metropolitan bank, plus the friendliness and interest found only in a small, progressive community.

Present officers and directors of the Citizens Bank of Wind Gap are: A. L. Greenzweig, president; George N. Miller, vice president; M. Frank Schick, vice president; Ellis Griffith, secretary-treasurer, and Floyd Breidinger, J. Lawrence Davis and L. A. Teel.

Press Contest Awards Made

HARRISBURG (AP)—A total of 118 awards will be distributed next year in the 1963 annual Keystone Press Awards Contest, it was announced Wednesday by the co-sponsoring Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association.

Contest Chairman Jerome Weinstein, editor of the Centre Daily Times at State College, said the entry deadline is Feb. 1.

Eligible to compete are staffers of PNPA member newspapers, and members of the Pennsylvania Society of Newspaper Editors. These two organizations, with the Pennsylvania State University School of Journalism, sponsor the competition.

Wintering Rose Bushes

By George Abraham
YOU'D THINK it would be an easy matter to tell you how to winter protect your roses. I can't tell you how to bring roses through the winter because I don't know, even though I've studied the problem for years. Does anyone really know?

We've been advocating this policy: Allow the rose canes to harden up by a few freezes in the fall, then apply your favorite covering, if you believe in covering. This philosophy has been advocated by rosarians for years. Now there's a new concept!

The director of research of the largest rose growing firm tells me that since roses actually winter-kill in fall by severe freezes the newest philosophy is to cover roses in Mid-October even if in full foliage and full bloom. If the roses are covered to six or eight inches, even with foliage and flowers on, the freeze isn't apt to go below that cover.

The director tells me that he applies a rose spray to cover the canes, and his firm cuts back the tops only enough to keep the plants from swinging in the wind. The company is using sawdust as a cover this year. It feels that sawdust if available, will help make rose culture a lot more interesting.

How large a mound should be placed over the rose bush? The point where the rose is budded or grafted is particularly tender and it should be covered with at least 6 inches of soil.

Many gardeners write and tell me they don't bother to mound their roses and have just as good luck as their neighbors who do protect the plants. How do you account for this? I wish I had an answer.

Roses vary considerably in their hardiness or ability to withstand cold. Some of the newer hybrid teas, floribunda, and grandiflora roses are hardy, but probably need extra protection. Rose hybridizers in their search for better flower form and new colors have had to settle for the loss of some inherent hardiness in these plants.

RABBITS AND MICE: What's a good home-made repellent for trees and shrubs frequented by rabbits, mice and deer? I mentioned our alcohol-rosin formula and it works with some success. Dissolve 7 lbs. of rosin in 1 gallon of denatured alcohol and paint tree trunk or shrubs.

One of my readers prefers to use another home made repellent which she feels is more effective. She mixes 9 parts of linseed oil (by weight) with 1 part of dusting sulfur. Here's how she does it: Heat the linseed oil in a double boiler, then take it outside and stir the sulfur into the oil, stirring slowly. The repellent is brushed on with a wall paper brush.

It smells bad but works good since the animals don't like the sulfur smell. The sulfonated oil repellent doesn't harden, as does the rosin material. Try it and tell me how you like it.

DUMB CANE: What causes the bottom leaves to droop? Usually if dumb cane gets too much water or if the soil is poorly drained, the leaves will droop. Dry soil causes same condition. Yellowing can be due to low temperatures, dry soil or dry air.

Dumb Cane or Dieffenbachia likes it warm, humid and shade from direct sun. I have a 10 ft. Dumb Cane which I'm shortening. To do this you cut a slit through the stem, insert a sliver of wood in the wound, wrap a ball of damp sphagnum moss around it and then wrap tightly with a sheet of plastic film. Wrap wire around the plastic.

It takes about a year for the moss to have enough roots for cutting. You make the cut below the moss and then pot the rooted plant in a florist pot.

POTTED MUM PLANTS: Should the florist mum be saved and grown on again in the garden? Usually most florist mums are too late for outdoor blooming, but they may be saved for indoor blooms.

After years has finished flowering, cut the tops back to about 4 inches, keep the soil slightly moist and grow the plant on in a cellar window. When spring comes it can be planted outdoors. You'll find it sending out small shoots. Break these off and root in sand or water.

The mum can be grown in full sun. If it doesn't form buds when fall comes, dig it up and bring indoors where it will bloom as soon as the nights grow longer. Or to put it another way: when the days get shorter it'll start to bloom.

PHILODENDRON NOTES: Why is it you buy philodendrons from a florist (or stores) and the leaves are nice and large. After two months in the home the leaves start to get small. One reason is a lack of light.

As I mentioned recently, these vines need intense, though filtered light if kept at home temperatures, or the leaves will grow smaller and smaller. The Swiss Cheese plant needs more light than the true philodendrons, or the leaves will not split.

GREEN THUMB NOTE: Friends, if you wrote me regarding your Candle & Cone bulletin and have not heard from me, perhaps it was due to improper addressing. Never say "City" or "Local" on your self-addressed, stamped envelopes. The postoffice does not know which town or city you mean, and as a result we have these returned. Always be sure your return address is complete, correct and accurate.

A GOOD TIP: A reader writes: "I make candles, using a cardboard milk carton as you suggested. To fancy up the square candle I place pictures from old Christmas cards on the sides. Then I whip paraffin and ice the corners, top and bottom of the cards. All my friends think the candles are extra pretty."

Another good tip passed to me: The ladies' hair spray does a fine job keeping catfalls from opening. If you're one who's wanted a way to keep catfalls from exploding, then here's your answer.

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

It was a confusing kind of a day, starting from daybreak — which didn't, causing a lot of people, lulled by the dim light and the soft drip of rain, to oversleep, which started everything off on the wrong foot.

Including ordinarily conscientious publicity chairmen who got so involved in personal affairs that they forgot to call in the club meetings. "Car 54 where are you?" I kept hearing.

Then in my mailbox there were letters from both of the children, which always makes a red letter day — except Peter's was in the form of a tape recording in answer to ours of Thanksgiving. Something like that to a mother with no tape recorder of her own to play it on is one of the quickest ways to drive her absolutely stark, staring mad.

Six busy but tortured hours later I managed to get to a tape recorder, only to discover that the original voices hadn't been erased and his voice only came through in snatches. So a techs like "And my other big news is —", or "I've been dating —", only to be drowned out by my own voice saying something that sounded idiotic even when I said it.

But that's not all. I was the instrument for bringing down the same kind of flickering nightmare on my nephew, who arrived to go back to Dippy Dell deer hunting. Since Ray Price had come in for a meeting and was going back later last night I arranged to leave Topper at the Penn-Stroud where he'd pick him up after the meeting.

It sounded sensible, but it didn't look sensible when I dumped him off in well-worn hunting garb, complete with a mungy-looking quilt, a pillow and his gun, and told him to wait in the lobby. If ever a human could look like a wounded deer, he did. What the Penn-Stroud thought of that addition to their decor I didn't dare wait to see.

However in the whole confusing day, there was one thing I did get straightened out. I had met Jean Eshback again at the dinner which the Pocono Art Center gave for David Mark, the young author and playwright in one of their conversations not long ago. Yesterday when I got the news of their marriage, I wondered whether I had seen the start of a whirlwind courtship. But I found out that it was the other way around: that the Art Center was able to have him as their guest because he was already a friend of Jean. Anyway, the marriage made a proper happy ending, and I'm glad at least one thing worked out right for somebody.

College Party Plans Progressing

Plan for the College Night party are shaping up. The adult committee sponsoring the affair met to discuss details at the Penn-Stroud Hotel where the party will be held on Dec. 26 from 8:30 to 12 midnight.

The party is planned as a holiday event for all Monroe County students now attending higher institutions of learning and their guests.

This is the fourth year for the party. Mrs. W. Ashley Anderson and Mrs. J. S. Swartley have served as co-chairmen for the three previous parties. Continuing to serve this year are Mrs. Frank L. Patterson, Mrs. Eugene Martin, Mrs. Robert O. Schell, Mrs. Edward Williams, Mrs. Evan Reese, Mrs. Edward Driebe, Mrs. T. I. Metzgar, Mrs. William Wyckoff and Mrs. J. L. Cohen.

Added to the committee as new members this year are: Mrs. Charles Bensinger, Jr., Mrs. William Tarr, Mrs. Walter McClelland, Mrs. Francis Shinn, Mrs. William Howard, Mrs. Z. J. Viechnick, Mrs. Edmund A. Strickland and Mrs. Russell Imbt, Jr.

Sun. School Delegates

Bartonville — Joanne Dunbar, Sarah Jane Cyphers, Donna Hartman and Dorothy Possinger were delegates, from St. John's Lutheran Sunday School, to the recent Monroe County Sunday School convention held at the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church and served as ushers at both evening sessions.

Berean Class Friday

Bartonville — The Berean Class of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School will hold their annual Christmas party at the parish house on Friday night, Dec. 7, at 8.

TWIST, STOMP or cha cha cha, this recreation room offers an ideal area for teenage entertaining. Complete with fireplace, television set and soda bar with chairs, the room includes an acoustical ceiling to provide quiet for the rest of the home from the noise of active teenage parties. The giant record in the floor is created by using contrasting colors in vinyl flooring in six foot widths, which also offer an ideal dance surface.

S. S. Christmas Program Dec. 23

Bartonville — The children of St. John's Lutheran Sunday School will present a Christmas program for their relatives and friends on Sunday morning, December 23, at 10 o'clock.

The first practice for the program will be held at the church on Saturday afternoon, December 8, at 2.

Old-Fashioned Turkish Delight Goes Modern

Youngsters living in the first half of this century were lucky: their mothers, or teen-age sisters, were likely to go into the kitchen around holiday time and make a batch of Turkish Delight.

Several years ago culinary experimenters came up with a new edition of this sweet, using a modern product — nonfat dry milk. When recently we tried an orange-flavored version of this latest rule, we felt it was worth passing along.

ORANGE TURKISH DELIGHT

3 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 1/4 cups cold orange juice
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
1/2 cup extra-cold orange juice
1/2 cup nonfat dry milk solids
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Extra chopped walnuts or grated coconut

In a large mixing bowl, sprinkle gelatin over 1/2 cup of the cold orange juice to soften. In a 2-quart saucepan stir together the sugar, corn syrup and remaining 1/2 cup cold orange juice; stir constantly over moderate heat until mixture reaches a rolling boil; boil for 5 minutes without stirring. Remove from heat; pour over softened gelatin; stir until gelatin dissolves. Stirring occasionally, cool at room temperature to the consistency of a thick syrup — 45 to 60 minutes. Pour the 1/2 cup extra-cold orange juice into a medium mixing bowl. Add dry milk and beat with an electric beater until soft peaks form — about 3 to 4 minutes; add lemon juice; beat until very stiff, washing beater, beat into gelatin mixture until smooth. Fold in chopped walnuts and orange rind. Turn into buttered 9-inch square pan. Chill at least one hour. Cut into 36 pieces. Roll in extra chopped nuts or grated coconut. Store, covered, in refrigerator where it will keep well for about a week.

If you want those beef short ribs to be rich and flavorful, braise them with sliced onions and very little liquid.

Churchwomen Play Santa Claus For 354 Patients At State Mental Hospital

At least 354 patients at the Allentown State Hospital will have personal remembrances this year in a project of the member churches of the Monroe County Council of United Church Women under the auspices of the Monroe County Mental Health Assn.

That's how many stockings the members made and filled with personal gifts this year. There were 21 churches contributing to the project. Members of the Mental Health Assn. are now preparing the shipment for delivery to the hospital in time for Christmas.

Mrs. Claude Leister is president of the county council of church women. Mrs. Nathan Meyer was chairman of the Christmas stocking committee which included Mrs. Albert Sommer, Mrs. Milton Mery and Miss Grace DePue.

Participating churches included: Pocono Lake: Salem United Church of Christ and Methodist Church; Mount Pocono, Methodist Church; Tannersville, Methodist Church and Grace United Church of Christ; Poplar Valley and Cherry Valley Methodist Churches also contributed.

Stroudsburg churches taking part were the Zion United Church of Christ, Christ Episcopal, Presbyterian, Methodist, Seventh Day Adventist and St. John's Lutheran.

East Stroudsburg: Grace Lutheran, Methodist, Presbyterian and the Home League of the Salvation Army.

Also contributing were the Shawnee Presbyterian Church; the Delaware Water Gap Presbyterian and Methodist Churches and the Middle Smithfield Presbyterian.

Family Party For Lady Reindeer

A Christmas party for members of Stroudsburg Herd No. 12, Ladies Independent Order of Reindeer will follow a short business meeting on Monday night at the Odd Fellows Hall.

Santa Claus is expected to distribute gifts for the children. Adults will exchange gifts ranging from fifty cents to a dollar. Refreshments will be served.

Members who have not yet brought gifts for the pound party held for one of the young members of the lodge are reminded to bring the gift to this meeting. The business session has been called for 7 p.m. teachers will be installed at a special service on Sunday at the 10:30 a.m. service.

'ROUND AND ABOUT WYCKOFF'S—

With Christmas three weeks away, it is natural that the humor overheard in our employees' lounge is "straight from the cob". Everyone is weary and slap happy. A dozen times a day someone is sure to demand, "D'ya know a good gift suggestion for the man who has everything?" A dozen times a day someone is sure to bite—and all of us, anxious to laugh at something, chuckle at the answer: "A box to put it in". As I said before, we're all a bit weary and we'll be more so before Christmas eve *** but we're thrilled that this is true. It would be a sad state of affairs if we weren't busy, wouldn't it? ... Among the most genial of the Christmas shoppers visiting our store Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Haven Shaffer of Nazareth. Mrs. Shaffer tells me they recently purchased a new radio for her kitchen so she can continue listening to The Wyckoff Shopper program every morning. "You didn't know you helped clean the upstairs last week, did you?" she chuckled. I said no, but I was happy we did it before the holidays. Now if we could only do MY house, things would be perfect. ... Hannah Shupp feels I should mention some of the interesting new merchandise in our Gift department: the brassware from India, for instance, with its etched design and precious "look of gold". There are vases that appear very impressive, for less than four dollars, and ash trays for as little as 39c. And have you seen all the elephants and horses, that look as old as Methuselah and are really museum pieces? For the Top Brass on your list, why not an art object of brass this year? Or why not onyx bookends, or a very beautiful piece of cut glass from Germany? Our International Gift Center has literally burst its seams with the unusual. ... I have been talking on the air about chess sets for men, women or children who are devotees of the game. Chess is Greek to me. My mind can't cope with queens, and knights, and kings, and such, all moving in different directions. My son plays, and would love to own a set of handcarved ivory chessmen. We sell them boxed in velvet—real works of art. These are way beyond my pocketbook, but there are others of alabaster and inlaid or enameled woods that are charming. You'll see some in our front window, but do come inside for closer observation ... Near the center aisle cash register there is a table arranged with Swank accessories for the men. There are covered jewel boxes, trays with compartments for all the items men carry in their pockets (one has a clothes brush that forms the front of a penguin, standing upright on the tray) and the Valet-er, which is box-like without lid. One style is black lined with red, another is black with orange, a third is brown with tan, and a fourth combines black and olive. Older, more conservative men, favor the covered boxes I notice, but the teen-age crowd goes for the Valet-er, priced at 3.95 ... Hannah Shupp also tells me to suggest big wooden, brassbanded buckets for your Christmas poinsettia plants or tree. These buckets vary in size, and are priced from 5.00 to 13.00. ... Have you purchased your Christmas fruit cake as yet? I notice our Candy department is once again stocking the Crosse & Blackwell cake which I personally consider the finest on the market; also some of the most delicious looking fruit cake miniatures I've ever seen. The Mrs. Carter miniatures, in their neat fluted cups, are just right for serving guests. After all, fruit cake is rich and we women are calorie counters. We also have some mighty appetizing looking cheese wedges, imported sardines, and other delicacies in attractive boxes, baskets, or trays. These can be expensive or inexpensive, as one wishes and are just the gift for a gourmand ... I could go on like this for pages, but "covering Wyckoff's" is a full time, go-by-foot job if one is to see everything. Why don't you make the Grand Tour today—or tonight until nine?

LAUREL MANOR OPENINGS

Marines Set Sights On Women

GUNNERY Sergeant A. John Dattilo, the Marine recruiter for Stroudsburg area, announced that Marine Corps careers and opportunities are far from being slanted toward men only.

"Quite to the contrary, career and vocational opportunities for women in today's modern Marine Corps are virtually unlimited. There was a time when people thought of a Marine as a foot soldier with packs and rifles.

"True enough, there is, and will always be the need for infantrymen in the Marine Corps, for the individual Marine with his rifle is still the finest weapon ever conceived," he continued.

"But today we have reached an age of technical advancement where it takes more than mere physical strength and agility to maintain our winning team. Today's Marine not only possesses the physical characteristics that have marked him as outstanding in the past, but he is mentally agile, as well," Dattilo said.

He continued, "In our modern force of readiness, we have young men and women working side by side in nearly all technical fields... fields such as electronics, data processing, aircraft control, aerology and communications."

Qualified
In spite of the fine men and women we have in the Marine Corps," Sgt. Dattilo continued, "there will always be a need for more qualified young men and women."

"At the present time, we have several advantageous programs available to men and women interested in becoming part of the Marine Corps. One program that applies to men and women is the '120-Day Delay' program," he concluded.

This program enables an applicant to join the Marine Corps but remain at home for a period up to 120 days and to choose his or her date for reporting to active duty.

Other advantages to this program is the fact that the new year Tobacco common stock which I owned outright and put them up as collateral, so that I could buy 1,500 more shares, at $28.50 a share. The broker charged me five percent interest on the money I borrowed through him, in order to buy the 1,500 additional shares. The dividends paid on those shares more than pay that interest charge.

I am speculating that the market value of this stock will rise. What's wrong with that?

A. Nothing — as long as you realize that it's a straight speculation. And that's simply another word for gamble. When you buy on margin, you gamble. That's all there is to it.

If the market value of American Tobacco common stock rises, you'll be a winner. If it falls, you'll be a big loser.

Actually, at the price at which you bought those 1,500 additional shares, you're risk is reasonably well reduced. That stock sold as high as $55.75 a share late in 1961, came way down when stock prices in general went into a nosedive, and dipped even more as the result of the latest "cancer scare."

Like other big tobacco companies, this one has weathered reports allegedly linking cigarette smoking to cancer before — to post higher sales and earnings. American Tobacco common stock is considered a reasonable long-range investment and-or speculation.

You happen to have a stock on which the dividend (now at the rate of $1.50 a share a year) is more than sufficient to pay the interest charges on your borrowing.

Many people buy stocks with lower dividend yields when they deal on margin. As a result, there is a steady drain on their account from interest charges.

You mention that the broker is charging you five percent interest on your borrowing. That's low these days. Many (perhaps most) brokers charge about six percent. Either you have found a friendly broker or are a darned good customer.

Q. Much is being written these days about "tax selling." I can see that people in high income tax brackets can actually save money by selling stocks at a loss, in order to offset taxes resulting from the sale of stocks at a profit.

But can there be any real advantage in tax selling by people in the medium or low income tax brackets?

A. Yes, there can be. Tax selling can be quite complicated. Each individual is advised to seek individual advice from a broker and accountant or tax lawyer to work things out in his own situation.

Just the same, smart tax selling can mean savings of tax dollars — thereby resulting in "keeping money," no matter what tax bracket you happen to be in.

Remember that up to $1,000 of net capital losses in a year can be used to offset "ordinary income" — salaries, etc. In even the lowest tax bracket, that can mean a saving of up to $200 in your income tax bill.

(Mr. Doyle will answer only representative letters of general interest in his column. He cannot answer phone queries.)

Marine, while awaiting his reporting date, accrues longevity pay and promotion purposes, in effect giving him an automatic pay raise upon reporting for training, should he choose to take the full 120 days delay.

Also available are the "buddy program," where two or more friends may enlist and be guaranteed training in the same platoon and the aviation program.

In the latter, an applicant, if qualified, may be guaranteed in writing, assignment to the aviation field in the Marine Corps.

Bangor Council Re-enacts Earned Income Ordinance

BANGOR — Bangor residents will again face an earned income tax this year.

Bangor Borough Council, at its recent meeting, re-enacted the ordinance declaring a tax of one percent on all earned income, a tax it shares with the Bangor Borough School District.

The council also passed a second ordinance establishing again the $5 per capita tax.

Council also authorized that the initial steps be taken to acquire the portions of the Old Blake Estate on Pennsylvania Ave. that it needs to re-align the streets in the Fourth Ward area of the borough.

In view of the recent wave of robberies in the borough a long discussion was held by council on the matter of improving and increasing the amount of police protection presently available in the borough.

It was noted that police feel that there should be one police officer for each 1,000 population. Bangor currently has three full-time policemen and according to this ratio should have six. Miles Heller, chairman of the safety committee reported that the new police car had been placed in operation on Nov. 15 and Earl Menhennitt and Milton Frey were named officials under civilian defense.

Sewer Fund
Approval was given by council to pay $20,000 from the earned income tax to the borough sewer funds in order that the payment of $58,000 could be made according to plan on Dec. 15.

This money had been owed to the sewer account and had been previously budgeted for that purpose by the council. Final passage was also made on several ordinances revising the parking regulations and limiting truck traffic in certain sections of the borough, on designated streets.

Henry Thomas of the sewer committee reported that receipts of $7,332.23 were received during the past month. Expenditures were $694.63.

The report also showed that 1470 connecting permits had been issued; that $38,450 had been collected for 1,969 units and that 1,177 units had been connected to the system to date.

In an effort to protect the borough employees, council took steps to secure unemployment compensation for all borough employees. It was noted that employees now have unemployment insurance but the other protection had never been established for local workers.

Henry Thomas of the committee on sewers also noted that Samuel Becker, sewer plant operator who has been confined to his home with illness will return to his duties within the next several days.

Merlin Tucker of the building and grounds committee, indicated that minor repairs had been made to the library building and that painting and some repairs were being made to the municipal building.

After some discussion, council authorized that bids should be requested to place a new heating system in the Bee Hive (Youth Center) Building as soon as possible.

Warrick In Charge
Walter Warrick, president, had charge of the meeting and John Casoli of the street committee gave a routine report. Leonard Gruppo, of the sidewalk and lighting committee, reported that most residences of South Main Street are making an effort to pay the borough for repairs made to their sidewalks.

Numerous residents of the borough have informed councilmen that they have been unable to secure contractors to place new sidewalks following sewer construction. In an effort to assist property owners whose sidewalks have been rebuilt by the borough, council agreed to accept payments on an installment basis.

Each case will be individually treated by the sidewalk committee with the approval of council. Gruppo reported that his committee would tour the borough in the near future to study points where street lighting might be improved. Bills totaling approximately $20,000 were approved for payment.

Mayor Quintus LaBar reported receipts of $884.32 from the following sources: licenses $35; fines $37.30; building and digging permits, $8.25 and parking meters, $73.77. The following balances were noted in the borough accounts: general fund, $44,841.97 and state highway fund, $12,717.58.

Housing Order To Be Broadened
WASHINGTON (AP) — Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver indicated yesterday that President Kennedy's order banning discrimination in federally financed housing may be broadened to include conventional financing.

Weaver's comment came at a news conference spelling out regulations for enforcement of the order on new projects by the public housing, urban renewal and community facilities administrations.

At present the anti-discrimination order is restricted to private homes financed by the federal housing and veterans administrations — about 15 to 20 per cent of the total.

Conventional financing is the term the housing industry uses to refer to mortgages obtained through banks and similar institutions without government assistance or insurance.

Dismiss Petition Of Racketeer

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals dismissed a petition by former racketeer Frank Costello for a review of his deportation order.

The 71-year-old Costello is expected to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The appeals court yesterday upheld the government's contention that Costello, in his 1954 conviction for income tax evasion, had been found guilty of a crime of moral turpitude and therefore was deportable.

Warriors Romp To 69-51 Hoop Victory

EAST STROUDSBURG State College's basketball team last night triumphed over an outclassed Cheyney club on the ESSC court behind the steady shooting of John Murphy and Burt Reese.

Reese put the Warriors ahead with a free throw, followed by a driving layup for a 3-0 lead which was never relinquished. Cheyney trailed by a 20-point margin throughout most of the contest.

It marked the Warriors first court success of the year, after having dropped their opening game of the season to Montclair State last Saturday night.

For the Cheyney Wolves of Coach William O'Sheilds, it marked their cage debut of the 1962-63 season.

Only Owen Smyre kept the game fairly respectable as he dumped in 20 points on nine field goals and two free throws to lead both clubs in scoring. Murphy, meanwhile, tallied 18 for the Warriors of Coach Mort Hochheiser to lead his club for the second straight time. He notched 27 in the opener against Montclair. Reese was the only player on either team to reach double figures with a 13-point output.

Neither team sparked at the foul line, with ESSC hitting on 13 of 27, while Cheyney sunk 11 of 18.

At the start of the contest, Howie Best of Cheyney connected on a nifty pair of one-handers from the corner to bring the score to 5-4 before the Warriors opened up a gap of 11-4 as Will Pfeiffer hit on a one-hand pop from in front and Murphy added a brace of field goals with a one-hand pump from the side and a layup after driving the entire length of the court.

Widen Margin

East Stroudsburg went on another spree eight straight points with Murphy and Reese accounting for all the goals to widen the spread to 21-8.

After Cheyney hit double figures for a 21-10 count, Murphy combined with Jack Jones for another eight-point spurt and a 29-10 bulge which, to all intents and purposes, had put the game out of reach.

The Warriors built up a 39-20 halftime lead, and midway through the second half, opened the margin by 24 points when John Ferguson dumped in a two-pointer for a lead of 56-32—the biggest lead of the evening.

Hochheiser substituted freely throughout the rest of the game.

Time Short For Pitt's Fullback

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Time is running out for John Henry Johnson in his bid to overtake Green Bay's Jim Taylor for the National Football League's individual rushing honors, but the big Pittsburgh fullback has not given up trying.

Johnson, who was supposed to play second fiddle to rookie Bob Ferguson at the start of the season, gained 93 yards against St. Louis last Sunday to gain some ground but Taylor still leads with two weeks to go, 1,239 yards to Johnson's 1,016.

Although held to only 61 yards, Taylor rushed over for two touchdowns against Los Angeles and took over the scoring lead with 102 points, based on 17 touchdowns. He was tied with Jimmy Brown of Cleveland last week at 90 points each.

Bart Starr, Green Bay's quarterback, ousted Eddie LeBaron as the passing leader with a brilliant aerial display against the Rams. Starr completed 15 of 20 passes to move into first place with 152 completions in 235 attempts, good for 2,103 yards and a 64.7 average.

Mexicans Make Sweep Of India

MADRAS, India (AP)—The surprising Mexican Davis Cup team completed a 5-0 sweep of India Wednesday by winning the two final singles matches, and prepared to leave for Australia to challenge for the big international tennis trophy at Brisbane Dec. 26-28.

A Mexican victory in the doubles Tuesday clinched the interzone victory over India, sending Mexico into the challenge round for the first time ever.

Pius X Loses In Opener At Home

ROSETO—Al DeRenzis poured in 20 points for the Royals of Pius X here last night, but it was all in vain as a strong Summit Hill combine outplayed Pius quint to spoil their hoop debut, 61-40.

Wally Wahodes and Joe Perilli combined for a 29-point production between them, while teammate Leo Leonzi added 11 to overshadow the fine exhibition put on by the losers' DeRenzis.

Wahodes was top scorer for his club with 15, while Perilli hit the cords for a total of 14.

Coach John Thomas' Pius X quintet held the stronger and sharper-shooting Summit Hill club on even terms throughout the first period before the visitors put on a second-quarter blitz to take complete command of the ball game.

Summit Hill outscored the Royals by a 20-8 margin in that second canto for a halftime lead of 33-20, and it was all over after that.

The visitors poured in 16 more points in the third session while holding the Pius X squad to 10

for a 49-30 advantage entering the final stanza.

Only four Pius X players got into the scoring act, and only DeRenzis hit double figures. Steve Zegalia and Frank Godino tallied eight for the losers, while Frank Bartoli tossed in four to complete the scoring for the Royals.

On the foul line, Pius X connected on 12 of 21, while Summit Hill dumped in 15 of 25. Summit Hill outscored the Royals in field goals by a margin of 23 to 14.

Besides DeRenzis, Zegalia and Godino were the only players to hit from the floor for the Royals. Bartoli's four points all came from the foul marker. And DeRenzis was the only other Royal to hit from the free throw line, totaling eight of 11.

New Players Keep Coming To Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Senators acquired infielder Barry Breeding, outfielder Barry Shetrone and pitcher Art Quirk from Baltimore Wednesday in a swap for pitcher Pete Burnside and infielder Bob Johnson.

This raises to 10 the number of new players acquired by the Senators in the past week. Last week they purchased six players in draft sessions for $73,000 and picked up first baseman Rogelio Alvarez from Cincinnati.

General Manager George Selkirk plans to put Breeding at either shortstop or third base. Shetrone is viewed as adding badly-needed left-handed hitting to the Washington club.

Cubs' Hubbs Named NL '62 Rookie

BOSTON (AP)—Ken Hubbs of the Chicago Cubs, the slick-fielding second baseman who set two major league records last season, was named the National League rookie of the year Wednesday.

Hubbs, who will be 21 years old Dec. 23, gathered 19 of the 20 votes cast in the poll conducted by the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Don Clendenon, who forced slugging Dick Stuart off first base for the Pittsburgh Pirates, attracted the remaining ballot.

Hubbs had only one year in professional baseball before joining the Cubs this year. He played in the Class B Northwestern League before stepping up to the majors.

He played 78 consecutive games batted .360 but it was his work with the glove that set the National League agog.

He played 78 consecutive games without an error, erasing the major league record of 72 set by Bobby Doerr of the Boston Red Sox in 1948.

And his 418 chances accepted without a bobbie, going far better than the 414 Doerr handled in 1948.

The voting outcome marked the second straight year the honor went to the Chicago Cubs. Outfielder Billy Williams was the baseball writers' choice in 1961.

Sears, Naulls Go For Gola

NEW YORK (AP)—The floundering New York Knicks picked up Tom Gola, an old Madison Square Garden favorite, Wednesday in a trade with the San Francisco Warriors. The New Yorkers gave Kenny Sears and Willie Naulls in exchange.

The Knicks, in the NBA Eastern Division cellar 12 games out of first place, hope to get scoring punch, hustle, defense and crowd appeal from the veteran Gola.

Gola, who lives in Philadelphia where the Warriors played before their shift to San Francisco this season, was named the most valuable player in three Garden tournaments during his 1962-64 college days at LaSalle.

BILLY Bruton hit 17 home runs for Detroit in 1961, exceeding by five his previous high with Milwaukee.

Cincy's Bearcats Best In Country

Cincinnati's veteran - studded Bearcats, picking up where they left off last season when they captured their second straight NCAA basketball title, were nearly an unanimous pick Wednesday as the nation's top college cage team.

In The Associated Press first weekly poll of the season, a panel of sports writers and sportscasters gave the Bearcats 38 of the 44 votes cast. Only three other teams received top billing, Duke got three first place votes, West Virginia two and Texas one.

Duke Second

Cincinnati, which polished off its first two opponents with ease, accumulated 429 points, over 100 more than its closest pursuer, Duke's Blue Devils edged out the Mountaineers of West Virginia for second place, 307 points to 281.

Oddly enough, only one of the top ten teams in the AP pre-season poll, fell out of the elite group although Kentucky dropped all the way down from third to ninth because of its opening season home defeat by unheralded Virginia Tech. St. Bonaventure, a perennial cage power, was the team which was unceremoniously dumped from the top ten. The Bonnies were beaten by Southern Illinois in one of the most startling upsets of the infant season.

Top Ten

The top ten, based on total points allotted 10 points for a first place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third down to 1 for a tenth place vote. First place votes in parentheses:

Undecided About Pros

Baker Picks Up Heisman Trophy

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Terry Baker, the Oregon State quarterback named the outstanding player in college football, picked up the Heisman Trophy—with both hands—Wednesday.

Then he said that he hadn't yet made up his mind about a pro football career, but indicated that he would play. He added that he would be lucky to get in more than one day of practice with his team before the Liberty Bowl game against Villanova in Philadelphia Dec. 15.

handed because I have two older brothers and there weren't too many gloves around the house, so I used a right-hander's glove.

"I'm a pretty sorry right-handed passer, though—even though some writers swear I throw right-handed sometimes when I'm rushed. I don't think I ever had."

The slender, 193-pound Baker who led the Beavers to an 8-2 season and topped the nation in total offense, said he was "just as thrilled to receive the Heisman Trophy as I was when it was announced that I was the winner."

Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, who played varsity football at Harvard, was to make a trophy presentation speech on a radio program later Wednesday night. Baker is the 28th winner.

Picked By Rams

Baker, the first draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams who had the No. 1 pick in the National Football League, said he had not made up his mind about a pro career, but indicated he planned one.

"If I do have a pro career," he said, "it will be after the basketball season. Right now my thoughts are on the Liberty Bowl, and then basketball. After that, I will weigh everything, and negotiate with anyone who wants to negotiate with me."

The Beaver ace, whose career total of 4,999 yards was the second highest for a collegian in history, said, however, that he might be interested in a coaching career someday "if I have a long career in football."

Baker, who graduates in mechanical engineering next June, would also like to do some graduate study work. He won one of the $500 Earl Balkus study grants awarded to student-athletes by the National Football Foundation.

Sentence Two In Fix Of Cage Games

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Prison terms of five years each and fines totaling $30,000 were handed out Wednesday to two men convicted here of bribing players to shave points in college basketball games.

Superior Court Judge Heman Clark ordered the prison terms for Dave Goldberg, 46, and Steve Lekometros, 36, both of St. Louis, Mo.

Lawyers for the two said they will appeal to the North Carolina Supreme Court. They were released under bond pending the appeal.

Find Him Guilty

A jury in Wake County Superior Court deliberated only 2 hours Tuesday before it returned with a verdict finding Goldberg guilty of 18 counts of bribery and Lekometros guilty of 18 counts of conspiracy to bribe North Carolina State college players to shave points in eight basketball games played between December, 1959, and January, 1961.

The jury's verdict ended a 10-day trial during which five other men, who have pleaded either guilty or nolo contendere (no contest) to fixing charges, testified for the state.

These five are scheduled to be sentenced Thursday. They are Aaron Wagman and Joseph Greene, Paul Walker, Michael Siegel and Louis Barshak, all of New York.

Four N.C. State college players—Don Gallagher, Stan Newierowski, Anton Muehlbauer and Terry Litchfield—also testified. They have not been charged, although they admitted being in on the game fixes.

Ed Danforth, Sportswriter, Dead At 70

ATLANTA (AP)—Ed Danforth, widely known sports writer and editor whose special interest for many years was the Kentucky Derby, died Wednesday of an apparent heart attack at the age of 70.

Danforth, who retired in 1961 after 18 years as sports editor of the Atlanta Journal, was found dead in the downtown office of his public relations firm.

Danforth became sports editor of the Atlanta Constitution in 1929 but returned to the Georgian three years later and remained in that spot until the paper ceased operations in 1939. He then became sports editor of the Journal.

An intimate of many sports personalities during the 1920s and '30s, Colonel Ed covered all sports events. But horse racing was his great love and Churchill Downs, the site of the Derby, his favorite spot. In all, he covered 29 of the turf classics.

During his many years as a sports editor in Atlanta he supervised many newsmen who later became widely known. They included Constitution publisher Ralph McGill, who succeeded Danforth as sports editor of the Constitution in 1962; Harold H. Martin, Constitution columnist and associate editor of the Saturday Evening Post; Henry McElmore, columnist; the late O. B. Keeler, famed as golfer Bobby Jones' Boswell; and many others.

Danforth is survived by the widow and two daughters.

White Wows Crowd

NEW YORK (AP) — Touch football, often called the sport of the New Frontier, was thrust suddenly into the fore of the National Football Foundation's annual Hall of Fame festivities by no less a personality than Byron (Whizzer) White, associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Justice White, a former All-America at the University of Colorado and later a professional star halfback with Pittsburgh and Detroit, received the foundation's Gold Medal Award for outstanding contribution to football Tuesday night.

Changes Theme

While tracing the history of football from ancient times until the present, Justice White suddenly changed his theme.

"Then came a major development — the game of touch football was popularized by a family in Massachusetts," he said.

The crowd of more than 1,500 including President Kennedy's brothers, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Massachusetts Senator-elect Edward M. Kennedy, broke into laughter.

"The rules of the game are vague," continued Justice White and again the crowd laughed.

"The season begins in September on the banks of the Potomac and continues till May. Training is done on the sandy beaches of New England with the stipulation that the sand cannot be more than six inches in depth.

Fans Barred

"I have never seen it because spectators are barred," he added, as the crowd roared again.

"But they say that even women are allowed to play.

"However, we will continue to watch developments of this game for some time to come."

Justice White, who was President Kennedy's first appointee to the Supreme Court, spoke out against the critics of football for demeaning the sport because of injuries.

"No game can carry on without accompanying dangers," he said.

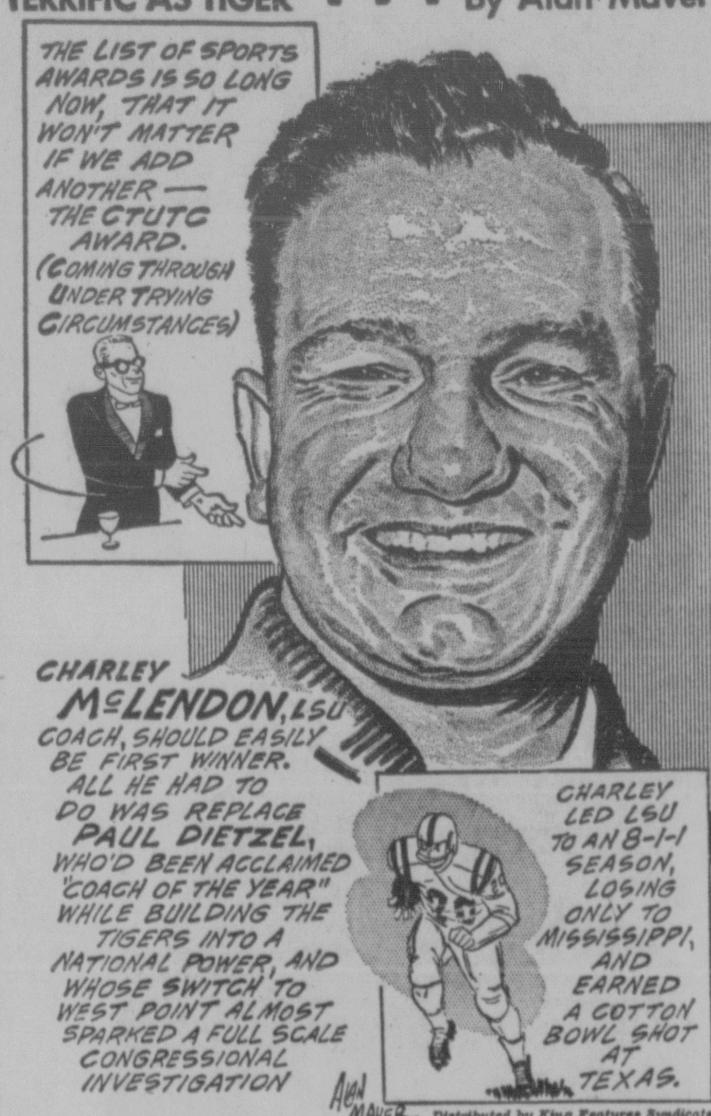

Justice White also spoke out against "commercialization" and an uncontrolled "will to win."

Alabama's Jordan Lineman Of Week

By PHIL ORAMOUS

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—The soil plays a big part in the life of Lee Roy Jordan of Alabama, who was named The Associated Press lineman of the week Wednesday for the second time this season.

On the football field he spends much of his time on the soil—usually on top of an opposing ball carrier. The soil has a role in his future too, since he intends to play professional football for a while, then buy a farm.

"One Of Greatest"

When he first learned of his selection, the rugged center-linebacker hesitated before saying, "This is one of the greatest things that ever happened to me."

Jordan, a 6-foot, 208-pounder, was a first round draft choice of Dallas of the National Football League and a second round pick of the American League's Boston entry.

"Yes," he said, "I intend to play pro football, but I'm undecided as to which league I'll play in. They haven't talked to me yet—just drafted me."

Wants Ranch

"I think four or five years in the pro game is enough," Jordan said. "After that I intend to get a farm of my own. I really want a cattle ranch."

The farm boy from Excel, Ala., was chosen lineman of the week over Navy guard Vern Von Sydow and tackle Larry Graham, who drew praise for their performances in the Middies' 34-14 victory over Army Saturday.

Jordan's first selection as the nation's top lineman came after Alabama whipped Mississippi State 20-0 Nov. 3.

Yanks Relying On Tresh, Pepitone

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor
ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Tom Tresh, baseball's rookie of the year, wasn't within 400 miles of the annual minor league meetings, yet he is one of the reasons behind Yankees' big deal which sent first baseman Moose Skowron to the Los Angeles Dodgers for pitcher Stan Williams.

The other reason is Joe Pepitone, a young first baseman.

The bats of Tresh and Pepitone, the Yankees figure, will make up for the loss of Skowron's 23 homers and 80 runs batted in last season.

"We needed a starting right-handed pitcher and the Dodgers needed a strong right-handed hitter," says Manager Ralph Houk of the champions. The deal wasn't that simple.

The Yankees usually are certain about their deals. Seldom does one backfire. They are taking a chance on Williams and they realize it.

Williams forced home the winning run with a walk when the bases were loaded in the final National League playoff game. Even the Dodgers admit he wasn't throwing as hard as he did last spring.

Williams, 26, had a 14-12 record but completed only four of his 28 starts. He walked 98 in 186 innings, had seven wild pitches and three balks. Those statistics point to wildness.

However, the Yankees feel he will do better with their heavier hitting club, and their stronger defense.

On the other side, the Yankees feel they will have a stronger attack in 1963. Tresh came of age as a third place hitter late last season. Now Pepitone is expected to drive in his share of runs and hit into less double plays than did the Moose.

Pep's fielding and throwing arm also give him a plus rating over Skowron. The Yankees could have dealt Skowron last June but at the time they weren't sure about Pepitone. And Tresh was the shortstop and leadoff hitter while Tony Kubek was in the Army. Tresh later proved himself in left field, and with the bat.

Houk regards Tresh as "another Al Kaline" and a sure-handed left fielder. Left field had been a spot once shared by Hector Lopez and Yogi Berra. They are now free for other duties. Berra to pinch hit and catch some 50 games and Lopez to learn another new position.

In the spring, Houk will have Lopez working out at first base as a backup man for Pepitone. However, Houk is sure Pep can hit left-handed pitchers almost as well as right handers.

"I'll just bet Lopez can play first base," says Houk. "After all, Tresh had never played left field.

As to the Dodgers, they left the winter meetings with a shortage of pitchers. Until Sandy Koufax proves that the numb index finger on his (left) pitching hand is 100 percent, Dodger pitching cannot match that of the San Francisco Giants.

The Dodgers already are talking about platooning Skowron at first base with Ron Fairly. They may have to because Moose is prone to injury.

Pen Argyl Sewage Charges At School, Plant Fixed

PEN ARGYL—Sewage charges for the Pen Argyl Area Joint High School and the Collins & Aikman Corp. were fixed this week by Pen Argyl Borough Council.

The school district will be charged $150 per pupil and per employee per quarter for nine months of each year, and Collins & Aikman will be charged $1.50 per employee for each quarter.

In Other Business
Fire Chief William Savoreo reported the fire company washed down the highway after an accident in the borough and a wood fire in a home during the month.

Robert Van Horn, representative of the Stevens Equipment Co. of Harrisburg, submitted a quotation for a cinder spreader. The bid was turned over to the street committee for further action.

David Pritchard, borough engineer, reported on the road conditions and grades on the Pennsylvania Ave. road project. A motion was made that the street committee, the borough engineer and the state engineer be given permission to act on the intersection problems.

Pritchard also discussed the Collins & Aikman Corp. water problem which is currently under study.

Borough employees asked for increases in their pay for 1963, and requested that they be paid weekly instead of bi-weekly as at present.

A letter from James R. Charon, for the Pen Argyl Area Joint School Board, requested that blacktop be put in from the existing blacktop to the curbs on Plainfield Ave. to protect the school property.

Insurance was taken out at a value of $486,069 for the buildings and $10,000 for the contents of the building.

CD Drill
Civil Defense Director Harry Bosold, reporting on the recent Civil Defense drill in the Pen Argyl schools, said every child taking part in the exercise was home within eight minutes.

The park board was given permission to sign licenses with the federal government to stock and maintain the Civil Defense shelter area in the bathhouse of the Weona Park pool.

The Blue Mountain Consolidated Water Co. agreed to submit meter readings to the borough of those households which exceed the 15,000-gallon water base in connection with the sewer system.

Permission was given to the sewer committee to use borough employees to install collars on the manholes in the borough to bring them to the proper level. There were 22 new connections to the sewage system during November, bringing the total to 636 connections.

account, and $1,416.75 in the sewer connection account as of Dec. 3 were reported.

An ordinance concerning the vacating of Laurel Ave. between Walter and Albion Avenues for the purpose of turning this section of the street over to the Pen Argyl Area Joint High School Authority was passed.

Two snow tires were reported purchased for the police car. It was reported that the new well at the Weona Park is pumping at a rate of 22 to 26 gallons per minute and that the pool is just about full. As soon as weather permits the ice skating area will be flooded.

Jail "Good Plus"
The jail was inspected by the state and reported to be in "good plus" condition.

A "Dead End" sign will be placed at the corner of Heller and Plainfield Avenues.

Roseto Adopts Re-enactment Of Pay Tax

ROSETO — The Roseto Borough Council last night adopted an ordinance for re-enactment of the wage income tax for 1963 and agreed that the overnight parking on Garibaldi and Roseto avenues and Columbus and Dewey streets be strictly enforced from now on.

It also was agreed to have one-side parking only on Dante Street in a designated area on trial basis.

Harvey Gruver, new Civil Defense director, gave a report.

The budget committee of which Daniel Crufa is chairman, will meet next week to set up the 1963 budget.

Matthew Sabatine, chairman of property committee reported repairs to the furnace had been completed Saturday.

The board of health report was given by Pasquale Casiano. The checking of four sewerage conditions were reported. Council decided that hereafter all complaints must be registered to council which in turn will notify the health board to investigate.

Good Jail Rating
The Bureau of Corrections, reported that Roseto jail had received a good rating at its recent inspection.

Robert Perin of Slate Spring Farm appeared concerning the collection of garbage. He said he could not bid as there were no specifications. A bid was also received for collection of garbage from the Evans Sanitation Division, Washington, N. J. The solicitor, law committee and members of council will set up specifications for the collection and will forward them to the two concerned.

A bonus was voted to the police force and fire chief.

Mayor George Giaginto reported $76.50 in fines, permits and licenses and collection of $160, towards the Christmas light fund. The lights will be turned on Saturday.

Supervisor Louis Casciano reported 92½ hours for November.

The report of treasurer Matthew Giovannini listed balances of $4,356.31, 1964 bond sinking fund; $431.19, police pension fund; $189.92, Christmas light fund; $292.78, motor fuel fund and $505.69, general fund. Tax receipts from Michael Flingno were $21 per capita tax and $16.38 real estate. A total of $2,081.65 was received from Berkheimer Associate for earned wage tax.

Council urged citizens to avail themselves of the research program by Dr. Stewart Wolf and his team from the University of Oklahoma this week and the chest X-ray and Diabetic tests tomorrow by the Northampton County Tuberculosis and Health Society.

A postage stamp, "The Black Honduras," was sold at auction for $24,500 last year in New York City.

Portland

The Portland Lion's Club will meet Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at Otto's Grand View on Route 611 north of town.

John J. Houck, Rahway, N.J., spent the weekend with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gardner.

William Stine, a sophomore at West Chester State College, West Chester, Pa., spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stine, Sr.

The December meeting of the Fidelity Circle of the Portland Presbyterian Church will be a Christmas Party and Dinner meeting. The dinner will be held at the home of Mrs. E. Randall Cairns.

The will of Nicholas Ervey has been admitted to probate in the office of Northampton County Register of Wills, Donald Sawyer at the County Court House at Easton. It names his daughter, Miss Ruth Ervey of 3110 Oregon St., Palmer Township, as executrix.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schick visited Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Newhart, of Bethlehem, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stoeckel, daughters Lori Sue and Betham, Stroudsburg, were recent guests of Mrs. Stoeckel's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Serfass, Sr.

The fall clothing drive for used clothing is now in progress for Lutheran World Relief. Search out your usable clothing and bring it to Mount Eaton Church. Blankets, sheets, etc., can be received and are welcome.

There will be a dress rehearsal for the Christmas pageant at Salem Lutheran Church, Sunday, December 9 at 7 p.m. It is important that every member be present.

Warsaw, Poland, (AP) — Motorists, once restricted to using only parking lights while driving in Warsaw, now may use low beam headlights. "Like the dawn of a new day," said a taxi driver. "Too dazzling," said a militiaman.

Currently the notes are being held by the public School Employees' Retirement Fund.
